...Strike Cuts Off Vera Cruz; Food Supply Now Low

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24.—Advices from Vera Cruz indicate that no serious disorders have developed from the strike situation although the city is without lighting facilities, street cars, amusements, or railway service, and food supplies are running low.

Meanwhile preparations are under way for the arbitration conference here under auspices of the Department of Industry and Commerce, to be attended by representatives of a score of workmen's and employer's organizations. It is believed that the meeting which was arranged on the initiative of President Obregon, will result in a solution of the trouble.

The interruption in train service not only affects the lines between Vera Cruz and the capital, but also those to the south, running into the States of Oaxaca, Chiapas and Tabasco.

Plans have been completed at San Diego for photographing of the eclipse of the sun from naval planes.

Long Beach budget for fiscal year of 1924 has been announced to be in excess of $6,000,000.

Definite Date Only Missing in Announcement from White House Regarding Mexico

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Diplomatic relations will be resumed between the United States and Mexico probably in the middle or latter part of September, it was announced at the White House today. This was the first definite official statement bearing on the question of recognition of the Obregon government and lacked merely the announcement of a specific date to make it complete.

The White House spokesman stated in this regard that it was impossible to set an exact date, but qualified his statement with a "best estimate" of the middle or latter part of the coming month.

Certain exchanges must yet be made between Washington and Mexico City, it was explained, and these in the ordinary course of diplomatic correspondence would require some time. Details as to what these exchanges consist of were not forthcoming, though it was understood that they have to do with the clarification of minor points, data concerning the exact method of procedure in the matter of announcement of the notification of other governments and similar relatively insignificant matters.

EXCHANGE OF VIEWS

The work of the American-Mexican commission which has brought about the present understanding between the two governments, and which will culminate in the resumption of diplomatic relations as stated at the White House, began on May 14 and ended the 15th inst., with the formal signing by the commissioners of the minutes of their meetings. Action was confined, in accordance with the preliminary negotiations, to a direct exchange of views and information regarding difficulties which up to the present time had proved an obstacle to the resumption of formal diplomatic relations between the two governments.

The discussions, it has been emphasized, did not take the form of an attempt to modify Mexican laws, but consisted of a presentation by the American commissioners, Charles Beecher Warren and John Barton Payne, of the American views respecting the effect of certain of these laws upon American property interests in Mexico, particularly with respect to oil and agricultural land.

LAWS EXPLAINED

On receiving this presentation the Mexican commissioners explained the manner in which the

IDEAL FILM COUPLE IS SEPARATED

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayo's Romance Declared to Have Gone on Rocks

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The "ideal couple" of the films has separated. Dagmar Godowsky, actress, daughter of the famous pianist, Leopold Godowsky, confirmed a rumor today that all was not well between her and Frank Mayo, film actor and director. She admits that she came to New York two months ago because she had parted from her husband. While here she consulted an attorney.

The couple married in October, 1921, in Tijuana, three days after Mayo had been divorced. The District Attorney in Los Angeles questioned the legality of the marriage.

Mayo stoutly defended it and soon the District Attorney, apparently satisfied, dropped the investigation.

Mrs. Mayo said she would go to the Coast soon, but not before her father recuperates from his illness.

Godowsky will be operated on for an intestinal disorder. He was stricken on a tour of the Orient. The operation will take place at Mount Sinai Hospital.

TRACE OF RAIN IS REPORTED IN CITY

FALL SO LIGHT THAT IT PROVES MORE OF MIST THAN SHOWER

It rained in Los Angeles last night.

That statement is true because "rain" is a verb that covers a multitude of moistures. It was neither a deluge nor a shower, just a faint suggestion of a mist.

One skeptic said it wasn't rain at all; merely a phenomenon of the atmosphere in which the humidity approached saturation as a limit. Others averred that the moisture in the air somewhat akin to a drizzle was wafted downward from some nocturnal window washing on some of the class A buildings.

At any rate the precipiaation was not sufficient to cause the weather observer undue haste to get his unused apparatus out of the cobwebs. In barren wastes where rain is needed it might have been accepted as an omen that the drouth is broken.

FROM WAR TO PEACE

America First Is Peer's Advice

Lord Birkenhead Says Self-Interest Will Make Us Aid Europe

World Not Ready for Ideals of Woodrow Wilson, He Declares

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WILLIAMSTOWN (Mass.) Aug. 24.—Asserting that the world was not yet ready for the idealism of Woodrow Wilson, the Earl of Birkenhead, former Lord Chancellor of England, tonight declared that self-interest alone should determine whether the United States should intervene in the affairs of a stricken Europe.

Speaking at the closing session of the Institute of Politics on "The World After the War" Lord Birkenhead quoted Jeremy Bentham, the English philosopher and jurist, to the effect that self-interest was the necessary motive spring of human endeavor.

In deciding what constituted her best interests, he continued, America must remember that great nations require a great world in which to develop their greatness, and that commercial genius flourishes only when the whole world flourishes. He warned of the effect of restricted markets on manufacturing and agriculture and said that in a poverty-stricken world America produced more than she could use herself. Sooner or later she would experience the same conditions now affecting Great Britain he said.

DOMINATING MOTIVE

In emphasizing his assertion that self-interest was the dominating motive in life, Lord Birkenhead asserted that the world would probably not survive if idealism were given a completely free rein; no nation under democratic conditions will ever become the knight-errant of the world; Woodrow Wilson's judgment of his countrymen was wrong, and through this error he became the agent of all post-war developments from which his altruistic mind would have recoiled.

Lord Birkenhead opened his address by declaring that a dozen unscrupulous, but powerful men, deliberating privately in Berlin, decvided upon the World War. This decision, he added, was astaniahing because of the very ignorance displayed by the twelve.

"For Germany, given peace, had everything in her own hands," he asserted, "and her principal trade competitor in Europe was likely to be paralyzed by internal dissensions relating to Ireland, which might easily have produced civil war. All Germany had to do was to wait."

TURNS TO PEACE

From war Lord Birkenhead turned to peace, asserting its problems were infinitely greater.

"It is no use abusing the treaty of Versailles," he said. "That treaty was the creature of the victorious mood of the victorious Allies."

"President Wilson, indeed, came with a noble message of hope; but unhappily in the sequel home proved to be his principal equipment. It is a fascinating speculation whether had he been given health and strength to pursue the campaign which he contemplated, his idealism and personality could have affected the forces of the world.

"I am bold enough even at the moment when I pay the highest tribute to his unselfish motives, to doubt it. For the real truth is that while the world requires the encouragement and light of idealism, the whole world would probably not survive if idealism were given a completely free rein.

WILSON IS BLAMED

"It seems to me that while the name of President Wilson must always be revered by those who render homage to purposes almost superhuman, pursued with a zeal almost as superhuman, yet it must none the less be recognized that his judgment of his own countrymen was wrong and that by the error of that judgment he became, paradoxically enough, the agent of all those post-war developments from which his altruistic mind would most especially have recoiled.

CHUCKLING OVER JOHNSON

Eastern Newspapers Poke Fun at California Senator and His McClatchy Letter

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Hiram Johnson is being ridiculed by the eastern press. Tonight the Washington Star prints a front page cartoon showing Johnson shying off from a fountain pen bargain sale with the ejaculation "Not at any price!"

Eastern papers are filled with the complete details of the McClatchy letter and Johnson's high-tempered statement regarding its publication. Many of them are criticising the Californian editorially. The New York Times, which in 1920 gave him more space than any other New York paper, printed this editorial in its issue of August 22:

"THE HEART BOWED DOWN"

"'At present the Senator declines to talk politics. He appears to be absorbed in deep thought and bowed down with the troubles of Europe which encompassed him in his recent trip abroad'—[Washington dispatch to the Times.

"Not the troubles of Europe, but those of HIRAM POHNSON, bend that majestic head in mournful reverie. In 1912 he was the Progressive candidate for Vice-President. In 1920 he waved away the Republican nomination for Vice-President, too small a gift for genius of such grandeur. Since then he has been weighed and found wanting. He is branded with

CRASH IN CENTRAL EUROPE CERTAIN, CAPITAL FEARS

Washington Sees Grave Peril in Present Situation, But Feels Hands Are Tied

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The internal situation in Germany, notwithstanding recent indications of some improvement, is regarded in Washington with grave apprehension. Most American officials for obvious reasons have refrained from discussing the question publicly, but many members of the House and Senate and others who have studied European conditions at first hand this summer agree privately that the outlook is disquieting.

In broadly representative diplomatic circles too there is a pronounced and almost universal note of discouragement.

Some representatives of countries not concerned directly with German reparations regard a crash in Central Europe as inevitable.

NO RELAXATION EXPECTED

In diplomatic circles, a relaxation of the pressure in the Ruhr is not expected because of what is regarded as an inflexible public opinion in France and even in Germany said to preclude any marked change of policy on outstanding questions at issue. Any such change was held to be impossible long before Premier Baldwin made his initial statement on reparations in Commons in what has been regarded as an effort to save Central Europe from disaster. In these circumstances it has been made clear since President Coolidge assumed office that there appears no course open to the Washington government with respect to Europe, other than the one mapped out under the administration of President Harding. The wisdom of that policy is regarded at both the White House and the State Department as already confirmed by events. There is no doubt Washington officials want to do what they can to help, but the very elements which constitute the greater danger signs abroad are regarded as increasing the peril of any effort toward mediation.

DEVELOPMENTS UNCERTAIN

What form developments in Germany may take is regarded here as highly uncertain. In diplomatic circles at least, the degree of the danger is believed to hinge upon the food situation. Although there may be ample stocks, it is pointed out that these may not be generally available for use because of serious transportation and currency difficulties. An acute shortage, it is expected might produce a public desperation leading to the gravest developments. Information received in official circles is said not to be reassuring, at least so far as concerns the food prospects in the Ruhr this winter.

Although there is apparent in Washington a realization that Germany is confronted with the danger of a collapse into Bolshevism under the continued pressure, it is felt that perhaps only a separation movement might result.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that anything approaching complete dismemberment would serve to increase the social unrest and perhaps lead to Communism. In this connection it is contended that the present population of Germany is about at the maximum possible under a highly organized industrial system and that any considerable reduction in industrial efficiency through the setting up of a number of independent states would only intensify a social problem now regarded as acute.

UNION WITH RUSSIA

Although there is said to be no definite information available as to the existence of a liaison between German and Russian political leaders, in some diplomatic circles it is felt that any direct Communistic movement in Germany would be successful in spite of all efforts of the responsible statesmen, rather than with their assistance. The political leaders, it is contended, cannot contemplate lightly any possibility of a union of a Red Germany with Soviet Russia for

FIUME FATE SEALED BY MUSSOLINI

Ultimatum to Jugo-Slavs Provides Mixed Commission With Italian Control

BY HENRY WALES
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Aug. 24.—The political situation is focussed in Fiume as a result of Premier Mussolini's ultimatum to Belgrade demanding that Jugo-Slavia accept the Italians' formula for a settlement of the contested Adriatic port by the 31st inst.

The Italian Premier warns the Jugo-Slav government that he reserves the right of complete liberty to take action unless the regime in Fiume is settled before the expiration of the ultimatum, and reports from Trieste intimate that Fascisti troops are being concentrated in the neighborhood preparatory to seizing Fiume if outbreaks occur.

Premier Mussolini's proposals provide for a mixed commission, half Italians and half Fiumians, to administer the city and port, but with a joker clause that this commission confide the political relations and control of the city to the Italian government. Then, while recognising the port of Baros and Delta under Jugo-Slav sovereignty, he provides that they remain indissolubly joined to the city of Fiume for ninety-nine years.

Rome's action of practically seizing Fiume just when the Belgrade government is torn with the conflicting aims of the Croats and Serbs, with M. Raditch, Croat leader, in London seeking foreign support for Croatia to break away from Serbia as a separate state, is feared may produce most serious results in Jugo-Slavia. It is pointed out that the British might secretly support the Croatian nationals, thus weakening the Jugo-Slavs and playing into Italy's game, thus applying indirect pressure on France.

In connection with this Portugal is negotiating a concession of 10,000 square kilometers in Benguelaland, West Africa, to Italy through a British suggestion Many Italian emigrants unable to enter the United States are expected to colonize in Benguelaland when the deal is arranged.

He had taught in schools in New York City, Newark, N. J.; Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

Twelve years ago Brother Gustavus retired from active work as a teacher and went to Ammendale where he remained until his death.

MOORS KILL HUNDREDS

Mohammedans Answer Call for Holy War in Tetaun Battles

Cabinet in Session at Madrid as Communists Strike; France Accused

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
[Copyright, 1923, by the Chicago Tribune.]

MADRID, Aug. 24.—An appeal to the holy war went out to all Mohammedans in Morocco yesterday and the Moors responded with fanatic bravery, which was followed by battles today throughout Spanish Morocco.

About 200 inhabitants in the village outskirts of Tetuan were killed during the night when the Moors descended in force, according to a report today. The capital is in a state of intense excitement as reports of defeat are floating in the air. The Cabinet has been in session throughout the afternoon.

The Eighth Infantry, ordered to Morocco yesterday, mutinied as it was embarking at Malaga. One officer was killed and thirteen men and officers wounded and the regiment was threatened with machine guns before it could be driven aboard the ship.

STRIKE AT BILBAO

At Bilbao the Communists called a general strike on account of the Moroccan war and the "capitalist" policy at the Bilbao mines.

A street-car conductor was killed today as he tried to run a train regardless of the Communists' orders. A score were wounded in various fights with the police.

The declaration of a holy war in Morocco arouses a new anxiety here, as the devotion of the Moors to their religion makes them willing to risk any death for Allah. The War Ministry reports that messengers from Abd-El-Krim rode throughoutt he Moorish villages to the edge of the Spanish camps along the Rif coast calling the Mohammedans to a holy war.

Gen. Martinez Amido remains in command of the militia, although he threatens daily to resign unless the government sends him at least 40,000 additional infantrymen. The outposts of Melilla are under attack almost constantly.

PLANES RAIN GAS

For the first time in the Moroccan war, Spanish airplanes used gas bombs today, raining asphyxiating poison over the Moroccan villages from Afrau to Tauriat, including the outposts of the city of Tafersit. There is no idea how many Moorish women and children were killed, but it is likely that a large part of the populations of the villages met their death.

The War Ministry today confirms the report of the massacre of the entire garrison at Tizi Aloua on August 13 by attacking Moors under Abd-El-Krim himself. The news was concealed until the French agency sent it to Madrid when the war ministry admitted it. The loss of the garrison was 600.

On August 19 three officers and ninety men were killed in defending the city of Tafersit outposts, which are entirely occupied by the Moors. Tafersit was heavily besieged today.

One entire tribe of Moors fighting in the Spanish ranks was captured by Abd-El-Krim's Moors in a battle at Sidi Messaud on the 20th inst. The tribe consisted of little more than 200 faithful natives.

The Spanish press is alternately demanding that Don Valeriano Weyler be sent to Morocco to "drown the revolt in blood," as he did in Cuba and the Philippines, and asking the government to call France to account for supporting the Moorish armies.

The Informaciones today declares the war in Morocco is not a

BRITAIN SEES CLOUD-RIFT

No Effort to be Spared to Reach Agreement With France Despite Unfriendliness of Note

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Aug. 24.—No effort will be spared by the British government to reach an agreement with France in regard to the Ruhr and reparations. Unsatisfactory as the Poincare note is in many respects, it does hold forth possibilities of continuing exchange of views which may lead to practical results.

Importance is attached to Poincare's assurance that France has no ulterior designs on German territory.

This was a point upon which Baldwin had dwelt in his House of Commons speech, in which he said it had often been stated that there were ulterior motives in the occupation of the Ruhr, adding that he refused to believe it and that he had always acted on the assumption that its only object was to secure reparations.

STEP FORWARD

Prompt indorsement of this statement by Poincare is regarded as at any rate one step forward. Poincare's further undertaking to modify the occupation co-ordinately with cessation of passive resistance and evidences of good faith by Germany may also provide an avenue along which French and British may march in concert. There are difficulties in the way of common action, for the British have doubted legality of the occupation, implying to some extent at least that Germany's resistance was justified.

However, the British already have offered to consel the German government should it abandon passive resistance under certain circumstances and Poincare's new pledge might be called to the attention of the Reich with the suggestion that a binding statement

COMES BOYNTON TO THE RESCUE

Says Johnson Didn't Really Mean What He Said

Ascribes McClatchy Letter to "Usual Pessimism"

Even Though Senator Himself Flatly Denies It

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Former State Senator Albert E. Boynton, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee today came to the assistance of Senator Hiram Johnson in the latter's strenuous efforts to minimize the importance and effects of the famous McClatchy letter in which Johnson makes an astounding confession of loss of political prestige in the State and nation.

The letter in question has been copied by newspapers throughout the United States since its publication in the San Francisco Journal and has occasioned widespread speculation on the possibility that the Senator entertains plans for retirement from the field as a potential Presidential candidate. It was originally sent from Europe to Johnson's political ally, Charles K. McClatchy of Sacramento and certain excerpts therefrom were sent by McClatchy to Boynton.

These excerpts, now rapidly assuming proportions of a political disaster of considerable magnitude in the Johnson camp, were published first by Andrew Lawrence, editor of the Journal, who, in an editorial introduction, explained that the Journal obtained the document "through no dishonorable means, but in the regular course of gathering news."

Senator Johnson, apparently keenly resentful of uncomplimentary remarks of newspapers throughout the country, yesterday issued a statement in Washington denouncing Lawrence, but admitting that he wrote the letter. The only comment of Lawrence, upon being informed of the Senator's attack, was a reiteration of his announcement that the letter came to the Journal in proper fashion and a statement that "it's always unprofitable to discuss matters with a corpse."

In his formal statement today, Boynton explains that he is contributing to the controversy "because of the fact that my name and my official position as chairman of the Republican State Committee were dragged into the original publication of Senator Johnson's letter by the San Francisco Journal."

Referring to Senator Johnson's confession to McClatchy that "if I were a candidate I would fear California more than New York," and "I doubt if I could carry it (California) against Hoover, Harding or any other candidate," Boynton said:

"I am informed that Senator Johnson's letter has been widely circulated by his political enemies in an attempt to emphasize his alleged admission of political weakness in California. Among his intimate friends the Senator's pessimism concerning his often demonstrated political strength has for years been proverbial. His rather gloomy forebodings on the eve of his most spectacular political triumphs have always been a source of good-natured amusement among those to whom they were imparted.

"The simple truth is, as all well-informed political observers must admit, that Senator Johnson is stronger today in California than ever before. He was re-elected to the United States Senate last fall by a plurality of 348,674, the greatest in his political career. In the meantime his strength has increased rather than diminished, and if he were a candidate today for any office he would receive the overwhelming support of the entire State."

As to this interpretation of the Johnson letter, however, the Senator himself objects by anticipation, having closed his remarks to McClatchy by assuring the Sacramento editor that "this is no idle statement and please do not ascribe it to my pessimism."

POKE FUN AT MR. JOHNSON

high protectionism and 'Newberryism,' abominations to the Progressives of 1932.

"Senator Johnson had given up the struggle against Mr. Harding. He will have to give up, if he hasn't, the struggle against Mr. Coolidge. Besides, Mr. La Follette, an older Progressive, with all the modern improvements that the California solitary lacks, is eleven years older than he, and will insist on the seniority rule. What is there left for the son of the Golden West? Another raid into the Presidential primaries? He may not find again the crafty Republican bosses who used him as a decoy duck. Pathetic, apparently incurable, is Mr. Johnson's case. It might be called the gradual ossification of a Progressive."

MRS. J. T. TALBERT BACK FROM EUROPE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—"I am not in the least interested in what Mrs. Flo Leeds says," said Mrs. Joseph Truitt Talbert at the Ritz Carlton. Mrs. Talbert, named by Mrs. Leeds as her successor to the affections of James A. Stillman, the former banker, returned on the liner Conte Rosso yesterday from Naples. Mrs. Talbert evidently endeavored to avoid publicity. Her name, by request, was not on the passenger list of the ship, but was carried on the manifest as "Mrs. Joseph Truitt Thalbert." When ship news reporters sought Mrs. Talbert she declined to discuss the avowedly platonic interest which friends say Stillman took in her after his break with Flo Leeds.

of that character merited deep consideration.

LITTLE HASTE

There is no disposition here to try to rush matters. A conference between the two Premiers which Poincare suggested is more than probable. Meanwhile, Stanley Baldwin on Thursday began consideration of the French note. He conferred with Lord Robert Cecil, Lord Derby and others.

Baldwin sees no reason for calling an immediate meeting of the Cabinet and he proposes leaving London on Saturday for Aix Les Bains to stay a fortnight. At the end of that period the time would probably be ripe for those "friendly conversations" which Poincare suggested.

In some quarters such a meeting of the two Premiers is regarded as the only possible step forward. Secret diplomacy has been tried without avail, then they have published notes and found open diplomacy equals ineffectual, an so the personal method seems the only one left.

TIERMAN DIVORCE CASE HAS RIVAL

HAMMOND (IND.) WOMAN SAYS LETTER IS JOKE; HUSBAND SUES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HAMMOND (Ind.) Aug. 24.—"If Junior only looked like you so I could put him in your arms and say: 'Dear one, here is our son, yours and mine,' would that make you happy?"

Mrs. Ruth B. Opfergelt, 28 years of age, Red Cross Nurse overseas and now the central figure in Lake county's most sensational divorce suit, admits she wrote this letter to Dr. John T. Bolin, wealthy physician and social leader, but that it was merely a joke and meant nothing.

Her husband, Edward A. Opfergelt, an official of the Calumet Electric Company, insists it is no joke and will submit the letter in his divorce and alienation suit. The suit has stirred the entire community, much as did the Tierman-Poulin scandal in South Bend and resembles that notorious case in many respects.

"The doctor is a love thief," charges Opfergelt. "He stole my wife from me, luring her with promises of everything from money to a Packard."

"I will tell my side of it in court," counters Dr. Bolin, "and there will be some startling surprise."

"Dr. Bolin never gave me a Packard, or anything else, "says Mrs. Opfergelt. "I admire him. He is a good doctor and the kindest man that ever lived. There never had been anything between us. That letter was just a joke. I have never really lived with my husband since our marriage in Shakopee, Minn., in July, 1916. He was unfaithful to me and a habitual drunkard."

FEAR CRASH IN EUROPE LOOMS

Washington Feels Outlook is Disquieting

Sees No Way to Help Save Situation

fear the resulting military phase of Bolshevism might develop an imperialistic attack upon European frontiers with Germany the inevitable battle ground.

Such a war in some diplomatic opinion, would be distrous in a military sense to both Russia and Germany, unless the Russian Army, contrary to the history of that country almost without exception since Peter the Great, should develop an effectiveness beyond its own frontiers. On the other hand, the present Russian Army, according to reports received from several European chancellories is well officered, of good morale, excellently equipped except for airplanes and heavy artillery, and is held to be in a position to do considerable damage.

The political possibilities involved in a Central European conflagration are recognized as profound, although it is admitted that in such an eventuality prediction would be futile. But it is not forgotten that revolutions in Europe slightly more than a century ago liberated political concepts which dominated that continent for many decades and had its reactions even in the United States, then a six-weeks journey away.

STRESEMANN'S ATTITUDE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the new chancellor, today delivered at a luncheon tendered him by industrial, financial and commercial leaders, his first official declaration of his government's stand in the reparations controversy.

Beyond giving a slightly more precise formulation to Germany's previous offer to pledge an integral part of her industrial, commercial and financial organism as security for reparations payments, the Chancellor's speech contributed no new elements to Germany's side of the issue.

Without specifically mentioning passive resistance or the evacuation of the invaded areas, Dr. Stresemann nevertheless permitted the inference that the German government believed such tangible "pawns" as portions of her economic system were not too high a price to offer for the restoration of German sovereignty.

This statement is viewed in political circles as merely paraphrasing his inaugural statement before the Reichstag in which he made the complete rehabilitation of German official and private jurisdiction in the Ruhr and the Rhineland a condition for abandoning passive resistance. In his address today he opposed any attempt to make the Ruhr and the Rhineland objects of negotiation in any solution of the reparations tangle.

VIEWED AS TEMPERATE

The speech in its entirety is viewed here as a temperate and conciliatory statement by the government. Political leaders see it as a material contribution to an attempt to create an atmosphere which will enable an early resumption of formal pourparlers between Germany and the Entente powers.

Among the luncheon guests were Rudolf Hilferding, minister of finance; Hans Von Raumer, minister of economics; Dr. Buecher, president of the League of German Industrialists; Dr. Sorge, head of the Krupp directorate, and representatives of the Berlin Chamber of Commerce and other commercial organizations.

REHABILITATION OF RAIL WORKERS ASKED

DOCTOR SUGGESTS HOSPITAL TO REFIT INJURED FOR RE-EMPLOYMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Dr. Walter B. Coffey of San Francisco, in an address before the Pacific Association of Railroad Surgeons in convention here, urged the establishment of rehabilitation hospitals by the railroads of the nation to save hundreds of workers from the "human scrap heap."

With the erection of such hospitals he said the railroads would save hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly in training new employees, by again putting injured workers in the industry. The United States government, Dr. Coffy asserted had restored thousands of men injured in the World War to usefulness. What the government had done with its soldiery he said, the railroads could do with their injured employees.

During the session today the present compensation laws of the Pacific Coast States were discussed by the physicians. They declared that because of Legislative inequalities, the present laws condemned to lower wages and lower social status, workers who had been injured in industrial pursuits. These laws they said could be easily remedied.

anxiety and finally the cabinet was informed that death was expected momentarily.

Upon the announcement of Baron Kato's death the Emperor sent the traditional farewell present of wine. No announcement has yet been made of the funeral arrangements. Already messages of condolence have been received from all parts of the world.

Beside Uchida, among those prominently mentioned for the premiership were Count Gombei Yamamota, a former Premier and retired admiral; Gov. Den of Formosa, Gov. Saito of Korea, and Baron Bobuaki Makino, a member of the House of Peers, who has held Cabinet portfolios and diplomatic pots.

MESSAGE FROM HUGHES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Secretary Hughes, in a message today to Count Uchida, Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs, said the service of Baron Kato "in cementing the bonds of friendship between our peoples will ever be memorable."

"It was my privilege to be in constant contact with Baron Kato during the important negotiations of the Washington conference, and I formed the highest opinion of his ability, patriotic purpose and nobility of character."

AMERICA FIRST, PEER DECLARES

as to the only function which the American government is called upon to discharge. Their primary, and indeed, their only duty is to the American people.

"If by intervention in the affairs of a stricken Europe, they can advance the fortunes of the American people, then it seems to me, as an humble observer, that it would be their duty to make such an intervention. But, if in cool perspective, they reach the conclusion that no compensating gain to the American people will result from reassuring European and world responsibilities, they would be failing in their duty if they embraced an unnecessary responsibility."

EFFECT ON EXPORTS

Lord Birkenhead indicated as problems to be taken into consideration the effect on America's export trade of her accumulation of gold; the question of how long her domestic market would be adequate for her manufacturing resources; the results of the high tariff system; the effect on agriculture of artificially produced economic conditions.

"If I am right," said Lord Birkenhead, "in supposing the deflated condition of Europe as Europe is today, already affords grave anxiety to your agricultural community and may in the future occasion an equal and analogous anxiety to your manufacturing community, I have at least established all that I care to establish; that grave and not very remote problems await the decision of the American nation.

"Great nations not only deserve, but require a great world in which to develop their own greatness. Commercial genius flourishes when the whole world flourishes and its prospects decline when the whole world declines. Shipping, invisible echanges, interest on money borrowed by stable creditors—these are the garnered rewards afforded to the thrift and financial efficiency of the nations which are happy enough to possess those qualities.

"But if you substitute for the conditions which existed before the war, a world in which there are no markets for anything which you or we can produce, because hardly anyone in the world can afford to buy at the present rate of exchange and that which you and we—both manufacturing nations—can produce, then, sooner or later, your experience will be the same as ours.

"Nor will gold reserves help you. Nor have they very much helped any people in the world.

"The strength of the world lies neither in gold nor in precious jewels; it lies in the ordered and peaceful industry of great populations harnessed to those occupations by which, in the imperfectly defined purposes of the author of the universe, all must earn their living. And, the genius of great peoples, while we maintain our present economic systems, will find its reward in extricating a world of suffering, not unwilling to work, from its present morass and in releasing and reanimating the economic forces which, and which alone, can bring prosperity to the body politic and economic of the whole world."

JAPAN GROWS SUSPICIOUS

Great Britain's Motives in China Questioned by Tokio; America Also Is Dragged In

BY RODERICK MATHESON

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—Suspicion of the motives of Great Britain tinges the comments in the Japanese press regarding the recent foreign supervision of Chinese railway guards. Another feature expressed is that the move of the powers will intensify the anti-foreign prevailing antiforeign sentiment in China.

The Kokumin says that the sentiment against the British rages felt in Great Britain and America has resulted in the accumulation of an unprecedented Now that the Anglo-Japanese alliance has been terminated, free to shape its own policy in China as best suits its own interests, independent of the paper says, and expresses hopes that Premier Uchida will not consent to be led by the nose by Washington or London.

The Yomiuri declares that British plan may be to regard as a British ambition to control railroads of China under the influences.

The Japanese Minister's action on his approval of the blocking of the loan, the paper quires unanimous consent. Yomiuri says, adding that it is obvious that in the face of Washington agreement at the convention in Chinese affairs domestic affairs is purely irrational.

The Chugai Shogyo says manifestly the duty of international control of China is raising a grave question China which is affecting national existence and which is affecting Japanese interests considerable extent.

TIME IS NOT RIPE FOR AIR PARLEY

Coolidge Thinks Conference Futile at Present

President, However, Favors No Plane Limitation

Feels Satisfaction in Course America is Taking

BY ROBERT SMITH.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Coolidge, the White House officially revealed today, is not disposed to call an international conference for limitation of the building of military aircraft, as proposed by the American Legion. The President, it was explained, believes that a move of this character will be futile at this time. He is known to be of the opinion that Europe is too much beset by graver difficulties to be held at this time to a call for attention to another international conference on the limitation of armament.

BOOTS JUSTIFICATION

It has been particularly impressed by the failure of the Washington conference to reach an agreement on the limitation of aircraft construction and doubts that any plan producing that failure could be changed sufficiently in the time that has elapsed to justify the calling of another conference. Many delegates to the Washington conference deemed it impossible to limit the construction of commercial aircraft anyway, on account of the ease of converting commercial aircraft to military purposes.

Coolidge is aware of the rivalry between the air services of the United States and of European powers and Japan, but he finds satisfaction in the fact that America is setting the example by refraining from competition with other nations in the building of military aircraft.

IS NOT DISTURBED

The President, it was learned, is not disturbed by Japanese press reports of the American Navy Department's extensive plans for building and enlarging naval bases on the Pacific Coast and in the Hawaiian Islands. Several Japanese papers are endeavoring to make it appear that this program constitutes a violation of the Washington conference treaty, although the defenses planned are outside of the zone in which the United States agreed to maintain a minimum of shore defenses. The Japanese government does not protest against the program but the protest would receive serious consideration, but no such step has been taken by Japan.

The White House denied that Charles C. Brush, president of the New York Life Insurance Corporation, is to replace Chairman Farley on the Shipping Board. Mr. Brush is a personal friend of the President and when he called to pay his respects yesterday. Mr. Coolidge pressed him on shipping and other questions.

FUEL LACK CONCERNS JAPANESE

Naval Officials Prompted by Shortage to Get Early Hold on Saghalien

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—The fuel question is said to be causing the Japanese naval authorities a considerable amount of worry and anxiety. The supply in Japan is not sufficient and training squadrons and smaller craft are said to be fuel-rationed, briquets being the "fuel diet."

At all the naval stations throughout the country special experiments are being carried out with a view to discovering something that can be used profitably as a substitute for oil or for coal. At the Tokuchina naval factory it is said that an imitation, suitable for practical purposes, similar to "coalite" invented by the Germans has been successfully experimented with.

This fuel famine is another of the reasons why the Navy Department is very anxious to have Northern Saghalien, where valuable coal and oil deposits are said to exist, and why this branch of Japan's defense forces are in favor of speedy recognition of Russia, because it is felt that this will enable Japanese-controlled firms to secure concessions on coal-bearing and oil-producing regions of Siberia, too.

CATTLEMAN'S MURDER ADMITTED BY MEXICAN

MYSTERY CLEARED ON EVIDENCE TURNED UP BY OFFICIALS THROUGH SADDLE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLIFTON (Ariz.) Aug. 24.—Robert E. Zager, a local ranchman, disappeared about October 1, 1922. On the evidence of his saddle, found a short time ago at Willcox in the possession of a Mexican, the mystery has been cleared up.

Lige Urtiago, from whom the saddle was bought, has confessed that he killed the cattleman. He even led a posse to a creek valley on the San Francisco River fifteen miles north of Clifton, and showed where he had buried the body in the sand and then had rolled down on the grave a boulder that weighed several tons. Urtiago also showed where, near-by, he had killed and buried Zager's horse.

The prisoner says that he shot Zager in self-defense after the cattleman had forced his way into a cabin, and after a drunken brawl over the location of some mining claims. He states he thought Zager was armed at the time, but was mistaken.

Mathews, charged with being an organizer of the I.W.W., and with making false representations in obtaining from the postoffice a registered package addressed to another person, has escaped from the County Jail, in company with John Hewitt, who was serving a sentence for asserted violation of the Federal prohibition law. They used a rope of blankets in sliding to the ground from a bridge between the jail and the courtroom.

FEWER CABINET MEETINGS NOW

Change in Custom Indicated in Coolidge Action

Only Necessary Sessions May be Called

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Coolidge is giving the country the unchallenged right to become bromidic and to speak of the administration as one which is "saying nothing and sawing wood."

U. S. Grant was known as the silent soldier. There is a President of the United States today who is more silent than Grant. A good deal of wood will be sawed by Calvin Coolidge. Whether the job, after the inspection of the long ends and the short ends, is to be indorsed as a good one, remains to be seen. President Coolidge is diligent, which is only a high-browed name for hard worker.

FEW CABINET MEETINGS

It looks today as if President Coolidge might cut down the number of Cabinet meetings. It is true there were several Cabinet officers out of town, but Washington, nevertheless, was surprised when, before one fixed meeting time, word was sent from the White House that there would be no session. Then, again, the next week on the appointed Tuesday there was no session.

Of course, the Cabinet will meet because it must and it may be that the two sessions a week will become three sessions every two weeks, or possibly only one session a week. In the President's mind there seems to be a pretty well defined reason for this change of procedure.

Almost every day two or three Cabinet members drop in to consult with the President on departmental matters. The result is that at the end of the week he knows everything of importance that is going on in the departments, and knows all the plans that have been formulated for action. It is said that in the past a good many of the Cabinet meetings merely have resulted in taking up of the President's time with affairs concerning which he had full knowledge.

DUTY TO JUDGE

The real duty of the Cabinet is to give its judgment en bloc concerning matters which have been under discussion between the President and the Cabinet officers most interested.

Consequently, there frequently is no reason for Cabinet meetings. It seems to be determined the meetings will be called only when necessary, and that by this course the President will save a lot of time for other work, and perhaps help his health.

At this writing, it seems as if all the members of the Harding Cabinet intend to retain their departments, at least, for some time to come.

There were three members who it was supposed quickly might seek private life—Mellon, Hoover and Daugherty—but these three have intimated they intend to stay by their new chief.

LONDON MAY ACCEPT RAKOVSKY AFTER ALL

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Christian Rakovsky, newly appointed Russian envoy to England, whose acceptance was withdrawn by the Foreign Office pending an investigation of asserted anti-British speeches by him, is likely to be accepted after all. After an exhaustive investigation the Foreign Office has been able to trace only one of the speeches, and that was comparatively mild and was made before his appointment was even mentioned. The speeches after his appointment cannot be traced. The Russian government declares that they are forgeries of a newspaper published abroad and reproduced by the London Morning Post, which is violently opposed to any relations with the present Russian government.

MINERS AUTHORIZED TO LAY DOWN TOOLS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 24.—Miners in the three anthracite districts of Pennsylvania were authorized to quit work September 1 by the scale committees of the three districts which adjourned today after taking this action. By order of the scale committee officials of the union are empowered to arrange with the operators for the employment of 4000 union men to operate pumping equipment and do other essential maintenance and protective work.

LAW NEEDED FOR BEAR PROTECTION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Aug. 24.—Forest service officials here declare there is need of a law protecting bear. Few of the animals are left. All the grizzly are gone and the bear now at large are declared an attractive mountain feature that should not be eliminated. They are considered neither dangerous nor predatory. Most of them are of the small black variety, even friendly by nature.

BAY CITY GIRL'S ASSAILANTS CAUGHT

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Aug. 24.—Two from a gang of high-bred crooks who drugged Miss Doris Kemp of San Francisco and robbed her of $17,000 worth of jewelry on July 23, have been arrested. The men are Oscar Querster, 33 years of age, a motion-picture actor, and Joseph Gabor, a Hungarian adventurer, 28.

"Baron" Ledeu, a clever Belgian adventurer, who is an expert dancer, roped in Miss Kemp and induced her to ask him to tea, where the job was done. He is still fight. About $15,000 worth of jewels are still missing.

Golf Links at Saticoy to be Opened Today

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OXNARD, Aug. 24.—Tomorrow the golf course at Saticoy, owned by the Ventura Country Club, will be opened. At 11 o'clock the first social function, a barbecue, will be given. It is expected that between 400 and 500 will be present to take part in the celebration. The course is all ready and the members are ready to go. There is no city large enough in the county to support a golf course, so those most interested in one planned to have one that was an equal distance from the three large cities in the county. The membership is large enough to guarantee the maintenance of the club.

Tomorrow there will be several exhibition games by some of the best golfers in the State. Oxnard boasts of thirty-three members in the club out of the nearly 200 enrolled.

BROOKHART SCORES DEFLATION POLICY

SPEECH IS CONSIDERED REPLY TO PROPOSED SUIT OF MEREDITH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JEWELL (Iowa) Aug. 24.—The deflation policy adopted by the Federal Reserve Board in 1920 was aimed at helping speculation on the bear side of farm products and at forcing the farmers to sell their Liberty bonds by lowering the prices on farm products, Senator Brookhart of Iowa charged this morning in an address before an American Legion picnic here. Renewing his attack on former Secretary of Agriculture Meredith, he said Mr. Meredith acquiesced in the deflation and failed to warn the farmer or to help avoid financial disaster to him.

Several thousand persons heard the address. The speech was considered a reply to Mr. Meredith's recent statement that he would file suit against Senator Brookhart for 50 cents alleged libel damages for similar charges made in a recent address at Radcliffe, Iowa.

The packers, the oil men and every other big business organization with the single exception of Henry Ford, Senator Brookhart said, were appraised of the coming deflation.

"They all floated big bond issues to tide them over and their bankers gave the small banks throughout the farming region a chance to invest in these bonds," the Senator charged, "so that when the farmers were pressed for money after they learned from experience that they were being deflated, their credit was gone and no money was available."

CONGRESS NOT TO ACT ON WHEAT SITUATION

GEORGE B. CHRISTIAN SAYS PRESIDENT DESIRES TO GIVE RELIEF

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SPOKANE (Wash.) Aug. 24.—While "the Department of Agriculture is digesting every plan that is offered for relief in the hope that some method would afford a helpful remedy" for the present situation of the wheat farmer "up to the present Congressional action has not seemed expedient," George B. Christian, acting secretary to President Coolidge, declares in a letter to J. Q. Adams, president of the Farmers' Union of Washington, and northern Idaho, in response to an appeal from a conference of wheat growers here last week asking a special session of Congress.

The President, Christian's letter declares, "shares with you a great solicitude for this important interest and a great sympathy for any part of it which may be, temporarily, he trusts, in any distress. It is his earnest desire to afford every possible relief and listen to every possible suggestion.

"The most experienced legislators with whom he has consulted have not yet been able to offer any plan for legislative action which seems to be practical."

GIFT PARASOLS DUTY FREE TO GERMANY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The German government, the Postoffice Department was advised today, has revived the practice of admitting gift packages free of customs duties and has extended the weight limit for this particular class of parcel post to six pounds. Shortly after the close of the World War, Germany and other nations of Europe waived customs duty on gift packages, most of which came from the United States and contained food or clothing. The term gift packages is interpreted to mean any parcel or material sent as a gift to the addressee for the personal use of himself and his family.

HUNDRED THOUSAND DOZEN EGGS SEIZED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—More than 1,250,000 eggs have been seized here by government agents in the last two weeks, on the ground that they were unfit for food. These eggs were shipped in from Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, South Dakota and Missouri and were found in the hands of twenty-two South Water street commission merchants. The government agents announced they will prosecute the consignees under the Pure Food Act. Complaints were received about two weeks ago from women that eggs they were buying and cakes fro mneighboring bakeries had a peculiar taste, and this led to the investigation and confiscation of the numerous shipments.

FOREIGN CREDIT URGED

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BOGOTA (Colombia) Aug. 24.—The American financial mission which is endeavoring to reorganize Colombia's fiscal system has recommended the establishment of foreign credit and the creation of a central bank to be controlled by a syndicate and supported by a specific guarantee from the revenues.

MAIL AVIATORS SET NEW MARKS

Coast-to-Coast Trip Made in 26 Hours, 14 Minutes

Famous New York-San Diego Record Broken

Pilot Smith Hits Average of 125 Miles an Hour

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Over the 855 miles of lighted airway between Cheyenne and Chicago, two mail planes sped tonight in the last of four transcontinental flights to test the feasibility of establishing day and night continuance flight across the continent for mail planes.

Six times during the week their predecessor, have spanned the continent in a little more than a day, three times from East to West and three from West to East, and have thoroughly demonstrated the possibility of Coast to Coast mail service on a definite schedule in approximately twenty-four hours.

While postoffice officials have announced that the six flights have assured transcontinental mail service, the last flight was being watched with interest because each of the preceding ones had clipped time from former schedules.

The third flight ended today with the mail plane from San Francisco landing at New York at 11:14 a.m., Eastern time, making a new cross-country record of twenty-six hours and fourteen minutes elapsed time. This flight clipped thirty-six minutes from the record set last May in a nonstop flight from New York to San Diego.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Its companion plane, winging its way From New York to San Francisco, landed on the Pacific Coast at 1:34 p.m., two hours and forty-one minutes ahead of schedule, clipping eleven minutes from the record made by the plane which landed yesterday.

The plane which hopped off at New York this morning, left Chicago at 6:20 p.m., Central Standard time, forty minutes ahead of schedule at the beginning of its night flight over the plains of the Middle West, and with a chance to gain still further time as it roared westward.

The plane that left San Francisco this morning was speeding to meet the westbound plane and was due here early in the morning. Its record during the early hours of its journey also was good and gave promise that it might equal or better records established during the week.

The westbound trans-continental plane, on the last test trip from San Francisco to New York, arrived here at 6:17 p. m., Central Standard time, piloted by H. C. Thompson. Pilot L. H. Garrison left at 6:20 p. m., forty minutes ahead of schedule, for the west.

DREAMS ARE REALIZED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HEMPSTEAD (N. Y.) Aug. 24. When the airplane piloted by Wesley L. Smith, with mail from San Francisco, came out of the sky and landed on Hazelhurst Field today, the most hopeful dreams of officials of the United States Air Mail Service were more than realized.

The time for the Kelly-Macready nonstop flight from New York to San Diego was 26 hours and 50 minutes. The mail flier covered 2680 miles while the army aviators traveled but 2560 miles. To Pilot Smith goes the credit for achieving one of the most notable jumps of the test flights thus far. He winged the 435 miles from Cleveland to New York in 3 hours and 26 minutes, averaging 125 miles an hour.

The tests will end tomorrow. The flights which were to have begun Saturday and ended Sunday have been canceled. Superintendent Edgar of the mail service, said the flight had been proved practicable and nothing could be accomplished by carrying mail that could not be delivered Sunday.

ARRIVES IN BAY CITY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Pilot C. K. Vance brought his airplane in from Reno at 1:34 p.m., two hours and forty minutes ahead of the schedule. Yesterday, the third test ended here two hours and thirty minutes ahead of the schedule.

Tomorrow Pilot Burr Winslow will bring in the last westward-bound test plane from Reno, and another record is expected. Winslow took the first of the test planes out of San Francisco.

POSSIBILITIES SEEN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OMAHA, Aug. 24.—Addressing the Omaha Chamber of Commerce today, Col. Paul Henderson, second Assistant Postmaster-General directing the aerial mail experimental flights, gave it as his opinion that within a relative short time all important commercial and industrial centers of the United States will be connected by lighted airways, over which mail, express and other important movements will be made at night, always providing that the distance between such centers exceeds 500 miles and does not exceed 1200 to 1500 miles.

RACING WITH DEATH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OMAHA, Aug. 24.—Pilot Jack Knight, veteran flyer, who has performed invaluable services for the nation's transcontinental night mail flying, entered a different type of race tonight at Cheyenne. Knight was informed by wire that his father at Buchanan, Mich., was not expected to live through the night, and he was given permission to use a plane in his race to Omaha.

OMAHA MUD COCKTAIL GONE, AS MAINS CLEAR

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OMAHA, Aug. 24.—Citizens of Omaha who have been drinking mud cocktails since last Monday expect to take their water clear tomorrow. The bluish mud which clogged the water mains when the Missouri River changed its course Monday has been largely removed, but thousands continued today to obtain their drinking supplies from city pumps and park springs.

YOU ought to hear the lecture by Judge Rutherford at the Orpheum next Sunday at 3 p.m. He will speak through the Western Electric Loud-Speaking Device.

MAY REAPPOINT HIGHWAY ENGINEER

WEBB RULES OFFICAL SHOULD ASSUME DUTIES TO SAVE SITUATION

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—Owing to divorcing of the State highway division and the State Department of Public Works and the elimination of the State highway engineer as director of the department by an act of the last Legislature, it will be necessary for Gov. Richardson to reappoint Robert M. Morton as State highway engineer and to rename the members of the Highway Commission.

Atty.-Gen. Webb so ruled in an opinion, copies of which were filed here today, interpreting the provisions of the act separating the highway division from the Department of Public Works. Under the old law Morton served as director of the department as well highway engineer.

It is Webb's opinion that the act created a new office of highway engineer, necessitating the reappointment of Morton. As a matter of precaution he also recommends that the members of the Highway Commission be reappointed.

In an opinion to W. F. McClure, chief of the division of engineering and irrigation of the Department of Public Works, Webb holds that it will be necessary for the Governor to name McClure as director of the reorganized department.

VOTING MACHINE ACT CONTESTED

SAN FRANCISCO TAXPAYER IS SEEKING WRIT OF MANDATE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Action to test the validity of the voting machine law enacted by the 1923 Legislature was begun in the State Supreme Court today when Thomas A. F. Ashe, a taxpayer, filed a petition directed against Registrar J. H. Zemansky and the San Francisco board of election commissioners.

Ashe seeks a writ of mandate to compel the respondents to prepare for the coming municipal election a printed ballot showing spaces for the designation of first, second and third choice for voters. The petitioner argues that the voting machines are not so constructed, and cannot be practicably constructed so as to permit their use in voting for first, second and third choice, as required by the San Francisco charter.

The petition avers the legislative act permitting the use of machines, declaring that this act supersedes provisions of city charters in conflicted therewith, is void under the State constitution, which gives cities the express power to provide for a mode and manner of electing municipal officers.

WAR CHARGED TO UNWASHED

Engineer Asserts Soap Lack Created Bolshevik

Declares Industrial Unrest Fostered by Filth

Says America Despite Rouge, Cleanest Nation

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—"Lack of bathtubs, soap and water and haircuts created the Bolshevik and resulted in the present misery in Russia. The present war-like attitude of France is due largely to its insanitary conditions.

"The fall of Rome was due to the influx of unwashed hordes that invaded the empire.

"American industrial unrest comes most frequently from those neighborhoods infested by the unwashed foreigner."

These are some of the statements made today by Col. William G. Archer, sanitary engineer and a member of the staff of Gen. Henry Allen during the World War, who spoke before the Kiwanis Club.

SANITATION CRITERION

Commenting on the connection between the present political situation in Europe and health conditions in different countries Col. Archer declared he could define the political status of any country by the degree of its sanitation.

"No country with efficient sanitation and clean people need fear revolution and unrest unless the unrest is due to unwashed inhabitants. Russia is paved with bones and its rivers run red because its people have never been taught to keep clean. One of the chief reasons for the revolt there was the filth and degradation of the peasants who bathed but three times in their whole existence—when they were born, when they married and when they died. The same is true of Mexico where violence and bloodshed are due to filth and misery.

FINDS PARIS POLLUTED

"In spite of its renowned beauty, Paris is polluted. It is these unhealthful conditions that are responsible for France's war-like attitude today. Any nation that does not build for cleanliness is a menace to itself and the world.

"American girls and women spent more for rouge, face powder and lipsticks last year than was spent by the entire nation for household sanitary equipment, and America leads the world in cleanliness, with England a poor second."

NAVY ESTIMATES TO STAND

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Following a conference at the White House with President Coolidge Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt made known his decision to "stand pat" on his original estimates for the next fiscal year. He will make only minor reductions in the schedule of expenditures for the Navy in spite of the demand of the Budget Bureau for a reduction of $72,000,000.

In his conference with the President the case for the Navy was set forth by Mr. Roosevelt, who pointed out the disastrous effect of such a severe cut in naval expenditures, and insisted that it would be impossible to maintain the Navy at the strength authorized by the Washington treaty if the order of Director Lord was not rescinded.

The director's letter naming the total amount of the proposed reduction contained "suggestions" but gave no positive instructions, leaving the way open for further discussions.

The total amount allowed by the budget for the Navy's needs next year, $292,000,000, amounts to an actual reduction of $34,000,000 below the funds being spent this year, Navy officials explained, and this in spite of the increased expenditures made necessary by the number of new ships to be commissioned.

WIFE OF ASSERTED KLAN VICTIM SUES

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE]

SHREVEPORT (La.) Aug. 24.—A dispatch to the Shreveport Journal from Lufkin, Tex., today says that Mrs. Jessie Wiley of Diboll has instituted suit at Lufkin for $100,000 against the Ku Klux Klan. The Angelina Klan, No. 16, D. F. Harrell, Sam H. Kerr, Hobby Kelly and B. A. Teston are made the defendants. The petition states that on July 20, 1921, a masked mob of Klan numbers went to her home, took her husband, Ben Wiley, beat him unmercifully and covered him with tar and feathers. Ben Wiley instituted suit several weeks ago against the same organization for $100,000.

Salvaging of Sunken Liner Discontinued

[RADIO EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Aug. 24.—It is announced that the work will soon be abandoned for the season of salvagin bullion from the sunken White Star liner Laurentic, which was torpedoed seven years ago off the North Irish coast.

The ship contained about £5,000,000 ($25,000,000) and this year about £2,000,000 ($10,000,000) has been recovered by divers, who are acting as submarine miners 120 feet down. Last year about £1,250,000 ($7,250,000) was recovered, and the year before £600,000 ($3,000,000).

The work is being done by the Admiralty and the bullion is being sent to the Bank of England, where it is credited to the government on account of reducing taxation.

JAPANESE TO SEND ENVOY TO VATICAN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TOKIO, July 20.—The Buddhists, who early this year opposed sending a Japanese minister to the Vatican and succeeded in having the application for that purpose defeated in the Diet, have reversed that decision after a conference with representatives of the Foreign Office who impressed him with the necessity of the appointment. It is likely that the exchange of ministers will be consummated next year as the Vatican already has a legate here who has been waiting for many months for official recognition.

PINCHOT TAKES HAND IN STRIKE

... of Pennsylvania Will Co-operate

To Bring Pressure to Bear on Miners

Believes That Crisis Can Be Averted

[BY WINTER SEARS HENNING
TIMES BUREAU REPRESENTATIVE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—On invitation of President Coolidge, Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania arrived here today that he would initiate a new effort to bring the anthracite miners and operators to an agreement before September 1, the date set for the strike. Mr. Pinchot, after several days' conference with the President and John Hays Hammond, chairman of the United States Coal Commission, hurried from the White House to the station and left for Harrisburg. Immediately upon his arrival there he expects to get into touch with leaders of both sides and in all probability arrange for a conference to open the negotiations for a settlement of the dispute.

Upon leaving the White House, Mr. Pinchot issued this statement:

"The President has been good enough to call me into conference on the coal situation and has asked me to do what I can to help in finding a solution. I have refrained from taking any action until I knew that it was agreeable to the President that I should do so. Now that I am agreeable to the President that I should do so. Now that I have agreed to get in touch with the miners and operators promptly, I left for Harrisburg."

CONCILIATION PROMISED

While it was stated at the White House that Coolidge had promised to use the fullest co-operation of the Federal authorities, it was learned that perfect harmony prevailed between the President and the Governor. It was stated, and complete co-operation between the State and Federal officials will be witnessed throughout the country in the efforts to settle the strike.

Governor of the State which controls all the anthracite mines, has jurisdiction over both the property involved in the strike is more intimate and direct than that of the United States government and this condition, the White House spokesmen said, had much to do with Coolidge inviting the governor to take a hand in the matter. It is understood that the invitation was extended by the President after it had been agreed that it would be entirely acceptable to the Governor.

COOLIDGE OPTIMISTIC

President Coolidge, it was officially stated, entertains high hope that a settlement will be reached and that there will be no cessation of mining operations. This optimism, it was indicated, is not based upon any specific but seemed to be due to the general atmosphere of peace and harmony in the country at the present time and the prevalent desire to adjust differences by agreement rather than by force or coercion.

Mr. Pinchot declared that no definite plan for settling the strike had been worked out. He admitted that there was no truth in the reports that he would call the Pennsylvania Legislature in special session to confer additional authority to deal with the strike situation.

John Hays Hammond declared that he was optimistic as to the outcome of the Atlantic conference being between the anthracite operators and miners believing that enlightened self-interest, irrespective of the sentiment on the part of the operators and the miners, would prevent a suspension of work at the anthracite mines. This was the substance of his declaration of yesterday that he was hopeful of a strike being avoided.

Briefly, Chairman Hammond is convinced that both sides have too much to lose in the event of a strike to permit one to take place. He qualified his explanation, however, by referring to what happened in 1914 when intelligent men everywhere were convinced that there would never be a world war.

FRANK JORDAN SHOWS REPORT COVERING TWELVE YEARS OF DEPARTMENT

RED THREAT DOESN'T WORRY SACRAMENTO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—Threats made by Industrial Workers of the World leaders that they will invade Sacramento this fall and conduct a "reign of terror" as a protest against the injunction obtained against them, the prosecution of radicals under the criminal syndicalism law, have not alarmed officials of this city and county.

Plans of members of the I.W.W. to invade the city were learned by State investigators who are keeping a check on activities of the organization. Local officers are of the opinion that the I.W.W., are merely "bluffing," and in support of this belief cite many past threats made by members of the organization if their activities were interfered with.

Chief of Police Barney McShane, Sheriff Ellis Jones and Dist.-Atty. H. J. Henderson state, however, that if the threat does not constitute a mere "bluff" and is sought to be carried out, the invaders will find that the city and county will not "tolerate disorder and that any situation that arises will be promptly and adequately dealt with."

The Little Warrior

BY P. G. WODEHOUSE

"Otie darling,' said Mrs. Waddesleigh Peagrim, leaning her ample shoulder on Uncle Chris' perfectly fitting sleeve and speaking across him to young Mr. Pilkington, "I do congratulate you, dear. It's perfectly delightful! I don't know when I have enjoyed a musical piece so much. Don't you think it's perfectly darling, Major Selby?"

"Capital!" agreed that suave man of the world, who had been bored as near extinction as makes no matter. "Congratulate you, my boy!"

"You clever, clever thing!" said Mrs. Peagrim, skittishly striking her nephew on the knee with her fan. "I'm proud to be your aunt! Aren't you proud to know him, Mr. Rooke?"

The fourth occupant of the box awoke with a start from the species of stupor into which he had been plunged by the spectacle of the McWhustle of McWhustle in action. There had been other dark moments in Freddie's life. Once, back in London, Parker had sent him out into the heart of the West End without his spats and he had not discovered their absence till he was half-way up Bond street. On another occasion, having taken on a stranger at squash for a quid a game, he had discovered too late that the latter was an ex-public-school champion. He had felt gloomy when he had learned of the breaking-off of the engagement between Jill Mariner and Derek Underhill, and sad when it had been brought to his notice that London was giving Derek the cold shoulder in consequence. But never in his whole career had he experienced such gloom and such sadness as had come to him that evening while watching this unspeakable person in kilts murder the part that should have been his. And the audience, confound them, had roared with laughter at every damn silly thing the fellow had said!

"Eh?" he replied. "Oh, yes, rather, absolutely!"

"We're all proud of you, Otie darling," proceeded Mrs. Peagrim. "The piece is a wonderful success. You will make a fortune out of it. And just think, Major Selby, I tried my best to argue the poor, dear boy out of putting it on! I thought it was so rash to risk his money in a theatrical venture. But then," said Mrs. Peagrim in extenuation, "I had only seen the piece when it was done at my house at Newport, and of course it really was rather dreadful nonsense then! I might have known that you would change it a great deal before you put it on in New York. As I always say, plays are not written, they are rewritten. Why, you have improved this piece a hundred per cent, Otie! I wouldn't know it was the same play!"

She slapped him smartly once more with her fan, ignorant of the gashes she was inflicting. Poor Mr. Pilkington was suffering twin torments, the torture of remorse and the agonized jealousy of the unsuccessful artist. It would have been bad enough to have to sit and watch a large audience rocking in its seats at the slap-stick comedy which Wally Mason had substituted for his delicate social satire; but this beep all, at least he could have consoled himself with the sordid reflection that he, as owner of the piece, was going to make a lot of money out of it. Now, even this material balm was denied him. He had sold out, and he was feeling like the man who parts for a song with shares in an apparently goldless gold mine, only to read in the papers next morning that a new reef has been located. Into each life some rain must fall. Quite a shower was falling now into young Mr. Pilkington's.

"Of course," went on Mrs. Peagrim, "when the play was done at my house, it was acted by amateurs. And you know what amateurs are! The cast tonight is perfectly splendid. I do think that Scotchman is the most killing creature! Don't you think he is wonderful, Mr. Rooke?"

We may say what we will against the upper strata of society, but it cannot be denied that breeding tells. Only by falling back for support on the traditions of his class and the solid support of a gentle up-bringing was the last of the Rookes able to crush down the words that leaped to his lips and to substitute for them a politely conventional agreement. If Mr. Pilkington was feeling like a too impulsive seller of gold-mines, Freddie's emotions were akin to those of the Spartan boy with the fox under his vest. Nothing but Winchester and Magdalen could have produced the smile which, though twisted and confined entirely to his lips, flashed onto his face and off again at his hostess' question.

"Oh, rather! Priceless!"

"Wasn't that part an Englishman before?" asked Mrs. Peagrim.

"I thought so. Well, it was a stroke of genius changing it. This Scotchman is too funny for words. And such an artist!"

Freddie rose shakily. One can stand just so much.

"Think," he mumbled, "I'll be pushing along and smoking a cigarette."

He groped his way to the door.

"I'll come with you, Freddie my boy," said Uncle Chris, who felt an imperative need of five minutes' respite from Mrs. Peagrim. "Let's get out into the air for a moment. Uncommonly warm it is here."

Freddie assented. Air was what he felt he wanted most.

Left alone in the box with her nephew, Mrs. Peagrim continued for some moments in the same vein, innocently twisting the knife in the open wound. It struck her from time to time that darling Otie was perhaps a shade unresponsive, but she put this down to the nervous strain inseparable from a first night of a young author's first play.

"Why," she concluded, "you will make thousands and thousands of dollars out of this piece. I am sure it is going to be another 'Merry Widow.'"

"You can't tell from a first night audience," said Mr. Pilkington sombrely, giving out a piece of theatrical wisdom he had picked up at rehearsals.

"Oh, but you can. It's so easy to distinguish polite applause from the real thing. No doubt many of the people down here have friends in the company or other reasons for seeming to enjoy the play, but look how the circle and the gallery were enjoying it! You can't tell me that that was not genuine. They love it. How hard," she proceeded commiseratingly, "you must have worked, poor boy, during the tour on the road to improve the piece so much! I never liked to say so before, but even you must agree with me now that that original version of yours, which was done down at Newport, was the most terrible nonsense! And how hard the company must have worked, too! Otie," cried Mrs. Peagrim, aglow with the magic of a brilliant idea, "I will tell you what you must really do. You must give a supper and dance to the whole company on the stage tomorrow night after the performance."

"What!" cried Otis Pilkington, startled out of his lethargy by this appalling suggestion. Was he, the man who, after planking down thirty-two thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine dollars, sixty-eight cents for "props" and "frames" and "rehl," had sold out for a paltry ten thousand, to be still further victimized?

"They do deserve it, don't they, after working so hard?"

"It's impossible," said Otis Pilkington vehemently. "Out of the question."

"But, Otie darling, I was talking to Mr. Mason, when he came down to Newport to see the piece last summer, and he told me that the management nearly always gives a supper to the company, especially if they have had a lot of extra rehearsing to do."

"Well, let Goble give them a supper if he wants to."

"But you know that Mr. Goble, though he has his name on the program as the manager, has really nothing to do with it. You own the piece, don't you?"

For a moment Mr. Pilkington felt an impulse to reveal all, but refrained. He knew his Aunt Olive too well. If she found out that he had parted at a heavy loss with this valuable property, her whole attitude towards him would change,—or rather, it would revert to her normal attitude, which was not unlike that of a severe nurse to a weak-minded child. Even in his agony there had been a certain faint consolation, due to the entirely unwonted note of respect in the voice with which she had addressed him since the fall of the curtain. He shrank from forfeiting this respect, unentitled though he was to it.

"Yes," he said in his precise voice. "That, of course, is so."

"Well, then!" said Mrs. Peagrim.

"But it seems so unnecessary! And think what it would cost."

This was a false step. Some of the reverence left Mrs. Peagrim's voice, and she spoke a little coldly. A gay and gallant spender herself, she had often had occasion to rebuke a tendency to overparsimony in her nephew.

"We must not be mean, Otie!" she said.

Mr. Pinklington keenly resented her choice of pronouns. "We," indeed! Who was going to foot the bill? Both of them, hand in hand, or he alone, the chump, the boob, the easy mark who got this sort of thing wished on him!

"I don't think it would be possible to get the stage for a supper party," he pleaded, shifting his ground. "Goble wouldn't give it to us."

"As if Mr. Goble would refuse you anything after you have written a wonderful success for his theater! And isn't he getting his share of the profits? Directly after the performance, you must go round and ask him. Of course he will be delighted to give you the stage. I will be hostess," said Mrs. Peagrim radiantly. "And now, let me see, whom shall we invite?"

Mr. Pilkington stared gloomily at the door, too bowed down now by his weight of cares to resent the "we," which had plainly come to stay. He was trying to estimate the size of the gash which this preposterous entertainment would cleave in the Pilkington bank-roll. He doubted if it were possible to go through with it under five hundred dollars; and, if, as seemed only too probable, Mrs. Peagrim took the matter in hand and gave herself her head, it might get into four figures.

"Major Selby, of course," said Mrs. Peagrim musingly, with a cooing note in her voice. Long since had that polished man of affairs made a deep impression upon her. "Of course Major Selby, for one. And Mr. Rooke. Then there are one or two of my friends who would be hurt if they were left out. How about Mr. Mason? Isn't he a friend of yours?"

Mr. Pilkington snorted. He had endured much and was prepared to endure more, but he drew the line at squandering his money on the man who had sneaked up behind his brain-child with a hatchet and chopped its precious person into little bits.

"He is not a friend of mine," he said stiffly, "and I do not wish him to be invited!"

JAPAN OPPOSES CHINA RAIL CONTROL PLAN

FOREIGN OFFICE SEES RULE BY FOREIGN COUNTRIES IN PROPOSAL

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—Japan objects to the recently announced plan of the Foreign Diplomatic Corps at Peking, said to have been sponsored by the British legation, for control of the Chinese railways by one foreign and one Chinese director.

The Japanese Foreign Office will propose to the Peking Diplomatic Corps a modification of the plan, suggesting that there should be a single Chinese director of the railways with foreign inspectors empowered to see that guards are paid from revenue of the railways.

Tokio newspapers, with the exception of the Jiji, are opposing what they term the British proposal on the ground that it is a stepping stone to international control of China. They state that this would be most unpopular in Japan, besides being contrary to the Washington agreement.

Reorganization of Chinese railway operation was proposed by the Peking Diplomatic Corps as a result of the Suchow bandit outrage in which a number of foreigners were kidnaped from the Shanghai-Peking Express and held prisoners for more than a month. The plan was a part of a series of demands made on the Chinese government for protection of foreigners traveling on railways in China.

Dream Prompts Boy to Reveal Murdered Chum

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 24.—Eight-year-old Antonio Testa saw "the shadow" of Michael Lurgio, 9 years of age, in a dream last night and told his mother that Henri Rossi, 13 years of age, had shot Lurgio and buried him in a hole just over the Providence line in Johnston on Tuesday. Policemen, hurrying to the spot, with the two former playmates of Lurgio, found the boy's body. He had been reported by his parents as missing. Rossi, in a statement to the police, admitting the shooting, said he did not know the double-barreled shotgun, left by his father in a shack on Hedley street, Johnston, was loaded. In his statement, he said, according to the police:

"We were playing and Mickie stood in the doorway. I pulled the trigger and it went off. It hit him in the left breast and he fell over."

The Testa boy said young Rossi made him promise not to tell. He kept the secret until he was awakened by a dream last night and then told his mother.

TWO FOUND GUILTY IN COUNTERFEITING CASE

JOHN SILVA OF LOS ANGELES CONVICTED; JOHN COY ACQUITTED BUT HELD

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Fred Elkins, San Francisco, and John Sivla of Los Angeles were found guilty by a jury in the United States District Court today of possessing 434 counterfeit $20 notes on the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. A third defendant, John Coy of Los Angeles, was found not guilty, but he was ordered back into custody as there is another indictment against him.

The men convicted were members of a gang which had operated with unusual success upon the Pacific Coast from Vancouver, B. C., to Los Angeles. They were captured after they had completed a motor trip which included stops at Portland, Scramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles. In each of the towns they were said to have circulated currency of their own manufacture.

Elkins, who formerly owned a poolroom at Astoria, Or., and who was asserted to have financed the counterfeiters during the preliminary period of their work, was reputed to have been the leader of the band. He rented an apartment at Seattle where officers declared the spurious notes had been manufactured.

Coy who said he is only 19 years of age, asserted that he had not participated in the counterfeiting. His parents reside at Stockton.

Three other members of the band already have been sentenced to imprisonment in Leavenworth penitentiary and three more asserted members are awaiting trial at Seattle. One of the latter in Paul Dimm, whose wife was one of the principal government witnesses in this trial. She testified that she had seen her husband and other members of the band "strike off" the bogus currency in their Seattle flat.

REFINING COMPANY DECLARES DIVIDEND

OVERPRODUCTION GIVEN AS CAUSE FOR REDUCTION IN AMOUNT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Directors of the Producers' and Refiners' Corporation meeting here today declared a dividend of 50 cents a share payable September 15 to stockholders of record September 4. Today's dividend was 50 cents a share less than had been declared for two previous quarters this year.

Present overproduction of crude oil in the United States and reductions in gasoline prices were given as the causes for reducing the dividend in a statement by Frank E. Kistler, chairman of the board of directors, following the meeting.

The directors of the company believe that present conditions call for economy as well as a conservation of resources, the statement said, adding that it may become desirable for the company to store large stocks of crude oil and refining products of which the company now has no surplus.

Indicated earnings for the full year approximate $7,000,000 after making allowance for the recent reduction in prices, it was announced. The company, according to the statement, now has a daily crude production of 20,000 barrels, which can be increased at will, and within the next thirty days will have completed its daily refining capacity to 20,000 barrels, together with additional pipe line and storage facilities.

The company, the announcement declared, has long-term favorable contracts for the sale of the major portion of the output of its refineries.

JUDGE RUTHERFORD will use the Western Electric Loud-Speaking Device at the Coliseum next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Letter No. 5—DOES THE BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE THINK IT CAN "FOOL ALL THE PEOPLE ALL THE TIME?"

To the Taxpayers of the City of Los Angeles

Hiding behind the personal popularity of one of its engineers, the Board of Public Service published in yesterday's Examiner a very "cheap power" attack on me, and did not have guts enough to mention me by name.

I want it understood here and now that I have no quarrel with any of the engineers or employees of the Board of Public Service; my complaint is solely against the Board of Public Service, who have been entrusted by the City Charter with the water and power departments. By their actions we know that they have decided that the use of aqueduct waters for the manufacture of power is a prior use to the use of said waters by the farmers for irrigation; in other words, if it becomes necessary to shut down the power plants that you may have a drink of water, they will do so, but that they will not shut them down that the farmer may irrigate his soil with his water. THIS IS THE ISSUE IN A NUTSHELL.

In the Board's said "cheap power" attack on me, they insinuate that I am poor; I have to confess it, but I am not so poor as the poor fellows whom the Board is making poorer by taking away their water. Does a fellow have to be as rich as "Doc" Haynes to be allowed to take any interest in public affairs? They insinuate that I have been influenced by the private electric corporations. Old time stuff, Goliath. Mudslinging will not save you in this fight.

In 1919 my Massachusetts mother-in-law gave me a little book entitled, "Have Faith in Massachusetts," by Calvin Coolidge. The following paragraph rang in my ears in 1919, and it sounds as good today: "Do the day's work. If it be to protect the rights of the weak, whoever objects, do it. If it be to help a powerful corporation better to serve the people, whatever the opposition, do that. Expect to be called a stand-patter, but don't be a stand-patter. Expect to be called a demagogue, but don't be a demagogue. Don't hesitate to be as revolutionary as science. Don't hesitate to be as reactionary as the multiplication table. Don't expect to build up the weak by pulling down the strong. Don't hurry to legislate. Give administration a chance to catch up with legislation." And I added then for my personal use, "Don't be afraid to be called a paid liar, but don't be a paid liar. Don't be afraid to be called a paid agent of the 'power trust,' but don't be a paid agent of the 'power trust.' Don't be afraid to be called a troublemaker, but don't be a troublemaker."

The American people hate a coward; a man who fights hiding behind a mask, a man who writes anonymous letters, a man who by insinuation attempts to ruin the character of his neighbor.

Yesterday in court I got nearly all I asked for; I got it by forced stipulation rather than by injunction. I will tell you all about it in my next. I am badly in need of money, and would accept a contribution even from "Doc" Haynes, under the express conditions of my letter No. 1, published in the Los Angeles Times, June 20, 1923.

FIREPROOF OIL DOCK PLANNED

Pan-American to Erect New Loading Wharf

Steel Bulkheads Suggested for Old Structures

Law Asked to Stop Pollution of Harbor Waters

Construction of a fire-proof oil loading wharf by the Pan-American Petroleum Company at Pier No. 1, Los Angeles Harbor, estimated to cost approximately $150,000, was authorized by the Los Angeles Harbor Commission yesterday. This wharf will be of latest design and will have a loading capacity of 130,000 barrels of oil every four hours and will accommodate two of the largest tankers afloat at the same time.

Measures to lower the fire hazard at the harbor, which, however, at present are declared less than at any Pacific Coast port and are so recognized by insurance companies in granting Los Angeles the lowest rate of any Pacific port, were adopted by the commission. Chief among these was instruction of the harbor engineer to construct metal fire breaks, or bulkheads, under all of the wooden municipal wharves. These bulkheads, it was stated, are of a design that will materially reduce the fire hazard and will enable fire-fighters to combat blazes more effectively.

TO STOP POLLUTION

The commission also recommended the adoption by the City Council of an ordinance prohibiting the pollution of the water at the harbor with oil and proposed that a fine of $500 or a jail sentence of sixty days be imposed on conviction of violation of the ordinance. It was stated that with the close co-operation of the courts the commission will be able to eliminate the illegal discharge of oil into the waters at the harbor, which is declared to present a serious menace at the present time.

The recommended ordinance follows:

"Section 1. It is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, or any agent or employee of any person, firm or corporation operating any tanker, boat or vessel discharging or receiving oil, or being within the waters incorporated in the limits of the harbor of Los Angeles, to allow to escape any oil, or pump bilges that contain oil, upon or into any of the waters within the incorporated limits of the harbor, and prescribing a penalty for this offense.

PENALTY PROVIDED

"Section 2. Any person, firm or corporation, or any agent or employee of any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of the above numbered section of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00,) or be imprisoned for not more than sixty (60) days, or both fine and imprisonment, within the discretion of the municipal judge."

Action designed to improve the appearance of the harbor by removing debris floating in the channel and in the vicinity of the wharves was adopted in instructions to the harbor engineer to install log booms around all wharves where construction work is in progress. The harbor department also at present has a monthly appropriation for keeping the channel and slips free of floating debris, which detract from the appearance of the harbor, it was stated.

BUSINESS INCREASE

Reports regarding the increase in the business at the harbor were submitted to the commission showing that the net earnings of the belt line railroad at the harbor during July totaled $12,176.57, an increase of $6386.68 over the same period last year. The collections for the harbor revenue fund from the 6th inst. to the 20th inst. were reported as $114,527.98 and the revenue from municipal pilotage during July was given as $12,-705.50.

Official figures on the gross revenue of the harbor for the year ending June 30, last, were announced as $1,132,276.39, as compared with $703,656.71 for the previous year.

CHAPTER VI

The Jewelry Check Swindle

[All Rights Reserved]

"Slicky" Jim McSwain was buying a spark for his gall. Finally he picked out a one carat, blue-white stone of exceptional luster and told the clerk to wrap it up.

He wrote out a check for $600 and handed it to the clerk, who scanned it doubtfully. McSwain then said:

"Wait a minute, I won't ask you to cash that check. You don't know me. I live up at the M—— hotel. Now you just put that check through the bank in the morning and when you get the cash I'll call and get my diamond."

This sounded fair enough, so the clerk took the check and put the diamond away in his safe in an envelope with McSwain's name on it.

Next evening when McSwain called for the diamond, after banking hours, the clerk said:

"I'm sorry to say, Mr. McSwain, that your check came back."

He handed McSwain the check, across the back of which was written in lead pencil, "Can't locate account."

"That's very strange," declared McSwain, irritably. "Just give me that check and I'll run up to the bank in the morning and find out what is the matter."

The clerk handed McSwain his check. He forgot that the indorsement of his own firm had been written across the back.

"Slicky Jim" rubbed off the pencil marking, "Can't locate account," and presented the check at the M——hotel with the indorsement of the big jewelry firm on the back. The check was honored immediately.

The jewelry company had to make the check good because of its indorsement.

The "pay check" crook is still netting hundreds of dollars by a simple but obvious trick. He has a rubber stamp made of a firm name, as Robin & Bobbin. Then he has some checks printed with this name across the top.

As a rule he will make out about ten of these checks, for from $25 to $50 each, so as to make them appear to be pay checks. Then, wearing a baker's white apron, coat and cap, he will rush into an adjoining store after banking hours, make a small purchase and present the check. To all appearance this man is working just next door and is a good risk. Besides he has a printed check, with a rubber stamp signature on it, countersigned by the treasurer of Robin & Bobbin. So they cash the paper and are swindled. He then goes up the street, cashing the others.

One check man operated by opening accounts in four or five banks with small deposits. He deposited the money under the name of James Morris, administrator of the estate of James K. Morris. Then he began cashing checks around town until he became known. Merchants and others found out that his checks were good and honored them. After he had "established his credit," Morris deposited checks for from $238 to $250 in the five different banks from out of town banks and proceeded to check against these funds very extensively.

Before the banks could discover that the big checks were uncovered by funds Morris was well out of the country.

Business men who are careless about leaving checks and check books lying around or who throw away their canceled checks instead of destroying them, furnish excellent material for the criminal. A check passer will take an old canceled check, copy the signature so that not even a bank cashier can tell the difference and get away with it. There have been cases where the victim himself scarcely could tell the difference between his own handwriting and that of the swindler.

As a rule good bad-check men are educated. There was one exception, an illiterate foreigner.

This foreigner could not even write. He had an old bank book which showed he had made a deposit of $750 in a small bank. No withdrawals were marked. He would go into a grocery or dry goods store, make a purchase and then show the merchant his book.

"I can't write," he told them.

"You write out the check for me."

The merchant invariably would write out the check and the foreigner made a cross. He operated a good many months before he was apprehended.

DRIVEWAY DRIPPINGS FORBIDDEN

Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith Will Have to do Her Washing Dry Hereafter

Mrs. Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith, clubwoman and actress, may continue to hang her washed clothes out on the line over her driveway but they must not drip, Judge Wood decided yesterday.

A few weeks ago Sam Prager and his wife brought suit against the Goldsmiths asking that the court restrain them from hanging clothes over the driveway that is used by both families as entrance to their homes in Canyon Drive, Hollywood.

The Pragers asserted that they have the use of the drive and that the Goldsmiths obstruct the way with their washings, from which water drips, making the steep grade almost impassable for an automobile. Aside from this fact, the Pragers declared that the clothes flapping in the breeze seriously marred their view.

The Judge held that it was impossible for him to prevent the Goldsmiths from hanging up their washings on their own land, but the water dripping was held as a nuisance and the defendants were prohibited from allowing any moisture to gather.

Sanborn Wears "No Man's Collar"—Until He Comes to as Council Meets

Councilman Sanborn was yesterday elected to the same division of the Hall of Fame to which "Sockless" Jerry Simpson, as Congressman from Kansas, was a member, when the Councilman appeared at the City Hall yesterday morning sans collar, sans necktie.

Weighty legislative matters were on the Councilman's mind yesterday morning when he dressed preparatory to attending the daily Council session at the City Hall. Still buried in deep thought, the Councilman ate his breakfast, rode to the City Hall in his Huntington Special, and it was not until he was looking over his morning mail at his desk that the Councilman in scratching his Adam's Apple, discovered that sartorially he was missing on two important cylinders.

Dashing from the City Hall to the nearest haberdasher's, the Councilman purchased a tie of modest hue and a collar and then returned and took his seat in the Council Chamber. The Councilman had heard of the faux pas perpetrated, and on motion of Councilman Criswell it was declared that Councilman Sanborn, now being "properly clothed," should be permitted to take his seat.

GIRL STATES MAN AGREED TO WED HER

Tells Court She Traveled All Over the State in R. S. Madrid's Company

Declaring that she had traveled all over California in R. S. Madrid's company, on the strength of his promise to marry her, Miss Tillie Paredes told a story in Justice Wood's court yesterday that resulted in the holding of Madrid on a statutory charge.

Tillie Paredes

The girl described many trips she said she made with Madrid. On some of the trips, she said, another couple went along.

Miss Helen Appel took the stand and admitted she was one of the couple referred to. She corroborated Miss Paredes about the trips but said she had never heard marriage spoken of by Miss Paredes's companion.

After Justice Wood had fixed Madrid's bail at $3000 Madrid's lawyer asked the justice if he would consent to a wedding. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan said he had no objection to the marriage of Madrid and Miss Paredes but would not drop the prosecution. Madrid was then committed to the County Jail.

SUSPECTED BANK BANDIT FACES TRIAL

Purported San Gabriel Hold-up Man Held on $10,000 Bail

As an aftermath of an attempted robbery of the Bank of San Gabriel the 9th inst., Jose Subia, yesterday was held in $10,000 bail on charges of assault with intent to commit murder and assault with intent to commit robbery.

Testimony was given to the effect that Subia and a companion entered the bank and presented a check to C. C. Killian, an employee. As Killian scanned the bit of paper Subia produced a revolver and shot him through the shoulder.

The report of the gun brought Frederick Clark, teller, and Freda Manser, stenographer, to the scene. Subia and his friend fled.

Subia was later captured and his companion was found in a ditch some distance away with a bullet hole in his brain. He had committed suicide. Subia was identified as the man who shot Killian by both Clark and Miss Manser.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan prosecuted. The hearing was before Justice Wood.

'Ah Thought She Was Daid,' Says Bigamy Suspect

On a bigamy charge brought by Mary Smith, his most recent wife, in Judge Wood's court yesterday, George Smith, a gentleman of color, testified that his former wife had left him a number of years ago. He admitted he had never obtained a dvorce from her.

"Then why," thundered the judge, "did you marry the plaintiff?"

"Well, yo' honor," he answered, "Ah didn' know ah had a wife. Ah thought she was daid."

In view of the fact that the plaintiff had allowed three years to go by after discovering that Smith was already married, before bringing action, the judge did not order his arrest.

"You people want to be more careful, that's all," he threatened as a general injunction to all those contemplating bigamy.

Inglewood Asks Connection With Outfall Sewer

The city of Inglewood yesterday, through its City Engineer, asked permission from the Los Angeles City Council to connect the Inglewood sewer system with the new outfall sewer being built from the city to the ocean at Hyperion. A similar request is pending from the city of Glendale.

In both cases the communities desire to share in the use of the Los Angeles sewer system and to pay for the service, but nothing is said in the petitions of the two cities regarding annexation to Los Angeles as being one of the conditions for use of the sewer system.

The Inglewood petition was referred to the Council Health and Sanitation Committee, of which Councilman Mallard is chairman.

Clubman Given Time Limit to Raise Alimony

William Hackney, prominent Pasadena club man, was allowed another week in which to raise three months' arrears in alimony, when his case came up in Judge Wood's court yesterday.

In 1918 he was divorced from Lillian Phillips Hackney and ordered to pay $200 a month alimony.

It was brought out in court that he had never paid a nickel of the amount and that his father had always paid the monthly installments up to June last, when he quit.

Hackney was released on his own recognizance.

Lillian Phillips Hackney is the daughter of a Santa Monica business man.

CIRCUS WILL ARRIVE HERE NEXT MONTH

Advance Force is Billing Community for Ringling Show, September 12-16

Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined circus will give performances afternoon and evening in Los Angeles on September 12 to 16, inclusive. Billing forces arrived in the city yesterday and the work of posting bills, hanging lithographs, etc., has started.

Advance Press Agent Sam J. Banks made the following statement with references to this year's circus:

"Ringling Brothers will give Los Angeles the same performance that caused a furor at Madison Square Garden, New York. Mabel Stark will enter a mammoth steel arena alone and wrestle with a giant royal Bengal tiger. Berta Beeson will perform unprecedented wire feats. Beatrice Sweeney, the human gyroscope, will amaze. The Riefenachs and seventy other noted riders will present a complete show. Mlle. Theol will turn sixty revolutions a minute on a twelve-inch-square base high in the air. Clarkonion-Tomcisone, an English-American combination of aerialists, will execute stunts. The Silvas, European novelty equestrians, will appear.

"In the double herd of pachyderms are six baby elephants. In the opening pageant of the circus proper all sorts of fairy-tale characters and nursery-rhyme heroes and heroines will appear, as well as knights and ladies, elephants, camels and floats."

ARSON FIEND SOUGHT

Burning of Magnolia Park House Investigated

On the belief that an arson fiend is operating in the Magnolia Park district, deputy sheriffs yesterday began an investigation of the burning yesterday morning of two unoccupied houses in the section. It was reported to the Sheriff's office by J. H. Scott of 223 Indiana avenue, Magnolia Park, that at 5 o'clock yesterday morning two houses at Tweedy road and Long Beach Boulevard took fire and burned to the ground. He stated that the fires started in both houses at the same time and from different corners of the structures. He also stated that eight fires within the last sixty days have destroyed as many dwellings, and that he believes an incendiary started all blazes.

MASONS WILL PICNIC

At least 1000 persons are expected to attend the annual picnic at Manhattan Beach today of the East Gate Masonic Lodge. The afternoon will be filled with athletic sports and swimming, dinner will be served at 6 p.m., and dancing will follow in the evening. Automobile roads to Manhattan Beach have been posted by the committee.

AUTO WRECK REVEALS HUSBAND'S ACTIVITIES

DIVORCE SEEKER SAYS QUERY DREW ANGRY ORDER TO QUIT HOME

The relations of Albert B. Davis with other women were unknown to his wife until she read in the newspaper of an automobile wreck in which her husband was accompanied by another woman, Mrs. Minnie V. Davis declared in a complaint for divorce filed yesterday.

When she tried to question her husband about his presence in the automobile at the time of the wreck, he became violently angry, the wife asserted, and told her to get out and stay out. Later he told her that when she left he was going to lock the door so that she could never come back, Mrs. Davis declared.

She asked for a share in the community property, which she valued at $20,000, and also for $125 a month alimony.

JUDGE REDUCES BAIL IN MANN-ACT CASE

United States District Judge James yesterday reduced the bail of Philip H. Brady, charged with violation of the Mann Act, from $10,000 to $5000, conditioned on Brady remaining in Los Angeles county. If he leaves he will be rearrested and held under the original bond. Brady has been in the County Jail since May. It is charged that he brought Marian Happ, a Buffalo (N. Y.) schoolgirl, from that city to Los Angeles. The father of Miss Happ came to Los Angeles and took the girl home, following the arrest of Brady.

INCOME TAX UNIT'S RULING IS REVERSED

An income tax ruling received yesterday by Collector Goodcell is that where it is established by evidence that a taxpayer purchased residential property for the purpose of its subsequent sale at a profit, he may deduct a loss from the sale, even though he occupied the property as a residence during a part of the time from the date of the purchase to the date of sale. The decision, which is an important one, reversed the ruling of the income tax unit which had disallowed the loss.

ORDINANCE WOULD REGULATE CANNERS

Health Commissioner Powers has forwarded to the City Council the draft of a proposed ordinance which would place under regulation and control of the health department all fruit and vegetable-canning factories in Los Angeles. Legislation of this kind, said Health Commissioner Powers, has long been needed to protect the public from impure canned and bottled products.

OVERSEAS PICNIC TODAY

The first annual basket picnic of the British Overseas League of Southern California is scheduled for this afternoon at Echo Park. A program of games and contests has been arranged and prizes will be awarded to the winners.

CHARGES IN WIFE'S PLEA ARE DIVERS

Assert Hunsband Deserted Her, Lived With Another; Asked Her to Hurry Suit

That Van Buren Clark, prominent Los Angeles cafe man, had deserted her when she was confined to her bed with a serious illness; that he had told her "he didn't care for her any longer; that he couldn't live with her; that he felt towards her like a little baby; that he cared for another woman" and that upon being told his wife was in a critical condition, he replied: "She will just have to get over it by herself," formed the grounds on which Mrs. Maud Clark was granted a decree of divorce in Judge Wood's court yesterday.

She also said that her husband often escorted Dot Matzon, a former Winter Garden chorus girl, to the Winter Garden Cafe and entertained her there in the presence of his wife. She said she finally discontinued her visits there because of the embarrassment and humiliation which she suffered from seeing her husband there with Dot Matzon.

Mrs. Clark also testified that her husband had taken Miss Matzon to New York with him, where they had stayed for about three months, and that on their return to Los Angeles he had provided an apartment for Miss Matzon at a prominent hotel and that when she called the apartment by phone a woman's voice has answered: "This is Mrs. Clark speaking."

Howard Patrick, of the Winter Garden Cafe, testified that he had on one occasion sent Clark to New York to break up his infatuation for Miss Matzon and discharged the chorus girl in his absence.

On his return, Mrs. Clark declared, Clark paid the girl her back wages, saying that it was his fault she had lost her position.

She also testified that in February of this year she received a letter from Clark requesting her to drop proceedings here and to go to Reno to get a divorce, as it was necessary for him to get married right away.

AUTO THIEVES QUIETED

Yesterday was a comparative holiday for automobile thieves in Los Angeles, according to a report of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Only fourteen machines were reported missing. The cars stolen during the past twenty-four hours, with their license numbers, are as follows:

"WAIT AND SEE," SAYS ARGENTINE

Firpo Not Worried Over Title Fight; Challenger in Secret Workout

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Aug. 24.—Luis Angel Firpo has started training in secrecy.

In addition to the six rounds he boxed in public today at Atlanta Park, the dog-racing plant on the outskirts of the city, the Argentine began work in his cottage in Chelsea. Inside the house he has had rigged for him a 200-pound sandbag and a punching bag and upon these he lets loose his power.

The cottage workout took place this morning before breakfast instead of the customary road jaunt which has been abandoned until later in the training period. Horation Lavalle, director-general of training and bolsterer of morale, said that Firpo's legs were in excellent shape right now as a result of the training and fights he has had for the last two months. The sparring engagement this afternoon consisted of two rounds each with Natalio Angel Pera, Joe McCann, and Frank Koebele. Jeff Clark will join the training camp tomorrow.

All of Firpo's work during the next week and perhaps after that, Senor Lavalle said today, would be devoted to the development of the left-hand punch and the inside right.

Firpo is not at all bothered about the fight with Jack Dempsey in New York, September 14.

"Well," he says, "Jack Dempsey is the champion. I'm only the challenger, but we shall wait and see what happens."

Swim Records Fall in A.A.U. Championships

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Aug. 24. Two American records—the 100-yard back stroke for women and the 220-yard breast stroke for men—were established in the national swimming championships here today, it was announced by A. A. U. officials in charge of the contests.

The American records were set by Miss Sybil Bauer of Chicago, who clipped a fifth of a second off her own mark for the 100-yard back stroke, and Robert Skelton, also of Chicago, who bettered the old time for the 220-yard breast stroke by two seconds.

Miss Bauer's time today was 1:15 4-5. Skelton's time was 3:06 3-5.

Miss Ruth Thomas won the 220-yard breast stroke race in 3:50 3-5. It was said there was no record posted for the distance for a pool having only one turn, and that application for recognition of the performance as a world's record would be filed.

Miss Florence Moore, 13 year-old Indianapolis girl, won the contest one-mile swim for the senior championship from Miss Sybil Lytel of Leesburg, Ind., by a sprint in the final 100 yards after having been in the rear from the start. The time was 42:47 2-5.

Take That Back!

No foolin'. T. Higami is very much peeved at K. Nagano, his trainer. Hence, his vicious attack upon the other man. Higami seems to have such a powerful grip upon Nagano that the latter is unable to even ruffle up the latter's moustache. Higami is scheduled to meet Ad Santel in a mixed wrestling bout at the Lyceum Club gym on September 3. This marks the second meeting of the two mat gladiators, they having grappled to a draw recently at Calexico.

MILE-RUN MARK IS SHATTERED

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
STOCKHOLM (Sweden) August 24.—Unofficial records in the mile and 1500-meter events were set last night by Paavo Nurmi, celebrated Finnish runner, the time for the mile being 4m. 10 2-5s., and for the other events, 3m. 53s.

N. S. Tabor of America held the old mile record of 4m. 12 6-10s., and Zander of Sweden held the 1500-meter mark, 3m. 54 7-10s.

JAKIE MAY BAFFLES ANGELS

Vernon Southpaw Wins in a Walk; Tom Hughes is Treated Rough in Opening Innings

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

The paler and somewhat thinner of the two lost babes in the woods was able to bite off nourishment yesterday for the first time in more than a week. Meaning that Vernon, after dropping ten straight, invited almost certain heart failure, by defeating Los Angeles, 6 to 1.

No less a guy than Jakie May was required to revive the fluttering pulse of the patient, who for a long time has been hovering on the verge of the cellar. Thus that dull, sickening thud which has been impending, has at least been postponed.

Tom Hughes, who had saved the bacon on the day previous, was all wrong. Tom was whipped less than five minutes from the opening gong. By the end of the second, Vernon had amassed five runs and Tom was only a bitter memory.

Robertson then took hold and allowed but one run, and had he been started against May they might have gone into the dark deadlocked. Jakie was at his best, than which there isn't anything much better.

WALTERS AT THIRD

Johnny Walters, recalled from Minot, in the North Dakota League, sat in at third base for the Angels. Gordon G. Slade was at short for Vernon. One guess as to what that G. stands for back of Gordon. He was by no means slow.

Deacon Hood crawled out of bed yesterday morning with a lame ankle, turned around and crawled right back in again. Thus did it happen that Dixie Carroll disported himself in center.

George Alfy (Cupid) Putnam, secretary of the San Francisco club, simply can't stay away from Los Angeles. He is in again, and it is rumored that his household goods may follow him down. That's treason. One reason he enjoys it here, in addition to the climate and the cafeterias, is the fact that he can watch ball games without being torn asunder by his emotions. Mr. Putnam is a reasonably placid individual when witnessing ball games not involving his own team. Under these conditions he huddles in his chair and beams a benevolent neutrality which is restful to his associates; and pleasing to the eye. And neither does he engulf his own Adam's apple at regular intervals of five seconds, which makes him his own cafeteria. In short, when Putty is away fro mthe Seals it is possible to associate with him. Hen Berry found him right pleasant company, although it was a bit crowded when they both squeezed into a four-chair box. Hen and Alfy would look great on a tandem bicycle.

George (Rube) Ellis and Frank Dillon, a couple of amiable gentlemen who once played baseball, were out to diagnose the doings.

Hughes started guessing at the plate right away, and guessed wrong. The plate refused to play tag with his delivery. He passed Chadbourne and Rod Murphy singled infield. Four wide ones to H. Hercules Hyatt completely fogged up the situation, but there was a momentary rift for Tom when Bodie bumped to Walters for a double play, Chad being copped at the pan. This left a vacancy on the bases, but Hannah walked right into first on another batch of four.

BOBBY HARPER EASY VICTOR

Bobby Harper was too strong for Young McGovern and won as he pleased in the Hollywood head liner last night. Harper had a weight advantage over McGovern that he made good use of. McGovern ran second all the way, although he tried hard.

Harper took the advantage in the opening rounds by pummelling McGovern about the face and body with hard lefts. McGovern grew wild in the final rounds and made an dismal showing against the strudy Seattle scrapper.

Nick Virges of New Orleans was evidently tired before he started his fight with Frankie Dean, for he was continually looking for a place to flop. Nick found it in the opening round, but the bell saved him. In the second round Virges took no chances and fell early. The fans about the ring remarked that Nick was a good actor, or words to that effect.

Alex Maurice took the decision over Young Billy Ketchell after a sluggish slugging match. Ketchell appeared out on his feet in the second round, but managed to weather the storm. Both scrappers took turns staggering each other in the final stanza, but Maurice had enough of a lead at the end of the go to merit the verdict. Frankie Dolan rallied in the third and fourth rounds, after dropping the shade in the opening pair, and took the judges' verdict over Ted Levin.

Johnny Weber beat Bert Morgan in every round except the first, which was even, and easily ran off with the honors. The two men spent most of the time fighting at close quarters with Weber having the edge. Wayne Allen trimmied Willie Conroy in the second spot match. Eddie McAuliffe and Young Joe Coffey went four rounds to a draw in the curtain-raiser.

National Boy Net Champions Retain Title

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
BROOKLINE (Mass.) Aug. 24.—Malcolm T. Hill and H. L. Johnson of Waban, Mass., national boys' doubles champions in 1922, retained their title today by scoring a 6-1, 6-1, victory over Howard Langlie of Seattle, and Emmett Pare of Chicago in the final round of the national boys' doubles tournament here.

The superior steadiness of Johnson and Hill combined with their more aggressive attack carried them through four straight games in the first set before they lost on Pare's service.

All four players had difficulty in controling their services, double faults were numerous.

Johnson played a sound, studied game at the net and was ably supported by the consistent back court play of his partner. Langlie and Pare, both erred badly and frequently, piling up a heavy total of outs and nets.

Coast Pair Is Defeated for Junior Title

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
BROOKLINE (Mass.) Aug. 24.—George Lott of Chicago and Julius Saglowsky of Indianapolis won the national junior doubles tennis championship here today by defeating Edward G. Chandler of San Francisco and Edward Murphy of Portland, Or., 6-2, 8-6, 6-0, in the final match. The Pacific Coast pair were erratic, particularly in the first and third sets.

The match, nevertheless was productive of brilliant playing at times. Saglowsky's perfectly placed cross-court volleys and strong game off the ground in the opening set was a feature. Lott's hard paced forcing shots and smashing overhead was no less a factor and it was the Chicagoan's superior steadiness in the second set that accounted largely for the 8-6 victory.

Chandler was much the steadier of the Coast combination and frequently carried the attack to his opponents only to lose on errors.

DEMPSEY GETS GOOD BEATING

Jack Burke Has Better of Champ in Training

Locates Title Holder's Jaw With Solid Rights

Bout Gets Heavyweight King Quite Riled Up

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SARATOGA SPRINGS (N. Y.) Aug. 24.—Jack Burke, the hard-hitting pugilist light-heavyweight uncovered a weakness in Jack Dempsey's defense today which the world's heavyweight champion must correct before he faces Luis Angel Firpo in their fifteen-round contest at the Polo Grounds on September 14.

Burke, an accurate and stiff hitter, found Dempsey an easy target for right-hand blows, the most effective punch in Firpo's collection. He nailed the champion with solid smashes with such speed that Dempsey was fighting mad at the finish of their two slugging rounds.

In the first Burke reached Dempsey's face and jaw four straight times without a return. He also landed a one-two punch, following this up with lefts and rights that knocked the champion's headgear to rakish angles. Dempsey landed only one effective blow in the first round, but scored more frequently in the second, although observers agreed that Burke clearly had the better of the titleholder. Burke left the ring bleeding from the mouth and nose as a result of stopping left hooks.

HAS COLD

Although suffering from a slight cold, Dempsey braved the danger of increasing the complaint by working out before about 400 spectators, who paid a charge of $1.50 to see the champion in action.

The champion went through nine rounds of work before retiring to his cottage for a rub-down. He eliminated the bag punching and, instead, stepped through two rounds of shadow boxing to get warmed up for George Godfrey, who boxed the first round. Godfrey found it next to impossible to land an effective blow because of the furious pace Dempsey set. After the two slugging rounds with Burke, Terry Mitchell, a welterweight of Bayonne, N. J., faced the champion for the final boxing of the afternoon. Although Dempsey held his punches in restraint, Mitchell was groggy and staggering within sixty seconds but he stayed out the round.

Jack McAuliffe, the Detroit heavyweight, who helped condition Jess Willard for the latter's match with Firpo, is expected to join Dempsey's staff tomorrow. Farmer Lodge, a Minnesota heavyweight, also has been invited to join the circle.

Eternal vigilance with matches, tobacco and camp fires is the price of a successful hunting trip.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The New York Nationals defeated St. Louis in a fourteen-inning game here today, 5 to 4. Snyder opened the fourteenth for the Giants with a single and Shinners, who ran for him, reached third when Doak fumbled Ryan's sacrifice bunt and Bancroft walked. Frisch hit a single, scoring Shinners.

St. Louis ties the score with a spirited ninth inning rally when McQuillan knocked out of the box. Smith hit a home run and Hornsby a triple in this inning. The game then became a pitchers' battle between Doak and Ryan.

LUQUE BLANKS DODGERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BROOKLYN, Aug. 24.—Luque shut out the Dodgers with four scattered hits today and incidentally increased his record of strike-outs for the season to 128, two ahead of "Dizzy" Vance, who led the National League. Cincinnati won, 4 to 0, hitting Grimes timely in three innings. Johnston and Roush nearly came to blows in the eighth inning when the Brooklyn baseman charged the Red's captain with attempting to spike him.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SPEED IS PROMISED AT HARBOR

Motorboats to Compete for De Mille Gold Cup; Event Set for September 9

Two motorboats already are entered for the Cecil B. De Mille Gold Cup race to be run at Los Angeles harbor Sunday, September 9. The early comers are Frank A. and Frank E. Garbutt's Mystery and Cecil B. De Mille's new and fast speedster Defiance. This will be the latter's first appearance as a competitor. The 99-mile battle for the beautiful trophy is one of the main events of the season and fought out under the auspices of the California Yacht Club. The initial contest, last year, was won by Paden's Hurricane II, now Alvin H. Frank's Lucky Strike II, over a field of seven starters and was a dashing spectacle. The race is a free-for-all and more snappy craft are expected to get in. Real speed is looked for. The winner's average speed for the long run last season was 43.09 miles per hour.

HAS 'EM GUESSING

Mr. De Mille's Defiance has 'em all guessing and is likely to be the speed surprise of the season. She had been completed just in time for entry in the recent Pacific Motor Boat Cup race for the Coast championship but a week before the event capsized in rough water on a short turn, throwing her three occupants seventy-five feet and into the sea. One of these was B. A. Van Dusen, who cannot swim, and another was Frank E. Garbutt, a powerful figure in the water as he is on land. Mr. Garbutt swam to the side of Van Dusen and by sheer grit held him up a long time until help came from the Submarine Base. Garbutt, handicapped by heavy clothing and various machinist's tools in his pockets, saved Van Dusen's life though himself exhausted to the point of fainting when rescued.

It was afterward found that the Defiance's steering-gear broke, letting the rudder run wild, and this caused the mishap. Repairs have been made and the smart little craft is in tip-top shape and tuned to a T.

The De Mille Cup race is in three 33-mile heats over a 3-mile triangular course off the Los Angeles Athletic Club Yacht Harbor, Terminal Island, the start being at 11 a. m. The trophy is a magnificent $1000 creation of gold.

KEN PENNER DEFEATS PORTLAND SLUGGERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—Ken Penner was in rare form today, holding the Portland sluggers to three singles, one of them a fluke, enabling his Solon teammates to win from the Beavers by a score of 5-to-1, which puts Sacramento ahead on the series, three games to two. Piliette was hammered hard, and was also wild, the locals scoring three runs off him in the first inning. Schroeder went to the mound in the second and was touched for a pair of safe blows and a brace of runs. A wild pitch, allowing Poole to romp in from third in the fifth period, gave the invaders their only count. Score:

PRACTICE SHOOT AT VERNON TOMORROW

The Vernon Gun Club will hold a practice trapshooting event at its grounds tomorrow, it was announced last night by Secretary Bill Pugh.

One hundred targets at 16 yards will constitute the shoot with takehome trophies up for the high shooters. A fifty-target distance handicap will follow the century event. The day's shooting will give the gunners ample opportunity to get in some practice before the dove season opens, which is set for a week from today, September 1.

LITTLE LESSONS IN Big Sports

How can the follow-through be used in tennis?

Answered by MANUEL ALONSO

Famous Spanish player, easily the sensation of the 1923 tennis season. "Best European player today, possible world champion in 1924," says Tilden. Defeated Tilden in Illinois State championship match in July. Runner-up to Tilden in numerous 1923 matches, including national clay-court championship.

The follow-through is as important in tennis as in golf, and is especially vital in the backhand, though it is very important in making forehand drives, too. Billy Johnston, the greatest living exponent of the forehand drive, has an especially fine follow-through.

Of course one cannot change the course of the ball after it has left the racket, but it is the union of the follow-through with the first part of the stroke that makes the whole thing so certain and accurate. A beginner wants to stop his stroke suddenly after hitting the ball, when instead he should follow-through with his racquet as far as he can normally reach.

PANEGYRIC ON PANTALOONS

Pilferers Pluck Pants of Panurgic Pair After Which Plundered Put on Pantomime of Panic

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DELANO, Aug. 24.—The old argument about the singularity or plurality of pants has been revived by the experience of two local residents, who have come to the conclusion that pants are plural when men wear 'em, but it is singular when men don't wear 'em.

Panting but pantless, like Pan of Greek mythology, Ted Anderson and "Breeches" Walters emulated a Chaplin pantomime of matutinae panic for which they could find neither panacea nor pantagos. These gentlemen, who have been caring for the Hatfield property during the absence of the owner and his family, awoke in the morning to find that some peregrinating plunderer had plucked their pants while they lay snugly in the arms of Morpheus—the owners, not the pants.

PANDEMONIUM REIGNED

Pandemonium reigned. And why shouldn't it, for what is a man without pants? Panther-like, the panurgic pair pussyfooted from pantry to porch in quest of the plundered pantaloons. With pantoscopic optics they sought their nether pansers without which no panoply is complete.

The treasured trousers were retrieved from beneath the trees of the bankyard. But the durable dollars which had reposed in the pockets of the garments the night before were missing—finances faithfully hoarded for future frolics dear to the hearts of young men.

The adventures of the local youths recall the epidemic of pants larceny which occurred a few years ago in an eastern metropolis. During a long period of time pants of high and low estate were cruelly corralled by cursory crooks, night after night, until the male inhabitants who had any left were compelled to wear the garments to bed.

LAST STRAW

The frequent filching of personal property in and about Delano has aroused the community to the need of organized police protection; the theft of pants is looked upon as the last straw. New school facilities, enlarged water plant, improved fire-fighting equipment, progressive packing plants and booming business blocks are considered nil unless one's trousers are safe o'ernight. The City Marshall alone and unaided cannot protect al lthe pants in Delano, it is declared.

Merchants have banded together to hire a night watchman to guard the downtown district, but elsewhere robberies and petty thefts continue, according to residents who say that the amount lost last year in this way was sufficient to have kept an adequate police force paid.

Protect Our Pants! is the slogan suggested by prominent citizens who hope to work out ways and means for more adequate policing of the town.

Tony Rasich, residing in the Laguna district was before Judge Newmire on the charge of violating two provisions of the Wright Act, one being the act of having liquor in his possession and the other for having a still at his house. HIKER FROM EAST COAST GOING BACK

Wagers He Will Not Wear All of Marks Off Soles of New Shoes He Purchases

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, Aug. 24.—Truman Fowler, 19-year-old son of Dr. Henry Fowler, prominent dentist of New York City, and former head of the New York Dental Association, was en route today, minus a pocketbook, to his home in the metropolis following a two weeks' visit in Ontario with his uncle, H. M. Kennedy, member of the dry goods firm of A. R. Volk Co.

Young Fowler arrived in Ontario early in the month, having made the entire journey from the Atlantic seaboard to the Pacific Coast on foot or riding in automobiles as the guest of kindly motorists. The longest single ride the youthful traveler was given in the 3000-mile journey, covered a distance of 700 miles. The young New Yorker expects to make the return journey in much the same manner.

Before leaving he procured a new pair of walking boots. On the soles of these with an indelible pencil he made a lattice work design and so confident is he of his ability to secure "lifts" on the return trip that he laid a wager that a portion of the design at least would still be discernible when he reached New York.

Venice Street Paving Taking Immense Jump

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Aug. 24.—Twenty street jobs representing a total expenditure of more than $200,000 are now under way here, according to a report from I. J. White, Deputy City Engineer. Apart from the twenty street jobs there are six condemnation proceedings, including North and South Trolleyway, Leona, Rose, Penmar and Virginia avenues.

Reports reaching the office of the City Engineer are to the effect that petitions are in circulation for the paving of numerous other thoroughfares.

Paving projects are increasing with such rapidity that it has been necessary for the engineering department to engage a new force of surveyors to make the grades of the streets for which paving petitions are filed.

SUIT OVER OIL WELL

Santa Ana Man and Wife Ask $51,725 Damages

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Aug. 24.—W. J. Elliott and wife today filed suit in the Superior Court for $51,725 damages against J. T. Hurst, John Dalley and other unnamed defendants. They charge that an oil well that was being drilled upon their property at Huntington Beach has been abandoned and also an attempt had been made to wreck it.

The plaintiffs assert that the lease called for drilling to a depth of 3500 feet, but that Hurst ceased work when a depth of 2385 feet had been reached.

Elliott and his wife ask $25,000 for the asserted attempt to wreck the well; $16,725, the sum they say it will take to complete the drilling, and an additional $10,000 for asserted losses in lease rental and profits.

FINE PREFERRED TO LAWYER FEE

Parking Ordinance Violator After Demanding Jury Changes Mind

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, Aug. 24.—Five dollars fine was cheap compared with attorneys' fees.

Or at any rate such seems to have been the judgment of H. Markow of 1519 Mission street, who last week sprang into fame as the first person in the history of Los Angeles county jurisprudence to ask for a jury trial on a charge of violating a parking ordinance.

Seven days to think it over brought a change of heart—and a changed plea of guilty brought the request for a five-spot. The fact that Markow grinned as he handed it over, however, indicated to onlookers that what the lawyers wanted to charge him for his jury trial was much, much more.

Big Ones Taken on Light Tackle

Capt. W. O. Clover and Catch

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 24.—A twelve-foot Marlin swordfish weighing 247 pounds, and a 95-pound bluefin tuna, both caught with light tackle, were the prizes taken in one afternoon by Capt. W. O. Clover about twenty-five miles off Point Loma.

Clover said he hooked several tuna much larger than the one he finally landed, but that he was compelled to operate in a spot literally swarming with this gamey fish, and they broke his line time and again.

Swordfish are quite numerous in the waters between San Diego and San Clemente Island, Clover said, and sport fishermen are coming here in larger numbers each month to try their skill with Marlin.

Tuna are running better now than at any time this summer, according to Clover, who predicts some excellent sport during the next few weeks.

The famous Tuna Club of San Diego this year has established headquarters on San Clemente Island. The best catches of swordfish and tuna in southern waters to date have been in that vicinity.

BIRDS HALT STREET WORK

South Marengo Avenue Widening Held Up for Fear Songsters May Find Other Camping Grounds

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Aug. 24.—Pasadena is aroused over the proposal of widening South Marengo avenue. Four petitions calling for different plans have been presented to the city directors. Mass meetings have been held and last night a protective association was formed by the South Marengo property owners not with the idea of protecting property from the steam shovel, it was set forth, but with the intention of protecting the mocking birds.

Here's the situation.

If the city's plan of widening South Marengo avenue is carried out, a large number of pepper trees that line each side of the street will necessarily have to be removed. Mocking birds eat the pepper seeds. Should the trees be cut down the birds would be deprived of their food.

FIGHT FOR BIRDS

L. P. Pritchard, newly elected president of the protective association, waxed hot on the subject at last night's mass meeting. "Just think," he said, "of the mocking birds who feast upon the pepper seed. What would happen to them if they were deprived of their legitimate nourishment? No, by George, I'll fight for those birds and trees if it takes all my money and time."

Indignation was expressed at the meeting last night in no uncertain terms. A committee of minute men was appointed to offer the city directors resistance tomorrow morning when they take the matter up for decision. They are C. A. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Randall, Dr. S. A. Neilson, S. S. Vaugh, L. P. Pritchard, Mrs. Laura Vorhis and Fannie M. Kemp.

The residents of North Marengo are in favor of widening the avenue. They are all agreed that it shall be widened. Four petitions, signed mostly by property owners on the north end of the avenue, have been presented the city directors.

VARIED IDEAS

The first petition would have the avenue widened to sixty-eight feet. The second petition would have it ninety feet, the third seventy-eight feet, and the fourth calls for seventy-eight feet with equal portions to be taken from each side of the avenue.

Tomorrow morning the city directors will endeavor to come to a satisfactory solution of the problem. Meanwhile the plans for an eight-story office building to be erected by the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank on the corner of Marengo and Colorado streets have been called to a halt until it is determined exactly how wide the avenue will eventually be.

LAMANDA PARK CALM AGAIN

Discovers Mysterious Horseman Is Only Pasadena Night Cook Using Dobbin as Motive Power

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Aug. 24.—Excitement has been running high in Lamanda Park or East Pasadena, as it is now called. For the last few weeks residents in that section of the city have been wrought up over a mysterious horseman who appears in the dead of night, gallops down the center of town and disappears.

Exactly at 12:45 o'clock each night, residents declare, the mysterious rider appears. Always at the same hour and with perfect regularity are the hoofbeats heard clanking down Colorado street. Night after night people in that vicinity have been awakened by the horseman.

Years ago such an occurrence would have aroused little or no curiosity but now in the age of one-man street cars and the like, this mysterious rider not only caused considerable wonderment among the populace but little chills of fear are said to have raced up their backs.

So one night, as the story goes a few of the citizens banded together and decided to solve the mystery. Heavily armed the little band of watchers laid in wait for the midnight rider.

At 12:45 the rider appeared as per schedule and was duly stopped. "Say old man," asked one of the investigators, "it may be none of our business, but you've surely got us excited passing by here every night. What's it all about?"

The horseman emitted a hollow cackle and declared, "Ho! Ho! I'm only an assistant cook down at a Pasadena cafeteria. Not having a car I ride this old horse home every night. Ho! Ho! Ho!" He kicked his mount in the ribs and galloped off.

LOANS ON FRUIT PREDICTED

Raisins, Dried Peaches and Figs Likely to be Included in Federal Schedule of Farm Products

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Aug. 24.—Likelihood that raisins, dried peaches and dried figs will be included in the schedule of farm products on which loans can be made under the national Rural Credits Act was seen today in a communication received by W. D. Mitchell, president of the Valley Bank of Fresno, from Congressman H. E. Barbour.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars of government bank funds would thereby be made available in the form of loans for San Joaquin Valley farmers.

The communication from Barbour said he was in receipt of a communication from the Federal Farm Loan Board at Washington, stating that the Federal Farm Loan Bank at Berkeley is now preparing a report on raisins and dried fruits, and that on receipt of this report the board will consider the question of the inclusion of raisins and dried fruits among the agricultural products on which loans can be made.

The government's practice has operated to deprive the farmers of the San Joaquin Valley of the immense resources made available through the Rural Credits Act of 1923.

The Federal banks through which Mitchell and the dried fruit associations seek to bring capital into the valley are known as the immediate credit banks. These banks may lead to national banks, State banks, trust companies, agricultural credit corporations, live-stock loan companies, savings institutions, co-operative banks and to co-operateive credit or marketing associations of agricultural products. It thus makes the intermediate credit bank invaluable to growers of the San Joaquin Valley if its schedule of loan commodities can be changed to include dried fruits of the district handled through the associations. The schedule on which the intermediate credit banks may lend at present is restricted to grain, cotton, wool, tobacco, peanuts, broom corn, beans, rice, hay, nuts, canned fruits and vegetables.

Employees of Venice Remain, Mayor States

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Aug. 24.—That the resignations of practically every City department head sought by the Board of Trustees will be declined and only unimportant changes made was the prediction this morning by Mayor Gerety who asked for the resignations.

"As far as I know the changes will be few and comparatively unimportant," the Mayor declared. "Everybody is anxious to see something behind this move which is simply following the custom when a new administration is introduced."

What changes will be made Gerety declined to state.

WILLIAM G. HARRIS IS DEAD AT FRESNO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

He was 56 years of age, a native of Albion, Ill., where he resided until he came to Fresno twenty years ago. He was a cousin of State Senator M. B. Harris, E. M. Harris and Ronald Harris, all of Fresno, and leaves a widow and three brothers, who reside in Illinois. The funeral will be conducted Monday at the First Congregational Church.

CROWN CITY COUNCIL TO ACT ON ROAD

Lively Session Predicted Over Paving of Historic Highway

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SOUTH PASADENA, Aug. 24.—It is expected that a meeting of the City Council on Monday evening will find the hall jammed to the doors with residents in the vicinity of Monterey Road, or the old historic El Camino Real of the Franciscan padres, as it extends east of Fair Oaks avenue.

The Council is to discuss the question of paving the historic old road. The question has been a matter of discussion for nearly eight months and so far residents of the district and Council members have not been able to get together on the grade of paving to be installed. As it has been rumored that the Council may attempt "strong-arm" tactics to put its schedule across, a schedule said to be much higher than those concerned are willing to pay, all indications are that the meeting will be a lively one.

Growers Erect Crude Oil Tank for Grove Uses

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDLANDS, Aug. 24.—The Orangedale Protective Association, composed of orange growers in the neighborhood of the Nevada street packing-house, have just erected the largest oil tank now in use in the Redlands district. It will hold 90,000 gallons of crude oil such as is used in the heaters that are lighted in the groves in cold weather.

The tank is made of corrugated iron and so placed as to be as nearly as possible equidistant from all the growers. During the coming year the association will keep a man and motorcycle service ready for emergencies.

The members of the association have also combined to help build a large water pipe line to connect with the city mains and provide water for domestic use. The growers of that section have been using the irrigation water for domestic use partly and some of them have had pumps.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 24. — Plans have been almost perfected for photographing the total eclipse of the sun here on September 10, and one of the spectacular events in connection therewith will be the operations of naval planes at altitudes up to 20,000 feet. As passengers and observers in the planes will be naval photographers and eminent scientists.

Lieut. B. H. Wyatt, with Chief Aerologist M. R. Lawing and Prof. S. A. Mitchell of the University of Virginia, is in charge of plans for taking pictures which, it is hoped, will be advantageous to science.

USE SPECIAL CAMERAS

"We do not know what the results will be," said Lieut. Wyatt tonight, "but those participating will use all possible means to take pictures of the sun and its shadow.

"Eight or ten airplanes will cover points of interest over land and sea to get pictures. The photographers will use special cameras. One of the cameras arrived here a few days ago from Washington. It cost $2400.

"We understand that scientists from all over the world are waiting with interest the outcome of our plans. Never before has anyone ever attempted to take pictures of the shadow of a sun's total eclipse."

Another feature of the eclipse observation here will be the presence of the only nonmagnetic ship in the world. It is the Carnegie, which travels over the waters of the globe in the study of magnetic currents, and is operated under the direction of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, D. C.

STUDY VARIATIONS

Scientists on the Carnegie will study variations of a compass needle during the eclipse. The Carnegie is equipped with elaborate electrical and magnetic instruments for the measurement of magnetic lines and their deviations.

Commander J. P. Ault, who commands the ship and directs the scientific research, will be in charge of observations here. He will be assisted by Prof. O. W. Baird, professor of physics; W. T. Skilling, instructor in astronomy; George R. Livingston, mathematics, and M. W. Cummings, engineering, all of San Diego State College.

HUGO CLASSIC AGAIN

RALPH LEWIS AS JEAN VALJEAN IN "LES MISERABLES"

By Grace Kingsley

That Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" will again be filmed, this time with Ralph Lewis in the role of Jean Valjean, was the announcement given out by Finis Fox, head of Finis Fox productions, just before he went back to New York this week.

Negotiations are on with Robertson-Cole to induce the latter company to loan Lewis for the part to Fox, who is to make the latest screen version.

The role of Cosette will be essayed by Gloria Grey, Fox's new find in the way of leading ladies, and who has been playing the feminine leads in his latest pictures. Miss Grey is but 18 years old.

Finis Fox expects to make "Les Miserables" in France, or at least certain portions of it, including many exteriors.

"Les Miserables" has been filmed twice before, first by a French company, afterward by William Fox with William Farnum. So great faith has Finis Fox in Lewis as an ideal Jean Valjean that he is contemplating paying him a very large salary to play the role.

Leah Baird's mother Passes

Great sorrow marked the recent tour of Leah Baird in the East. During a visit of Miss Baird's mother with the star in Chicago the elder woman was found dead one afternoon in the actress's apartment.

Miss Baird had bidden her mother good-by to go out and do some shopping. When she returned she found her mother had passed away. Apparently death came to the star's mother while she lay asleep on a divan.

Miss Baird has been touring the East making personal appearances at picture theaters during the past several months. She expects to return to Los Angeles to resume picture making about the first of November.

Theda Bara and Brabin in East

Theda Bara and her husband, Charles Brabin, Goldwyn director, are now in New York, where they arrived a day or two ago. They are looking over the New York shows and clothes.

Christine Mayo with Spitzer

Christine Mayo at last has the dream of her life fulfilled. She has been chosen to play character leads in Nat Spitzer's series of mystery pictures. The first one, called "The Mystery of the Tower," has just been completed at Universal City under direction of Grover Jones. This will be previewed at the Screen Writers' Club next Thursday night. It is said to be the last word in hair-raising mystery.

"I've been wanting to play real characters for a long time," said Miss Mayo, "but they've been keeping me in vampire roles."

Patsy Ruth Miller's kid brother, Winston Miller, is making his picture debut in this feature and is said to be a find.

Jack Osterman in Films.

If things don't go amiss Jack Osterman is going to be a member of the film colony ere long. Larry Semon, an old friend of the Osterman family, is taking an interest in Osterman's film career and has been giving him some film tests, which reveal Osterman a potential film idol.

Betty Compson Comes Home

Betty Compson, who has been appearing in English-made pictures produced in London, is due back in this country early in September, leaving England on the Olympic on August 29. Miss Compson made two pictures while abroad.

McCormicks to Travel

Looking forward to a trip to old Ireland is the natural anticipation of John McCormick and his lovely young bride, Colleen Moore. The pair expect to make the trip in November. And they intend to look up all their relatives, let the chips fall where they may.

'Twas Only a Cat

It now turns out that after poor innocent cat. The cat be-all, poor Ruby Miller's burglar that she [illegible] was only a longed to Arline Pretty, who was taking the [illegible] creature for an airing on the roof, when it fell through the air shaft at the Hill View Apartments, where the two young actresses reside, hitting the roof over Miss Miller's apartment and clawing so energetically that some of the plastering fell down from the ceiling.

Miss Miller's burglar remained intact until she and Miss Pretty began comparing notes, when it was decided that a little yellow kitten was responsible for all the excitement.

Pete Morrison Star

Riding to fame as camouflage for somebody else is a rather bumpy road to celluloid success, but Pete Morrison has done it. The facts came to light with the news that he is to be starred by Universal in the spectacular new photoplay, "The Ghost City," a thrilling tale of the old West, [illegible] by Jan Marchant from the story by Paul Bryan.

Morrison entered pictures a raw-boned, hard-riding youth just off his father's ranch in Colorado, to double for stars in their stunts. He rode in dangerous scenes for practically every star in picturedom—and then the directors found that he could act as well as ride. As a matter of fact, he had done a season in stock after leaving the Denver High School, but he didn't think to mention it at the time.

"They cast him for a part in "Keith of the Border," and his success was instantaneous. Then Carl Laemmle's scouts, ever seeking new stars, found him, and he was cast in "Lonesome Luck." The result was stardom. When the directors at Universal City decided to produce "The Ghost City" Morrison, daring rider and clever actor, was held the only man for the part.

The new play is laid around an old deserted city in Mexico, rendezvous of outlaws and fugitives from the law. In this exotic setting the big story, replete with thrills, romance and spectacular action, will be laid. Morrison will ride Mexican plains and the high Sierras, starring for himself this time instead of for others.

Hal Cooley Heard From

From no less an authority than himself comes word that that rising young leading man, Hallam Cooley, is playing the "light comedy villain" in "There He Goes," a Universal Jewel starring Reginald Denny and directed by Harry Pollard.

The cast includes besides those named Laura La Plante and Leo White. The story is by Byron Morgan.

"We are staging our own automobile race around the Seventeen-mile Drive," writes the irrepressible Cooley, with perhaps the Rittiest audience ever gathered to watch the actors do their stuff. The plutocrats even watch us gulp down our milk and sandwiches at noon. I am glad the company doesn't serve peas in our lunches, as they would almost surely slip off our knives and the reputation of Hollywood would indeed be ruined."

Tibbet Is Hit of Program at Bowl Concert

An all Wagner program was given last night at the Bowl, with Laurence Tibbet, baritone, as soloist. Mr. Tibbet sang the aria, "Wotan's Farewell" from the Valkyries, and in this he showed himself again to be a singer of splendid ability. His voice is rich and mellow in its quality. "The Ride of the Valkyries" followed his number.

The program opened with the "Bridal Chorus" and "Prelude" from "Lohengrin." Then followed the beautiful "To the Evening Star," and the "Overture from Tannhauser." These numbers are among the best loved of all Wagnerian operatic music, and they were well played. The "Forest Murmurs" from "Siegfried" also found a place on the program. The colored lights playing on the smoke screen and hills back of the stage was a feature for the last two numbers. The program was given for the newspaper men of Los Angeles.

Musical history was made Thursday evening at the Bowl, when Ossip Gabrilowitsch, world famous pianist, played the "Concertstuecke in F Minor" by Weber, with Emil Oberhoffer, equally famous conductor, handling the baton. The crowd listened breathlessly through the number, and when the last note had faded great applause and cries of "Bravo" showed that the throng appreciated the fact that something exceptional had been offered them.

Mr. Gabrilowitsch played with an easy mastery that one hears but seldom. Scintillant cadenzas dropped from his fingers, and his trills came out with extraordinary clarity.

"RED LIGHTS" COMING

The attraction to follow "The Spoilers" at the California Theater will be Clarence Badger's production of "Red Lights." This is the film version of "The Rear Car," which critics are calling "the greatest mystery melodrama of the year."

Trainload of Stars Leaves for Oakland

Three cars of cinema stars left for Oakland yesterday, where they will attend the opening tonight of the new William Fox Theater in that city.

Among the players who made the trip are Tom Mix, Claire Windsor, Bessie Love, Carmel Meyers, Lew Cody, Patsy Ruth Miller, Conrad Nagel, Mae Busch, Ruth Clifford, Jackie Saunders, Creighton Hale, Dorothy Wallace, Kay Riddell, Eileen Sedgwick, Edmund Lowe, Margaret Clayton, Larry Semon, Jock Osterman, Lillyan Tashman, Marian De Beck, and Jack Stebbins.

Julius Bernheim, general manager of Universal City, will motor to Oakland from Monterey, with a party. Ben Jackson, James Ryan, Joseph Pincus, and David Solomon, local Fox officials, also made the trip.

The return trip will start tomorrow night, the party arriving here early Monday morning.

NEW ROLE FOR HER

Marjorie Rambeau Makes a Hit in New Comedy

Once more has the brilliant star, Marjorie Rambeau, come to Los Angeles and taken the city by storm. This time Miss Rambeau is presenting another side of her versatile talent, for her present offering, "The Goldfish," supplies her with a comedy role totally different from anything she has yet been seen in here.

The play, adapted from the French by Gladys Unger, fairly scintillates with sparkling lines. Miss Rambeau's impersonation of Jenny Jones, Genevieve Grauss and Glinivere Powers, all being one and the same lady, on the road from a department store basement to a Park-avenue mansion, is delightful.

Producer Wilkes has surrounded the star with a cast entirely competent, and the production is entirely worthy of the actress.

Word has been received from Mr. Wilkes, who is at present in New York that he has succeeded in securing the consent of A. H. Woods for Miss Rambeau to continue her engagement at the Majestic for a longer period than the two weeks as originally announced.

Now, "Hollywood" was made in Hollywood. Meighan was working in New York at the time. Yet it seemed imperative to all concerned that the popular star should be among the fifty luminaries to appear in this film. So a replica of the Los Angeles Southern Pacific Station was made in the Paramount (Long Island) studio and Mr. Meighan and others in this sequence enacted their bit which adds greatly to the interest of "Hollywood."

FIGHT AND COLLAPSE OF BUILDING THRILLS

A hand-to-hand fight on the top of a partially completed skyscraper and the total collapse of the building are two of the thrilling scenes in "Daytime Wives" which comes to Grauman's Third-street Theater, Monday.

During these scenes Edward Hearn was painfully injured. It was up to him to jump from the building in his escape from the cave-in, to grasp a cable and slide four stories to the street. It all happened, according to schedule, but during the slide, Hearn severely lacerated his hands and legs.

"Daytime Wives" is a society drama and the cast includes Wyndham Standing, Grace Darmond, Dorothy Perdue, Kenneth Gibson and Katharine Lewis.

Condition Figures Run From 56 to 60 Per Cent

Weather and Dry Goods Market Have Marked Effect

Oil-Burning Ships Increase; Business News

Attention in the cotton market yesterday was divided between the conflicting ideas of the weather situation, and the reports of the quickened tone in the dry-goods market. Private estimates of the crop as of August 25 range from under 11,500,000 bales to 10,800,000 bales, with condition figures running between 56.4 to 60.

At 56.4 the condition forecast by the National Ginners' Association, a final crop of 11,016,000 bales is indicated, which is regarded as distinctly bullish for cotton prices. Adding the small carry-over to the crop, it is estimated that the total available supply will amount to only 12,500,000, which will hardly take care of estimated consumption.

A private report issued by a leading trading house coincided with the National Ginners' figure on the condition of 56.4, but the yield is placed at 11,288,000 bales. Another report estimated the condition at 57.6 and an indicated yield of 10,800,000 bales.

With bullish crop figures to speculate on, the cotton professionals adopted a wary attitude because of the possibility of further rains in the Texas dry areas, although the opinion is growing that the damage is irreparable in a large part of the territory under the spell of the drought. The cotton trade is still somewhat hazy on the exact amount of Texas visited by the recent showers, and the improvement accomplished.

Yesterday's market was enlivened for a time by the news of the big business being transacted in cotton goods at Fall River and Manchester. Sales for the week at Fall River were reported to be running over 200,000 pieces, a development possessing considerable encouragement for cotton bulls, who are worried over the attitude of the buyers on rising cotton prices. The animation in the dry-goods trade was believed to be caused by reports that cotton mills will name new and higher prices after Labor Day.

OIL BURNERS

Potential business of some magnitude in the sale of fuel oil is visualized by petroleum companies as the strikers in the coal industry become more obnoxious to industrial consumers of thousands of tons of coal. The movement is manifested in the present conversion of several important steamships from coal to oil burners, contracts of this kind having been signed with considerable regularity in the past few months.

The White Star liner "Homeric," the third largest vessel in the White Star fleet, is to be equipped with oil burners, according to an eastern dispatch announcing the closing of a contract with a Belfast shipping company. The Canadian Pacific has placed a contract for the installation of oil burners in the Empress of Canada, the work to be done in the Seattle plant of the Tod Shipyards Co., Inc.

Other lines, including the Peninsular and Oriental Company, and the New Zealand Steamship Company, intend to equip new vessels with oil burning machinery, and the Canadian Pacific is converting many of its older ships. The S. S. Corsair, owned by J. P. Morgan, is said to be undergoing conversion at Brooklyn.

TRADING IN PAPER

Advantages of an organized market have been grasped by dealers in paper through the formation of a trading exchange in Chicago, where buyers and sellers in the paper industries are meeting to transact business. The new exchange is described by John R. Mauff, executive vice-president, who is on leave from the Chicago Board of Trade, as an organization that will eliminate waste in the paper industries and permit greater public service. It is the first industrial exchange in the country.

The exchange provides a trading place for members, promotes uniformity of trade customs, provides expeditious settlement of trade disputes on principles of justice, promotes co-operation between producers and buyers in standardization of products, and provides an efficient method of inspection.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

General Electric directors are reported by Dow, Jones & Co. as stating that forward orders for the first quarter totaled $30,000,000 and $34,000,000 for the second quarter of the year. Bookings have fallen off since June 1, but the directors are not anticipating a slump, and believe that business for the remainder of the year should be maintained without recessions. Unfilled orders are approximately $96,000,000 against $76,000,000 at the close of 1922 and $45,000,000 for December 31, 1921. The peak of this year's business was in April and May.

MAIL ORDER PRICES

Prices quoted in the new Montgomery-Ward catalog, effective September 1, are in some cases 15 per cent higher over the spring list, according to wire reports to brokers yesterday.

BUILDING BONDS

The California Company is offering $225,000 Howard-Buick Building first mortgage 7 per cent bonds due serially from February 1, 1925, to February 1, 1934, at 100 and interest, to yield 7 per cent. The bonds are secured by a leasehold on Figueroa street property and buildings to be erected thereon for the Howard Automobile Company, Buick distributors. The buildings have been leased for a period of ten years from the date of completion to cover the life of the bond issue.

LEGAL INVESTMENT

Stephens & Co. have been advised by the superintendent of banks that $425,000 Central California Orchard Company first mortgage serial 7 per cent gold bonds have been approved as legal investment for California savings banks.

NEW BOOKLET

Containing several miniature etchings of California's valleys in which irrigation projects operate, and interesting data on the progress of irrigation in the State, the booklet entitled "Irrigation Bonds as an Investment," is meeting with considerable attention from bond buyers. The booklet is published by Council, Mosler & Co., investment bankers of San Francisco and Los Angeles.

DAILY TRADE TALK

California Trade Prospects Bright; Problem of the Mines; Industry in Strong Position

Trade prospects on the Pacific Coast, and especially in Southern California are looked upon by those contacting the various departments of activity as being very bright for the fall and early winter.

While there has been some mid-summer dullness it has been localized. There is little complaint of credit conditions. There has been an influx of workers to both Los Angeles and San Francisco as a result of newly established industries, and this has had a tendency to stimulate retail business where it is found consumers are spending more money than ever before.

A canvass of department stores made by the Federal Reserve Bank in the principal cities of the district shows that the monthly volume of sales average 26 per cent above the monthly average in 1919. Production of manufactured goods also continues far above normal and there can be no doubt that, in some instances, goods are being made faster than they can be consumed.

The important consideration is the amount of goods which jobbers, dealers and retailers are carrying. Large stocks of undistributed commodities have caused price recessions in more than one case recently, and retail merchants are evincing a caution which may result in smaller fall inventories, although buying for the holiday trade appears to be on a bigger scale than ever, at least so far as the local situation is concerned.

Crops are in good condition and the weather is favorable for harvesting. Fruit and farm products are moving well, although at prices slightly under those of last year, but with the increase in volume the purchasing power of the crops is expected to be above that of a year ago.

Building continues on a scale above that of last year. Conditions in the construction industry are expected to be good for at least some months to come, as there is much to be done in the way of making adequate provision for the large number of new industries which are settling in California. The State has averaged ten new industrial establishments a day since the first of the year, and the growing trend of industries is a growing source of trade prosperity.

Orders, production and shipments of lumber are all highly satisfactory, and while they show a slight decline from the peak of a few months ago, they are considerably higher than they were during the same period of 1922.

In spite of curtailment, oil production continues enormous, and the situation in this respect continues to be complicated and disturbing.

DISTURBING ELEMENT

While Southern California is far removed from the area immediately concerned with the possibilities of a coal miners' strike, so great an economic disturbance is bound to have its reaction here, just as the problems of the wheat farmers ultimately reflect the prosperity of the country at large.

There is great confidence expressed here in President Coolidge's ability to handle the situation based largely upon his record in the Boston police strike. It is becoming apparent that he proposes to proceed along similar lines in the impending crisis, that is, to allow officials to exhaust the means within their powers before exercising his own prerogatives.

It is the opinion of a New York observer that the miners are actually working for nationalization. Arbitration, it is pointed out, might settle the differences but would not force government operation. By standing off and waiting for the crisis to reach a head, President Lewis is playing a subtle game, which may, conceivably, put the mines under government operation, although it remains to be seen whether the public will stand for another era of government control. Apparently the mine unions are anxious to have a showdown on this question.

IN STRONG POSITION

In cash inventories and working capital American industry was never in a stronger position than it is today.

Annual reports made by 141 representative companies show a combined working capital as of December 31, 1922, of $4,441,778,566, against $1,935,783,984 on December 31, 1914, a gain of $2,505,989,582.

Inventories of these companies totaled $2,620,925,133 against $2,654,094,870 on December 31, 1921; $3,655,203,299, December 31, 1920, and $1,220,343,337, December 31, 1914. Cash investment holdings December 31 were $1,678,935,338, equal to nearly 40 per cent of the working capital on the same date.

Capital liabilities have increased since December 31, 1914, $2,485,987,817, not including stock dividends, while the 141 corporations under consideration showed a combined surplus after all charges, including dividends, of $3,969,421,945.

The great liquid wealth of many companies is reflected in the fact that United States Steel at the close of last year had on hand $316,632,205 cash and investment securities; American Telephone and Telegraph, $119,680,314; General Electric, $85,341,538; Armour & Co., $151,374,749; Baldwin Locomotive, $23,238,814;; Eastman Kodak, $42,803,115; General Motors, $27,906,291; Pullman, $36,601,342; Standard Oil of California, $26,580,225; Standard Oil of Indiana, $27,197,694; Standard Oil of New York, $47,945,276; United Fruit, $28,895,420; Vacuum Oil, $52,028,051.

SUMMING UP

Leo V. Belden, vice-president, Bank of Italy, returned yesterday from a month's trip to New York and other eastern financial centers. As a result of his first-hand observations he is optimistic concerning the business outlook.

A composite view of his conclusion, given to Trade Talk, is that business will remain good for at least the balance of the year; money should remain at about present levels for some time; the stock market is thoroughly liquidated and does not react to bad news, it should, in fact, do better on any constructive news; the worst has been discounted in the oil situation; the bond market is showing signs of life; retailers report better distribution and considerable activity is looked for this fall, with prices remaining at about present levels. Wall street and business men generally view Coolidge with favor. The European situation looks gloomy and even the best informed would not hazard a guess on the outcome.

HEAVY RAIL BUYING

Estimates are being made of the amount of money that will be spent on railroad supplies next year. Nearly every carrier in the United States is known to have extensive improvement plans in mind, some for increasing equipment and others for improving road and terminal facilities. Taking the volume of new-rail buying already contracted for as a guide, it is practically certain that a heavy sum will be spent in 1924. Orders totaling 550,000 tons of rail have been placed, costing at the prevailing market $15,050,000. It is predicted twice that volume will be arranged for before the end of the year for delivery next year. In that case the total expenditure will probably exceed $45,000,000.

GOVERNMENT FINANCING

Local investment bankers are interested in the forthcoming long-term bond financing by the government, although Secretary Mellon said yesterday that no decision had been reached regarding the details. The Secretary said that, even though there should be a strike of anthracite miners, he did not believe it would materially affect business, pointing out that anthracite is used mostly in households. It is said that the Secretary will renew his recommendations to Congress for a reduction in surtaxes, and he is reported to be still opposed to soldier-bonus legislation.

LACK OF UNIFORMITY IN TRADE REPORTS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"There is still a conspicuous lack of uniformity to reports from commercial centers, but more definite indications of enlarging business are noted in some quarters. With the advance toward autumn, increasing interest in prospective future requirements is being shown in definite channels and there is expectation of a more general revival of activity after the present seasonal restrains have been removed. Where actual gain in buying has developed, as in some divisions of the textile trade, prices are firmer and the excess of declines in Dun's list of wholesale quotations has narrowed appreciably during recent weeks. Changes in working hours are becoming a factor in the price movement in the steel industry, tending to steady some markets, and the rise in prices of grain has been further extended.

"Weekly bank clearings $5,696,618,606."

INQUIRY FOR WOOL SHOWS DECREASE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

"The demand for wool has been restricted again this week, so far as the volume of business accomplished is concerned, although some interest has been shown in almost every grade of wool and not all sales have been made without profit or at a loss. It must still be conceded, however, that the present is a buyer's market. Rather better conditions as to stocks and credits are reported from the goods market, although lightweight clothing except in women's wear, have met with a rather cold reception.

"Mohair is slow and the trade is decidedly at sea as to what the new fall clip will be worth.

"The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations tomorrow:

"Scoured basis: California northern 1.28@1.30; middle county 1.15; southern 1.00@1.06.

COTTON RISES ON BULLISH CROP REPORTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The local cotton market opened strong today on private bullish crop estimates and better trade reports. Liverpool came better than due and in the first hour local shorts rushed to cover, prices mounting for gains of 34 to 46 points after opening 17 to 35 higher. October in which covering was heaviest was up 4 points maximum.

In the afternoon an easier tone prevailed, the market sagging off under profit-taking by early buyers. This carried prices to slightly under the opening figures, and in final trading the list rallied again, closing 22 to 27 points net higher and 5 to 11 above the low.

The local market for spot cotton was steady, 20 points advance, 25.45 for middling upland.

Southern spot markets were: Galveston 24.65, 15 points advance; New Orleans 24.25, unchanged; Norfolk 24.50, 25 points advance; Augusta 25.13, 13 points advance; Memphis 25.40, unchanged; Houston 24.45, 24 points advance; Little Rock 24.50, unchanged.

INHERITANCE TAXATION

History of a Movement Which Has Become a Permanent Institution in Nearly Every Civilized Country; What It Is and How It Works

[This is the second article of a series upon the subject of "Estate and Inheritance Taxation," by James P. Mackel, manager legal department, Lewin & Baker, Inc.—Editor.]

Inheritance taxation has been one of the sources of revenue for the support of governments from most ancient times. There is evidence of some sort of an inheritance tax in Egypt as far back as 4554 B.C.

Such taxation now exists in almost every civilized country in the world, including the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Sweden and Belgium. Peculiarly, taxation of this sort is most highly developed in Australia.

In the United States, the taxing of inheritances by the various States is a comparatively new method of raising revenue. Practically all of the State inheritance tax laws have been enacted since the war. The Federal government, however, has always reserved such taxation for the purpose of raising revenue to defray the expenses of war. George Washington used it in the form of a stamp tax; Lincoln used it, and McKinley during the war with Spain raised about $15,000,000 by means of it.

The Federal estate tax now in effect and the inheritance tax laws of the various States at present in force seem to be of a permanent character and the taxes collected under them will, in the future, form one of the chief sources of revenue to the Federal and State governments. At the present time these taxes yield about $200,000,000 annually to the treasuries of the Federal and various State governments.

The right to transmit property by death and the right to inherit property from the dead was not recognized by the common law as a natural right. The origin of such rights is purely statutory. These rights or privileges having been granted by the State by special enactment, a charge is levied upon the exercise of them. This charge is the inheritance tax. Differently stated, the theory of inheritance taxation seems to be that a man cannot take with him into the world beyond, the possessions which he has acquired here. When he dies these possessions become the property of the State or of such persons (and upon such conditions) as the law may direct.

CONSTITUTIONALITY

Since inheritance taxation has become general throughout the United States there has been considerable controversy as to its constitutionality. In practically every instance where this question has arisen the constitutionality of the enactment has been upheld by the courts. First impression seems to indicate to the average person that this system of taxation violates the few principles of taxation with which he is familiar.

At the outset it should be stated that these taxes are not taxes upon property, but are in the nature of an excise or impost upon the right or privilege of transmitting property at death or of succeeding to it from the dead.

The United States Supreme Court has said: "The right of the United States to impose such taxes rests upon its power to levy excise duties and imposts." The Supreme Court of California in the estate of Willdenming, reported in 117 Cal. 281, stated as follows: "The tax thus imposed is in the nature of an excise tax upon the right of succession. The right of inheritance, including the designation of heirs and property which the several heirs shall receive as well as the right of testamentary disposition are entirely matters of statutory enactment and within the control of the Legislature."

The tax could not constitutionally be levied upon the property; such a tax would violate the universal constitutional requirements that taxation shall be equal in its burdens and uniform in its application. No just inheritance tax could be imposed that did not make exemptions to the widow and orphan, or that taxed their patrimony equally with the succession of distant relatives and strangers. While these considerations are applicable to the taxation of inheritances they are fundamentally obnoxious to the principles of ordinary taxation.

INTERCOAST SERVICE TO START SOON

United American Lines Will Operate on Weekly Sailing Schedule

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—The United American Lines announce that their intercoastal service will be started with the Steamship Sudbury, scheduled from Baltimore September 8, from New York September 13. Jointly with Holder, Weir and Boyd, Inc., they will enter twelve to fourteen modern steamers in a weekly service between Baltimore and New York and Los Angeles Harbor, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and Tacoma.

Among the steamers to be so employed are the United American Line Mount Carroll and Mount Clinton, well known in the trans-Atlantic passenger trade, which are being converted into cargo carriers with cabin accommodations for a few passengers. Other steamers, most of which are already familiar to the trade are the Mystic and Ipswich of United American Line; the Peter Kerr and Eastern Knight, owned by the Columbia Pacific Shipping Company; the Pomona and Hanley, owned by the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company, and the Vinita, recently purchased by Sudden and Christenson, Inc.

These ships and others to be selected from a reserve of tonnage ample to make up the weekly schedule, will average over 10,000 tons in deadweight lifting capacity.

The United American Lines have taken over the branch offices in Pittsburg and Buffalo heretofore maintained by Houlder, Weir & Boyd. Effective August 27 Messrs. C. H. Sprague and Son will act as agents for the United American Lines at Boston, and Messrs. Trusdal, Plant and Lafonta will act as agents at Philadelphia, succeeding the American Hawaiian Steamship Company as United American Lines representatives at those ports. The United American Lines maintain branch offices at Baltimore and Chicago.

No decision has yet been reached by the United American Lines as to joining the Intercoastal Conference, but it was stated that the company has no intention to disturb the situation and fully anticipates working in harmony with the other lines now engaged in this trade.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—There was a strong market for California Valencia oranges today and price advances were scored on some lines. Sales totaled fourteen cars of Valencia lates at $2 to $6.25 per box.

California lemons were weak and lower, one car being sold at $6 to $7.50 per box. California grapefruit remained steady at $1.35 to $2.35.

DRIED FRUITS

One prominent independent packer entered the market with new crop California dried peaches, offering at ¼ cent per pound under the association opening on standard, choice and extra choice. On other grades the packers were quoting the same as the association.

Demand is light for dried peaches and the trade is hanging back awaiting developments. If a price war starts between the independents and the association the trade is expected to play a waiting game. Apricot buyers who bought at what they thought was the low, new face a loss and are not willing to book any additional orders.

CANNED FOODS

There was no further developments in the canned tuna situation on white meat, but as buyers have operated cautiously in booking they feel confident of a successful marketing of their early purchases at prevailing prices.

COFFEE

The coffee futures recovered more than half the losses of the day before, while in the spot months practically all the loses taken Thursday were wiped out before the end of the trading. The spot offers for Rio 7's remained on a basis of 10½ cents. Sales were 26,000 bags, including switches from September to December at a spread of 90 points and from September to March at a net difference of 12 points.

SUGAR

The improvement of the sugar market seemed to portend developments of a favorable character. It developed that 11,000 bags of Cubas had been purchased after the closing of the exchange Thursday at a price of 4 1-8 cents cost and freight, or 5.90 delivered. These were for August and first half of September shipment and with their removal there remained but 20,000 bags of Porto Ricos in prompt positions for which the holders were quoting 4 3-16 cents or 5.96 cents delivered.

The position of refined is threatened by beet sugar which is being offered at a price near 7.30 cents a pound.

The general trend of the futures was toward firmer quotations. September contracts sold up to 3.97 cents in the forenoon and the price continued upward in the afternoon, when it reached the best levels of the day. September reached 4.09 cents, December 4.10 cents; March 3.60 cents; May 3.68 cents. The list was up 6 to 15 points at the close.

TIN

The upward movement in tin came to an end today and a reaction set in. Straits in this market dropped 1-4 cent a pound while the declines in London ranged £1, 2s 6d to £1, 5s. Practically all deliveries and positions of straits and straits shipments in the domestic market closed at from 39 3-4 cents to 40 cents a pound. London spot standard closed at £189, 15s; futures standard £190, 17s 6d; straits £193, 10s.

LEAD

More inquiries for lead have come into the market and in some quarters a further revival is anticipated in the near future. Prices were unchanged at 6.50 cents for the association and 6.75 cents New York for independents. The St. Louis price is still 6.45 cents. The London spot and futures were unchanged at £24, 7s 6d.

ZINC

Zinc is 6.50 cents a pound St. Louis and with the reaction abroad shows signs of uneasiness again. London spot declined further, closing at £32, 7s 6d, while futures reacted to £32, 10s.

COPPER

The copper market is quoted at from 14 to 14 1-8 cents a pound

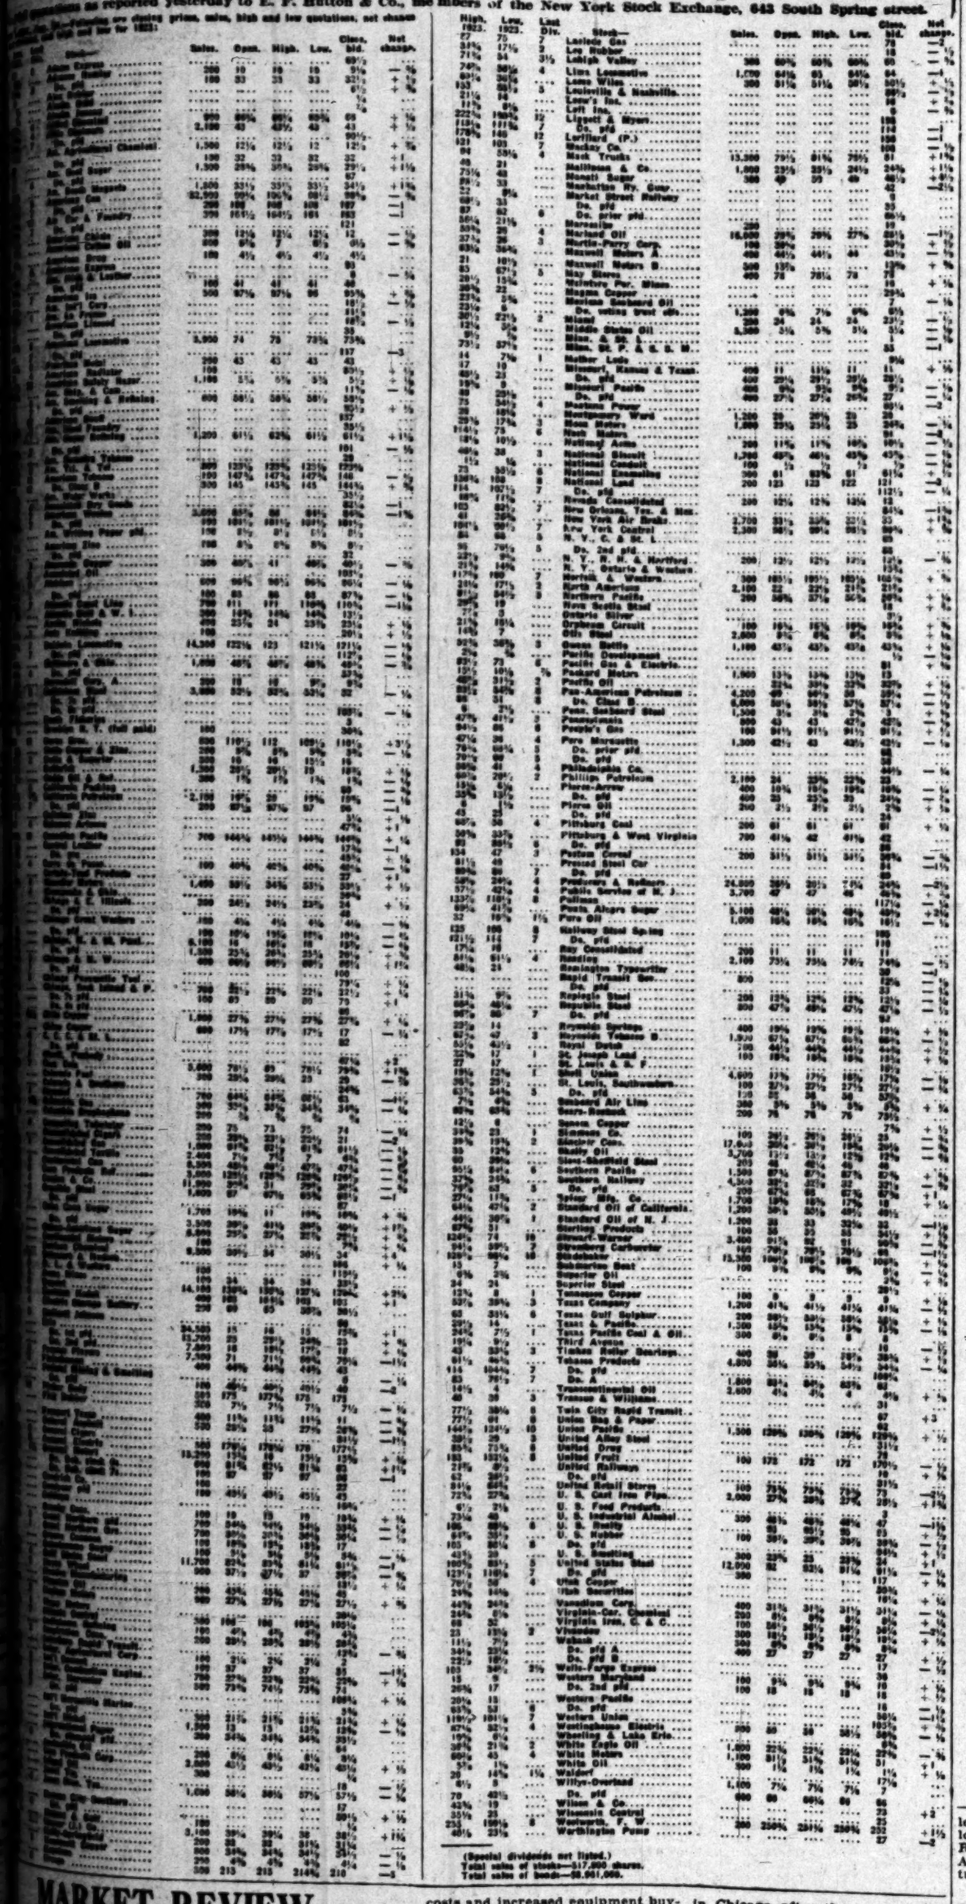
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YORK, Aug. 24.—In view that the stock market, matter all markets, is ed so eagerly for in- of autumn trade

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Transactions as reported yesterday to E. F. Hutton & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 643 South Spring street.



MARKET REVIEW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—In view of the stock market, in the money all markets, is eagerly for indications of trade revival, the commercial reports of business conditions of the country have attention as it might be moderately but with a strong leaning. Dun's comments indications of are noted in with the increase in respective shown in different there is more general revival been reported summing that the "united to industrial part of the country, but improvement noted in the present season is "enough to show that a few weeks could be said was that which has moderately the earlier part have met the in what must good fashion. no doubt, at to exceed which had been been built up in the market, for actual ones. But nevertheless, this selling combined with the new short sales for the decline, which have increased in volume, did little more today than check the advance and the average for fifty representative stocks at the end of the day was practically unchanged. Several of the so-called specialties advanced quite vigorously under the pressure of moderately heavy buying. It is quiet evident, even to the most casual observer of market affairs, that the most important factor at the moment is the development of fall trade and that preliminary indications which have been received during the last week are not at all pessimistic in tone. The finished goods market is very much better than at any time for more than a month; the forward buying of iron and steel products has been on an increased scale. While in many other lines in which the raw materials are a long while in the process of manufacture similar increases are reported from day to day.

The foreign exchanges were dull and without any definite trend today, but nevertheless, they maintained a very good undertone and most of them, as a matter of fact, closed the day at moderate advances.

The Southern Pacific report today, the second of the large trunk lines to announce the July figures, indicates conclusions already drawn from the Union Pacific report were correct. This was to the effect that a large amount of the gross now is being consumed by most of the roads in maintenance costs and increased equipment buying than is ordinarily taken up in normal years.

Oils Depressed

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Heavy selling of the oil shares based on the cut in the Ohio Oil dividend and the uncertainty regarding the dividends of other companies imparted a reactionary trend to today's stock market after an early period of moderate strength. Trading was largely a professional affair, the threatened suspension of work by the anthracite miners on September 1 and unfavorable reparations developments having a restraining effect on business, particularly on the part of small investors.

Bidding up of individual issues was a feature of the early trading.

General Motors was heavily bought on reports of an early increase in the dividend and also automatically imparted marked strength to DuPont, the largest individual holder of General Motors stock. Erie issues were again bid up on buying reported to be for the account of First National Bank interests, the common and first and second preferred touching new highs for the year.

Davison Chemical, which did not appear in the trading at all yesterday, was quite active, moving up 3 5-8. Mack Truck also exhibited considerable strength and the sugar shares were bid up rather freely. With the exception, however, of Erie common and Davison Chemical, most of the early leaders closed fractionally below their top prices of the day.

Selling of oil shares was limited to a few stocks. Producers and Refiners, whose directors met in Chicago after the close of the market to take dividend action, touched a new low, and Cosden preferred, after six weeks of inactivity, slumped 10½ points on a small turnover. Marland closed 1 5-8 lower.

Call money held steady throughout the day at 5 per cent. Time money also ruled firm at 5½ per cent but with no bids at that figure. Commercial paper exhibited some activity, with prime names commanding 5 1-4 per cent.

Foreign exchange markets held relatively firm. Demand sterling moved up fractionally to $4.55 3-8 and French francs improved 4 points to 5.63 cents. German marks declined slightly to 21½ cents a million.

Total stock sales, 492,000 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 91.92; net loss, .12.

High 1923, 105.38; low, 85.91.

Twenty railroads averaged 78.92; net gain, .07.

NEW YORK CURB

Oils Lose Ground

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Stock prices moved lower in today's curb market, much of the selling occurring in the last hour after news in the cut of the Ohio Oil dividend had been received.

Closing prices in the oil group recorded losses of from 1 to 4 points, some of the big declines including Ohio Oil, off 4, Prairie Oil and Gas, off 3, Standard Oil of Kentucky, off 2½, and Prairie Pipe off 2.

Gillette Safety Razor closed 3½ points higher. Generally, however, industrials were unchanged or lower. Durant Motors sold 1 point lower. There were no sales of Reading Coal Rights and Glen Alden was unchanged on a small turnover.

Mining shares were dull and generally unchanged.

11 YEARS OF WONDERS
With—

Dehydration!

DID YOU know that about SEVENTY PER CENT of a peach is just plain water? And did you ever stop to think that when a California fruit grower ships a carload of California peaches to Chicago, he is paying about seventy cents out of every dollar of freight expense, just to ship that plain water? And he is doing practically the same thing even though his peaches are canned!

This fact has worried fruit growers ever since camels and donkeys were the sole means of transportation.

Ancients and moderns have tried by a hundred methods to extract the water from fruits and vegetables without impairing either their organic or chemical structure—in such a way that, months or even years later, simply by placing them in water they can be REFRESHED—restored to their original size, flavor and food value.

Only one process for this perfect Dehydration has proved successful. And the patents for that process are exclusively controlled by a vigorously active corporation—

KING'S FOOD PRODUCTS CO.
OREGON AND CALIFORNIA

King's Food Products Company and its predecessors have been in existence for 11 years. The concern is operating two large plants, and is now planning to construct several more in California. Within another year it plans to have an invested capital of more than $4,500,000.

Last year it handled 522,995 pounds of beans—approximately 1,000,000 pounds of loganberries—1,194,640 pounds of pears—7,267,900 pounds of prunes—14,532,000 pounds of apples—27,986,000 pounds of products all told!

It ships ten carloads of fruits in ONE CARLOAD—and pays a large part of the freight saved TO THE MEN WHO OWN THE ORCHARDS.

It delivers to your wife over 2 pounds of green spinach in a 2½ oz. carton! When she cooks it, she brings it back to its natural weight—and you can't tell the difference in flavor or appearance from spinach freshly picked.

There are 23,500,000 families in the United States. Most of them can't afford half the fresh fruit and vegetables they need. King's Food Products Company, thanks to Dehydration, should eventually be able to furnish every one of those families almost any kind of fresh fruit in any season at 40% LESS than they can buy canned fruits and vegetables. It can do this one hundred to two hundred per cent cheaper than they can buy fresh fruits and vegetables out of season.

Already King's Food Products—including Dehydrated spinach, pears, prunes, apples, beans, loganberries, peaches and apricots, are being sold in more than 30 states. Within a year every state in the Union should have them.

Priceless Asset to Fruit Growers

Fruitgrowers all over the west are clamoring for King's plants. Twenty-nine communities in California alone have offered inducements including sites and free trackage. One city offered a $250,000 bonus to get a factory built immediately.

King's Food Products Co., however, will sell no plants. And it will erect plants of its own only where there is an abundant supply of raw material, efficient labor and adequate transportation facilities.

Eleven years of development—of education—of persistent marketing and expansion have rooted this enterprise deep in the food producing industry of the nation. King's Dehydration has become a vital factor to both producer and consumer—a marvelous discovery put on a sound, economic basis!

Why are these facts about Dehydration being presented in the financial section? You will find the answer to that question in the next statement of this series in this same section of tomorrow's Times and Monday's Herald.

The Miller-Keck No. 16 well of the Amalgamated Oil Company at Huntington Beach came in yesterday at a depth of 3550 feet. The new producer is doing 1000 barrels of 26 per cent gravity oil. The gas pressure is 125 pounds, and the oil string contains 825 feet of screen casing.

Selby Root Gets Producer

The Claim No. 2 well at Huntington Beach has been put on production by Selby Root & Co. at a depth of 4995 feet. The initial flow is 650 barrels a day of 23 per cent gravity oil. The gas pressure is 275 pounds at the casing head, and the oil string contains 430 feet of slotted casing.

The C. J. R. Oil Company is building a rig at Section 6, Huntington Beach, which will be known as the Lamb No. 2.

San Joaquin Field Slows Up

The last week has not been so active in the San Joaquin Valley field. No new wells were started, but the week saw the beginning of seven repair jobs and four water shut-offs.

Repair jobs have been started by the Chanslor-Canfield Midway, Joseph B. Dabney, Honolulu Consolidated, Midland Oilfield, Kern Sunset Oil and the General Petroleum companies. Five of these wells are in the Midway field.

Shell Well Comes In

Another producer will be added to the long list of Shell Company wells in the Signal Hill field by tomorrow morning, it was indicated today, following the bringing in the bringing in of the Shell Marcellus No. 4, which started production with a heavy showing of mud and water. The well, when cleared up, promises to produce at the rate of about 3000 barrels a day, it was said.

The Marcellus No. 4 is located just south of Arabella street, and was completed at 4119 feet. Swabbing was begun yesterday afternoon, but after the swab had been run to 1200 feet it was found that gas was seeping through the casing and it was necessary to cement. The Shell company has drilled three other wells on the same lease.

To Pump Deep Well

Campbell No. 2 well, the Petroleum Midway hope which was drilled to 5361 feet in the northern edge of the field, will be the first to test out the possibilities of a pump as a producer of oil from the mile-deep levels of Signal Hill. Rigging up of the deep pump was under way at the well today. The well recently developed water and after it was cemented off to correct the trouble it refused to flow. The operations on the pump are being watched with interest by the entire field.

Test Newport Well

W. J. Fulkerson yesterday announced the result of a test of two specimens of oil in Well No. 1, West Newport, received from the Sierra Refining Company, Los Angeles. The tests show 10 per cent lubricating oil, 85 per cent asphaltum, 5 per cent other content. J. A. Milliff, chemist, stated the lubricant was some of the highest grade in California and ideal for use in airplane motors. Fulkerson is now pumping without the use of hot water pressure. His No. 3 well is down eighty feet.

BOND QUOTATIONS

French Bonds Gain

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—After opening slightly lower, French government and municipal issues were bid up actively and closing prices found them up from large fractions to more than a point. Mexican 5s also advanced a point while the 4's declined fractionally.

Railroad mortgages were in fair demand with chief interest again centering in the Erie issues. The Erie prior lien 4's advanced 1, and the general 4's, 1½. St. Paul convertible 4½s also moved up, gaining 1 1-8, and Denver and Rio Grande refunding 5's closed 1⅝ higher.

Industrial liens were more active and moved at slightly better points. Punta Alegre Sugar 7's up 1, was the only outstanding strong spot.

Active United States government bonds moved within narrow limits, fluctuations being confined to 2-32 of a point.

TURKEY IS DENOUNCED BY PASTOR

Dr. Rohold Says Moslems Are Untamed Savages at Heart; Fears for Future

Dr. S. B. Rohold, F.R.G.S., of the Mount Carmel Bible School at Haifa, Palestine, speaking last night at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, told of unsettled conditions in the Near East and declared that the former unchanging East is now changing rapidly.

Dr. Rohold does not offer any solution of the problems that are presented, but prefers to bring forth the facts as he sees them and let the world give judgment. He has no sympathy for the Turk and holds that, while he may be outwardly a polished gentleman, he is at heart an untamable savage.

American property in Syria has suffered greatly through disorders under the French mandate, he says, and it is a matter of constant amazement to Americans there that the United States government has done nothing about it.

There is no genuine reason for any real trouble in the Near East, Dr. Rohold states, and he blames the unsettled conditions upon insidious propaganda, the source of which he does not identify, except to say that there is no longer that concord among the Allies that existed during the war. The country is described as marvelously improved and modernized, with the best of highways spreading in all directions.

The population has increased at the rate of 1000 to 1200 a month, mostly from Central Russia, and vast sums have been expended on educational institutions, yet peace is not permitted. The Jew, he declares, is made the scapegoat and those who supported the Balfour declaration in favor of a Jewish national home in Palestine now cry that the Jew is robbing the Arab. This charge, Dr. Rohold maintains, is without foundation. The Arab has been robbed, he says, but it was by the Turks. In conclusion, he foresees that if England gives up Palestine and the Turks return to power there, both Jews and Christians not only will be robbed but also slaughtered.

Dr. Rohold is scheduled to give a series of addresses along the same lines in various churches in Los Angeles. He expects to leave New York in September on his return trip to Palestine.

PROGRAM AT BOWL IS FOR DETROITERS

Gabrilowitsch, an Eastern Conductor, Will Wield Baton Tonight

Coupled with the announcement that Ossip Gabrilowitsch will again appear at the Hollywood Bowl, this time in the role of guest conductor of the Summer Symphony Orchestra, Emil Oberhoffer yielding his baton to his colleague from the East for the night, comes the news that tonight is to be Detroit Night at the Bowl.

Gabrilowitsch is the leading music luminary of Detroit. The wonderful record of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra is a tribute to his genius. He has scored a tremendous success there, and Los Angeles music lovers are fortunate in having the opportunity to witness him in the role of a conductor, already having been amazed and delighted with his playing Thursday night as the piano soloist at the Bowl.

To make the evening distinctly a Detroit Night, a number of Ford automobile dealers have arranged to do their bit and give free parking space to all who come to the concert in Ford cars. The dealers who have entered into this arrangement are Anglin and Sund, 1600 Sunset Boulevard; Atterbury-Kemper Company, 823 North Western avenue; Clark and Leonard, 2219 West Pico street; Benjamin Fahy, 827 South Figueroa street, and the Gray Motor Car Company, 1742 Cahuenga.

Musically, the "Detroit Night" will be exceptional. The program follows:

Overture, "Hamlet" ..... Thomas
Symphony, No. 4, in F minor ..... Tschaikowsky
Andante, Scherzo, Finale
Overture, "Don Juan" ..... Rubinstein
Soprano Gray de Kreutzer, prelude "Chemnitz" ..... Mouquier
Caprice Espagnole ..... Rimsky-Korsakow

The Rezniceck and Moussorgsky selections will be heard for the first time in Los Angeles.

"WAYFARER" CROWDS TO BE WELL HANDLED

RAIL OFFICIALS PROMISE CO-OPERATION IN CAR SERVICE

The following committee of railroad and street-railway officials was appointed yesterday to handle the transportation of the crowds expected to attend "The Wayfarer" at the Coliseum September 8 to 15.

F. S. McGinnis, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific; George T. Gunnip, division passenger agent of the Santa Fe; J. Cruikshank, general agent of the Union Pacific; O. A. Smith, general manager of the Pacific Electric; R. B. Hill, superintendent of operations of the Los Angeles Street Railway, and W. B. Adams, director of traffic of the same organization. Members of the Wayfarer board who met them included Dr. Ven KleinSmid, president of the board; William Tabor Fitzgerald, chairman of the board, Merle Armitage, business manager, Alton E. Allen, treasurer, and W. L. Webster, general manager.

Promising the fullest co-operation in getting the crowds to and from the Coliseum with the greatest possible dispatch and the minimum of convenience to patrons, the committee will arrange to have many cars parked on the sidings for immediate use after the performance.

The Southern Pacific will work out a special rate schedule as far east as El Paso, and as far north as San Francisco.

GAS RATE HEARING CLOSES

Rail Commission Orders San Bernardino and Company to File Briefs

Attorneys for both principals were ordered to submit briefs at the close of the hearing yesterday on the protest and application of the city of San Bernardino against the Southern California Gas Company, to determine just and reasonable rates.

Commissioner Brundige, who conducted the hearing for the State Railroad Commission, granted two weeks for filing briefs, with no time to reply. He stated that the matter will be considered finally submitted when briefs are filed. It was stipulated that the briefs show all operations of the company up to and including June 30, 1923.

RATES SUBMITTED

The city of Redlands had also filed a petition against the rates of the Southern California Gas Company, but offered no argument, leaving the matter entirely in the hands of the Railroad Commission. The only evidence submitted in this case was the rates of various cities. It was shown that the rates for Redlands are $2 per 1000 feet for the top block, $1.80 for San Bernardino and $1.25 for Riverside.

The hearing on gas rates was opened Thursday, the 16th inst., and adjourned after a two-day hearing, to permit the gas company to produce an analysis of cost methods. The hearing was reopened last Thursday. It was the longest hearing conducted by the Railroad Commission in Los Angeles in months.

During the hearing William H. Guthrie, City Attorney of San Bernardino, attacked various phases of cost methods. One which he attacked bitterly was the amount set aside by the Southern California Gas Company as "reserve," for insurance protection.

INSURANCE QUOTA ATTACKED

Through this system the company carries its own insurance. Mr. Guthrie contended that the amount set aside annually for this reserve is more than four times the output for accidents during the heaviest accident year of the last decade. He said that a large portion of the amount set aside for this purpose should be shown as profits.

It was also charged by San Bernardino that the charges of the Southern California Gas Company against the city for operations was excessive. The charges referred to overhead costs in connection with construction work and maintenance work on service lines, gas mains and meters.

Another contention was that higher rates in San Bernardino than in Riverside are largely due to the fact that the Citrus Belt Gas properties, purchased by the Southern California Gas Company in 1921, were in a bad state of repair and it will be necessary to perform considerable delayed work. As a result, Mr. Guthrie contended that an unfair burden has been placed upon San Bernardino in charges and that this increases the gas rates excessively.

MUCH WORK DELAYED

The Southern California Gas Company contends that there has been a very minor duplication in capital and operating accounts, and that while these have been impossible to avoid, they have no real bearing on overhead accounts. It was advanced by the company that in maintenance on service lines, gas mains and meters, the charges have been normal in most cases.

A. B. Macbeth, general manager of the Southern California Gas Company, testified that there will be a large amount of work over a two-year period, after which service will be in first-class condition.

The Southern California Gas Company was represented by T. J. Reynolds of Los Angeles, and Jarred Howe of San Francisco. San Bernardino was represented by William H. Guthrie, City Attorney.

CAFE RAID WORRIES PATRONS

Women and Escorts Flee as Police Arrive; Asserted Proprietor Held

Fashionably dressed women and their escorts made hurried exits to expensive automobiles last night when the police vice squad raided the Cabiria Cafe at 645 North Main street, arrested the alleged proprietor and confiscated three barrels of what they declare was real beer. George L. Bruneman was the man placed under arrest and charged with possession of the beer.

Reports that some unusual magnet was drawing Pierce-Arrows and Packards where only flivvers and trucks were wont to park were in the information that led Lieut. Bert Massey, in charge of the vice squad, to become curious. In the barrels of beer the police believe they found the magnet.

At the time of the raid, "dining, drinking and diversions" were said to have been in full swing at the Cabiria. However, the tread of police shoes across the floor is said to have been rapidly followed by the swish of silk skirts as the well-dressed women fled from the place. None of the patrons of the place were arrested.

Suicide Urge Defeats Man; He Kills Self

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 24.—Albert H. Hopkins, 40 years of age, who came to Santa Monica five months ago from the East suffering form a nervous breakdown, shot himself with a revolver in the bedroom of his home at 225 Montana avenue today. His wife, Mrs. Dora Hopkins, heard the shot and found her husband lying dead on the floor.

In a near-by typewriter was left this note: "Berne, old pal, I can't fight this idea of suicide any longer. It's got me. Poor mother, poor Dora, poor you, and poor me. I transferred my money to Dora at the bank here. Forgive me if you can. Bert."

The note was addressed to Berne H. Hopkins, his brother, an oil promoter with offices in Suite No. 514, Pacific Mutual Building, Los Angeles. His mother lives in Colorado Springs.

The body was taken to the Todd Undertaking rooms here.

WILL HEAR PLEAS FOR STOCK SALE

Railroad Commissioner to Open Hearings of Three Separate Concerns

Examiner W. G. Williams of the State Railroad Commission, will today conduct three separate hearings on applications of corporations to issue and sell stock. The three corporations are the Venice Consumers' Water Company, the Ojai Power Company and the Packard Stage Line.

The Venice Consumers' Water Company is one of three companies represented by William G. McAdoo when incorporated some time ago. This company, although incorporated at $1,000,000, asks authority only to sell seven shares of common stock, at par value of $100 each. The $700 so obtained is to be applied upon the indebtedness of the corporation incident to its incorporation.

The Ojai Power Company has recently increased its capital stock from $50,000 to $100,000. This company asks authority to sell 200 shares of its increased capital stock at not less than $100 per share.

Property of the Ojai Power Company consists of transmission and distributing lines in the Ojai Valley, Ventura county, and of a water plant, main and service in the city of Ojai. The company purchases its power from the Edison Company of Southern California.

The Packard Stage Line is to operate between Los Angeles and Bakersfield, via Lancaster, Mojave and Tehachepi, the Railroad Commission having recently granted the company a certificate to operate. Authority is asked in the present application to issue sixty shares of stock. Ten shares each are to be issued to K. F. Beyerle, C. A. Sansome, L. J. Austin, R. R. Wilson, T. E. Huston and W. H. Powell, in consideration of the transfer of property to the corporation.

SIREN CALL FOR POLICE CONSIDERED

Demonstration of Signal for Officers All Over City to be Given Monday

The police department is considering the installation of seven powerful sirens, such as warned cities of France and England of hostile air raids during the World War, in the seven police districts of Los Angeles to act as police riot alarms to halt all fast moving traffic and put every officer within the environs of the city on the alert for escaping hold-up men. This was revealed yesterday when it was learned that Christian A. Volf, Jr., manufacturer of the Voice Sirens, of Copenhagen, Denmark, was called to the office of Chief Vollmer and asked to prepare a demonstration at the Central Station for next Monday noon.

The test next Monday will be with a small siren, half the size of the riot alarms contemplated for use by the police and will only demonstrate the spontaneity of the noise producer, according to Mr. Volf. The alarm system, if adopted, said Mr. Volf, will be equipped with code devices that may signal the nature and location of the hold-up or crime and can either be controlled from the Central Station or from every police box. One or all sirens may be put to screaming at an instant's notice, the manufacturer said.

Each of the larger sirens will have a sounding radius of from three to fifteen miles according to location and local conditions. These sirens, Mr. Volf said, were developed largely during the war, to warn of impending air raids. More than 2000 were used by the Allies on church steeples, airplanes, lighthouses and steamships. They are now coming into use in all of the larger cities for fire and police alarms, he said.

ASKS HUGE AWARD AS DAMAGES

Beach Builder Sues Woman for $594,000 in Breach of Contract Action

Damages in the sum of $594,000 are asked in a breach-of-contract suit filed in Superior Court yesterday by James J. Butterfield, prominent building contractor of Long Beach, and his wife Myrtle against Mrs. Sara M. Ely, wealthy property owner of the beach city.

The complaint charges that last April Mrs. Ely agreed to give the plaintiffs a ninety-nine-year lease on a site at 219 Locust avenue, Long Beach, one of the most valuable properties in the city. On May 21 last, the complaint continues, an agreement was drawn up between Mrs. Ely and the two plaintiffs in which Butterfield agreed to pay the woman $6000 a year rental. Also, the agreement provided that Butterfield put up a $20,000 bond to protect Mrs. Ely from loss in moving the houses from the property to make way for a building. This was done, the complainants aver.

A sum of $500 was paid to bind the contract, according to the plaintiffs, but on June 20 last Mrs. Ely suddenly changed her mind and refused to carry out her part of the agreement. The suit was prepared by Attorney Chris Wilson of Long Beach.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—With thirteen steamship lines already in the inter-coastal trade and two more due to go into the service shortly, operators are beginning to evince some uncertainty as to where the west-bound cargoes is to be found to go to make room for them. It was said here today. There has been a decided falling off in west-bound cargo offerings, according to operators. At present there are nearly 150 steamers engaged in coast-to-coast service and this number will be increased when the United American Lines and the International Mercantile Marine Company enter their vessels in the trade.

A new method of shipping specialties will be initiated in October when the Mamoth Manchuria, Kronland and Finland, in the reinvestment of the Atlantic-Pacific service of the International Mercantile Marine, will operate on their schedules. Cars will be taken on board unbraced, securely fastened in a special space set aside for them between decks, and delivered on the quay at the cost of $4 per hundred pounds. They will be handled practically as baggage, it was said. All the coastal steamers handled automobiles in this manner, and the Matson Line carries automobiles on their vessels plying between the Hawaiian Islands and this port. The International Mercantile Marine is said to be the first coast-to-coast line to adopt the new method.

The steamer Elbridge was discharged from the Bethlehem yards today and started adjusting her equipment on the 1st, preparatory to again entering active service. The Elbridge has been assigned to the Columbia Pacific Shipping Company of Portland for operation in service by the United States Shipping Board.

TACOMA (Wash.) Aug. 24.—On his first visit of inspection since becoming northwest manager of the American-Hawaiian Line, Henry Dearborn, vice-president of the big inter-coastal steamship Company was in Tacoma today. While here Mr. Dearborn conferred with James Baker, of the Baker Dock Company, Thomas Agents of the line.

Bound for the Orient, Arthur Maru will sail tomorrow. The vessel has a full cargo of general freight out from Seattle and British Columbia. This is made up of lumber, wheat and general freight for the east coast. It is reported that the entire movement will begin through here shortly and three vessels will be sent out in the next month to take care of the business.

Bound for the Atlantic Coast Katrina Luckenbach arrived here this morning and sailed this evening.

The Port Angeles is expected tomorrow from San Francisco.

The President McKinley arrived this morning to load flour. The vessel will be at the outside dock tomorrow loading copper for the Orient.

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 24.—An arrangement by which vessels of the Luckenbach S.S. Co. visiting Puget Sound will sail at Seattle every Saturday instead of Tuesday, as at present, was made Seattle manager for the company. This is the same schedule that has been in effect in New York for the past month. It is made possible by having the Luckenbach vessels take on freight on Puget Sound ports at Seattle and Tacoma, thus avoiding delays incident with the arrival of the Dorothy Luckenbach, due Saturday.

The principle cargo for the East coast the Steel Inventor of the Isthmian Line carries, shifted tonight to Vancouver, B.C., and will get away from there not later than Saturday.

First of the square-riggers of the Seattle-Alaska salmon fleet to return to this port from the Northern fishing grounds, the bark Gov. C. Gee, owned by the Northwestern Fisheries Company, is expected to tow into Elliott Bay this week, with 12,000 cases of salmon from Nushagak, Alaska. The Gov. C. Gee arrived at Nushagak May 21.

The bark's cargo of raw silk and tea from the Seattle gateway will be the first Alaska salmon of 1923 totaled 118,949 bales and cases valued at $13,921,178, an average of $16 27-4,423 a case, according to figures obtained today from the Seattle Harbor department.

SHEIK PLAN IS OUTLINED BY TEACHER

Victim of Asserted Swindle Tells How Money Talk Deceived Her

Further light on the methods declared to have been employed by Mark Davis, college sheik, in his various conquests of members of the fairer sex was thrown yesterday in a statement made to the District Attorney's office by Mary Probst, the unsophisticated teacher from whom the "sheik" is said to have obtained $2700.

First, she said, he proceeded to dazzle her with a display of wealth, culture and intimate knowledge of great men and important events. Then he laid siege to her heart. When she capitulated, she said, he proceeded to insult her, obtaining a total of $2700 in small sums.

She always admired business acumen, the little teacher said. Davis apparently had this in large quantities. Even in her childhood, when they were going to school together, she almost worshiped him for his ability to handle money, she declared. When in high school at Kansas City he had seventeen boys working for him and in college he ran a business on the side, she said.

After they had graduated she lost track of him, she said. But last February he called on her for "old times' sake." He told her of many far-away places where he had been and stated that he was preparing a thesis on the manufacture, sale and distribution of ice cream in Latin-America which he expected to net him a considerable sum, she declared.

Later he told her he was being blackmailed because in his younger days he had once sworn to a lie, she said. He asked for help. She extended it. The requests continued, she stated, each time bringing forth another portion of the small fund which she had saved for a rainy day.

Finally he proposed they be married. She refused at first but later consented. The wedding date was set for July 17, last. A wedding license was obtained and they were scheduled to meet at a downtown hotel from which they were to proceed to a minister. She waited and waited, she said, but Davis failed to appear. Then came disillusionment, followed by the filing of a complaint and the arrest of Davis at Oakland, where he had gone on the wedding day. Davis is now in the County Jail awaiting trial.

NEGRO ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Frank Lyle, 23 years of age, a negro, who said he is a porter on a train operating between Chicago and Los Angeles, was arrested on East Third street last night by Officers H. K. Freeman and J. J. O'Grady, plain clothesmen, on a charge of assault and battery.

According to the officers, they accosted Lyle at Third and Wall streets, whereupon the negro struck Freeman a blow on the face and fled. The officers pursued the man, firing their revolvers in the air as they ran. They overtook Lyle after a chase of three blocks.

Morris Cohen, 43 years of age, a huckster, also was placed under arrest on a charge of interfering with an officer in pursuit of duty.

Descarrila un Tren Rápido

Los viajeros que iban en el Tehachapi, expreso rápido del Sudpacífico que salió de Los Angeles para San Francisco la noche del jueves, recibieron fuertes sacudidas al descarrilarse el convoy ayer mañana en Roche, cerca de Bakersfield. Las sólidas chapas de acero de los vagones en que viajaban los libraron de graves lesiones. La locomotora, dos furgones de equipaje, un vagón de carga, y dos de los coches de viajeros saltaron de la vía al salirse de los rieles, por causa desconocida, la locomotora y el alijo. Según los informes recibidos en las oficinas del Ferrocarril en esta ciudad, ninguno de los viajeros, ni de los empleados del tren tiene lastimaduras que exijan tratamiento médico. Los directores reiteraron la observación de que las paredes de acero de los coches defendieron eficazmente a las personas que iban en el tren, y que, a no ser por el retardo de dos horas, pudieron ser llevadas a sus destinos por otro tren. Anoche temprano quedó escombrada la vía.

Tennis

BROOKLINE (Mass.) agosto 24. William T. Tilden, de Filadelfia, y Brian I. C. Norton, de Sudáfrica, se calificaron hoy para hacerle frente al equipo americano de Williams y Washburn, en el campeonato nacional de parejas de tennis, pues derrotaron a Wallace Johnson, de Filadelfia, y a Manuel Alonso, de España, después de reñido combate, por 7-9, 8-6, 8-6, 6-2.

Este es el tercer año en que América defenderá la famosa copa Davis, que es el más preciado de los trofeos de tennis. Lo hará el viernes con la pista del Club West Side, de Nueva York. Los americanos que ha escogido la Asociación de Lawn Tennis para que defiendan este año el trofeo, son William T. Tilden, campeón nacional, William M. Johnston, campeón mundial, R. Norris Williams y Vincent Richards.

Sólo tres naciones han detentado el trofeo desde que fué regalado en 1900 por Dwight C. Davis, de Washington, D. C. Australia y América se lo han llevado seis veces cada una, en tanto que Inglaterra ha cargado con él cinco veces. Dos años hubo en que no se combatió por la copa, habiéndose suprimido suspendido el juego durante los cuatro años de la guerra mundial. España fué eliminada por Francia en la contienda preliminar en Europa, en la que se jugaba el derecho de retar a América. Al último, Australia derrotó a Francia, y tendrá que vérselas este año con el equipo americano para disputarle la copa.

"Parva" significa "mies tendida en la era, antes o después de trillada;" también quiere decir "montó." La voz "parvada" no figura en el Diccionario de la Academia. Relieve scalp irritations with Resinol

Eczema and dandruff are among the most frequent causes of baldness and too much care cannot be exercised in getting rid of them. The Resinol treatment is an easy method.

Shampoo with Resinol Soap, working the lather well into the roots of the hair. Rinse thoroughly and when wholly dry, spread the hair apart and gently rub into the scalp a little Resinol Ointment. If done carefully little ointment will get on the hair. Ask your druggist for Resinol.

THOUGHT BACK WOULD BREAK
Nothing Helped until She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"When my baby was born," says Mrs. Posluszny, 106 High Street, Bay City, Michigan, "I got up too soon. It made me so sick that I was tired of living and the weakness run me down something awful. I could not get up out of bed mornings on account of my back; I thought it would break in two, and if I started to do any work I would have to lie down. I do not believe that any woman ever suffered worse than I did. I spent lots of money, but nothing helped me until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt a whole lot better after the first bottle, and I am still taking it for I am sure it is what has put me on my feet."

If you are suffering from a displacement, irregularities, backache, nervousness, sideache or any other form of female weakness you should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass, for Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." It will be sent you free upon request. This book contains valuable information.

MacKENZIE WOMAN AND SON FOUND

Tucson Police Chief Wires Wife of Angeleno is There; Was Missing Month

Missing for more than a month and believed by her husband to have been the victim of foul play, Mrs. Linna MacKenzie, wife of R. A. MacKenzie, former cashier of the Commonwealth Trust Company, was found in Tucson, Ariz., last night, according to dispatches received here from Tucson police.

"Mrs. Linna MacKenzie and 7-year-old son are here, apparently all right. Cannot hold her without warrant. Answer at once," read a telegram received by the local police detective bureau from Dallas Ford, Chief of Police at Tucson.

MacKenzie appealed to the police here last Thursday to aid him in the search for his wife. He declared that he had searched for her ever since her disappearance and could not find any clew. He knew of no reason why she should leave, he said, because their family life was happy and on the day of her disappearance she had seemed in her usual good spirits.

He based his fear of foul play on a threatening letter received six months ago, which stated that MacKenzie's life was to be taken and that harm was to come to his family.

Following the receipt of the telegram from Tucson last night, however, the local police, who learned from Mr. MacKenzie that his wife was soon to become a mother, believe that the woman is probably the victim of lost memory and wandered away in that condition. She is described as being a remarkably pretty woman, 27 years of age.

Realty Lease of $1,435,000 Is Announced

One of the largest real estate deals in recent months was made public yesterday with the announcement that the Capitol Company, a subsidiary of the Bank of Italy, has leased the southeast corner of Alvarado and Orange streets for a consideration of $1,435,000. The property was leased to the company by Frank L. Schaffer, well known in local real estate circles. The lease runs for fifty years.

The property in question measures 120 by 176 feet and is improved. The buildings on the property include the Theater De Luxe Payne's Dancing Academy and a newly erected office building. Leases are now held by various tenants, whose terms of occupancy run from four and one-half to seven and one-half years.

The owner of the property is Col. Henry Laub, who leased it to Mr. Schaffer about three years ago. Mr. Schaffer, it was announced, will continue his real estate activities upon his return from Europe, whence he will depart with Mrs. Schaffer about September 1.

Three Negroes Charged With Inciting Riots

For the first time in four years warrants were issued yesterday in Los Angeles charging incitation of riots. The defendants are William Oliphant, Lorenzo Wade and Q. Evans, all negroes, who are said to have attempted to create a disturbance Thursday evening at a carnival near the negro quarter.

The complaint was sworn to by J. W. McNeely, 1508 East Sixty-ninth street, and the warrants were issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McClelland.

SOUTHLAND OIL WEALTH GREAT

Rotarians Hear Romance of Liquid Gold

Geologist Feels Shortage May Come Later

Dangers of Storage Faced by Companies Told

When a lucky investor boasts of having made $500,000 on oil, he may not realize that his luxury has cost billions of lives, but such is the case, according to Ralph Arnold, noted geologist, who spoke before the Rotary Club at the Alexandria yesterday.

However, Mr. Arnold failed to arouse any sympathy for the "martyrs" to the god Petroleum—for he was not speaking of humans, but of those countless tiny creatures of the deep that find their graves in the ocean's bed, and that, through nature's alchemy, are transformed into the dark fluid which makes for wealth and wars.

Although Mr. Arnold is chairman of the County Republican Central Committee, there was no mixture of politics with petroleum in his address on "Southern California Oil, Dominant Factor in World Production." The romantic story of oil was recited from the first chapter to the present exciting crisis of the drama but the speaker only hinted at what might be expected at the climax.

LARGE PROPORTION

Stating that in 1922 Southern California produced 16 per cent of the world's oil production, Mr. Arnold said that for the last year there has been a general decline in many parts of the world but that Southern California production has increased.

"South America, also, is picking up, and it is to that country that we will have to look for future supplies," said the speaker.

To give his audience an idea of the enormous production of California wells in 1922, Mr. Arnold said that if all the oil produced in this State in that year could be placed in tank cars, the train would reach from the Southland across the continent and 200 miles into the Atlantic Ocean. One day's production from the Santa Fe Springs field alone, he said, would make a string of tanks seven miles long.

The August production for California was 40 per cent of the total production of the United States and 25 per cent of the world's production, stated Mr. Arnold, who said that three Southern California fields produced in that month 30 per cent of all the oil produced in the United States.

STORAGE FACILITIES

"Last month we placed 6,000,000 barrels of the stuff in storage, the total amount in storage now being about 78,000,000 barrels," said the speaker. "We are producing about 25,000,000 barrels a month here, and consuming approximately 19,000,000 barrels. We are faced by serious problems—overproduction, the danger of storing oil in manmade reservoirs, and the decrease in prices.

"We are now shipping oil all over the world at about half the price we should receive for it. And we are taking oil from the safest storage plant in the world—old Mother Earth—and placing it at our own risk into tanks with no surety that it will not be blown up, endangering the lives and property of others.

"We are digging twenty-five times as many wells as is necessary, an economic waste for which we will have to suffer," said the speaker. "We get the oil out quicker, it is true, but we need not complain at the decrease in profits caused by overproduction. We can continue to build refineries if we get the crude oil cheap enough, but here again we are confronted with a danger arising from a plethora of refineries, which also has a tendency to reduce legitimate profits.

REMEDY SOUGHT

"In passing we may note that the mushroom companies are selling their oil to the big companies, which are keeping their own oil in the earth for a big price later on.

"The remedy for the present condition is difficult to prescribe," said Mr. Arnold. "There has been a great effort on the part of those interested in the oil industry to head off trouble by cutting down production. Notwithstanding the fact that the welfare of the individual should always come second

Mute Witnesses to Identity of Yegg Trio

Scenes Following $25,000 Robbery

INVESTORS TELL TALE OF LOSSES

Federal Inspectors Glean Details for Inquiry Into Oil Promotion Schemes

The investors in units of certain oil corporations are crowding the quarters of the Postoffice inspectors telling their troubles.

They contend they were promised certain returns on their investment, and have failed to realize, and they want the government to look into the matter. A corps of inspectors is daily listening to their various tales of woe, and taking notes on the individual situations.

The result of their inquiries will be submitted to David V. Cahill, special assistant to Atty.-Gen. Daugherty, next week, when he returns from a business trip to Fort Worth, where he is tying a knot in the ambitions of certain oil promoters in the Texas fields.

The stories of asserted victims vary. In some instances there is sufficient ground to lodge a complaint against the backers of the rainbow display of financial aurora borealis; in others the consistency is lacking and the victims are dismissed with a bow. They have failed in some of the important details, and there is nothing to do but put the investment in the "red."

Notices were sent out yesterday by the clerk of the United States District Court to members of the Federal grand jury, calling a meeting on Friday next, when it is expected that the reported sufferers from the wiles of the promoters will be given an opportunity to tell their troubles to the inquisitorial body.

The officials having the probe in charge have been urged by the Washington authorities to make the job a complete one, so far as the local investigation is concerned.

Trees to be Tributes at Sanatorium

Trees will be planted as a living monument to friends and relatives of patrons of Duarte Sanatorium for Consumptives tomorrow at 2 p.m., in special exercises under direction of Benjamin J. Seata, director of the institution.

Howard & Smith, Paul J. Howard and Theodore Payne, horticulturists, have contributed trees, which will be purchased at $50 each by patrons, and planted on grounds of the institution.

The money will be used for maintenance of the sanatorium, which at present is caring for ninety-two patients regardless of religion or social status.

TAYLOR TO HAVE HARD TIME OF IT

Captured Convict-Bandit Deserves No Clemency, Says Fricke

"When prisoners sentenced to State's prison escape and while at large commit other crimes, there is no sense in slapping them on the wrist and sending them back," said Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fricke yesterday in speaking of the case of Jesse Taylor, who escaped while en route from Folsom prison and was recaptured.

Taylor was accused Wednesday in two complaints charging robbery. He is charged with robbery of an official of the California Bank branch at Fifty-seventh street and Central avenue of $4200 and of an official of the Jersey Farm Dairy Company. Both robberies occurred on the 13th inst., the day Taylor arrived in Los Angeles, after he had escaped from a train near Madera.

It was stated by Mr. Fricke that Taylor would be tried here on both charges. If Taylor is convicted of these charges, he will not have much chance of obtaining his release on parole. Taylor was arraigned yesterday before Justice Forbes and his hearing was set for the 29th inst. An anomaly of the case is that while Taylor was admitted to bail of $10,000 on each of the new charges, he could not be released even if he should be able to furnish bail because he is now a convict.

AUTOMOBILE THIEF IS SENT TO PRISON

For the theft of an automobile, valued at $400, from Roy Burrows, 1302 West Twenty-ninth street, Jack Hamilton was sentenced to San Quentin yesterday by Judge Monroe for from one to ten years. The theft occurred on July 7. Hamilton had applied for probation, after pleading guilty, but withdrew his application yesterday.

WILL PUSH LIQUOR CASES

This is One Important Matter Decided During Visit of State Dry Law Enforcer to Los Angeles

One of the important matters determined by the visit of Samuel F. Rutter, State Prohibition Director, and his aide, Harold H. Dolley, in charge of the field force, to this city, has been an agreement with United States Attorney Burke, to push to a speedy prosecution some of the big prohibition cases that have been pending for some time. The underbrush having been cleared away, the prohibition officials will now strike into the big timber.

One of the cases to be called to the attention of the court before September 15 will be the charge against Morris Orsatti, North Spring street business man, and J. R. Johnson, accused of attempting to bribe Dry Chief Dolley in June of last year. One indictment was returned against Orsatti and Johnson, but it was lacking in some necessary essentials, and a new document has been drawn. Neither Orsatti nor Johnson has as yet been arraigned. Agent Dolley will come down from San Francisco about September 1 and put in all his time preparing the case for prosecution. Meanwhile the money alleged to have passed in the transaction to be investigated is in the safe at prohibition headquarters in the Federal Building, all marked and tabbed exhibit A.

SHIP'S CARGO CASE

Another case that has been suffered to fall by the wayside of inaction is the conspiracy charge against eighteen defendants, charged with unloading a cargo of liquor at Long Beach some months ago. Three charges of conspiracy will be charged in this case, but not involving all of the defendants.

State Agent Rutter said yesterday that Dan J. O'Leary would remain in charge of the local prohibition office indefinitely. Mr. O'Leary succeeded Agent Dolley when the latter was taken to San Francisco, in fact, has been a member of the prohibition enforcement force ever since the enactment of the prohibition legislation, and he has proven his worth.

Within a short time there will be some changes in the local force, several of the local men being sent to San Francisco, and additions made here. It is understood that with the appropriations that have been made available since the beginning of the fiscal year, the Los Angeles force will consist of not less than a dozen men.

CHECK UP ON WINERIES

Yesterday was spent by Messrs. Rutter and Dolley hearing the evidence involving a number of wineries, whose owners are charged with violating the terms of their permit. The finding reached by these officials must first be approved by Commissioner Haynes at Washington before going into effect.

Statistics showing the enforcement of the prohibition amendment in the United States, just received by Chief Agent Rutter, indicate that the antiliquor law is being enforced better in California, so far as arrests and prosecutions go, than in any State in the Union. The report shows that in the entire State of Missouri there has been but one liquor trial since 1922.

Rutter and Dolley will return to San Francisco tomorrow night.

Three Yeggmen Rifle Two Places of $25,000

While the three yeggs who entered the Bumiller Building, 430 South Broadway, early yesterday and escaped with approximately $25,000 in jewels and cash four hours later were still at liberty last night, police detectives working on the case stated that a notorious criminal was under suspicion and with his capture and arrest, which they believed to be only a matter of hours, the identity of the three men will be disclosed.

Search for this man was launched after detectives had viewed the tools used in rifling the safes in the offices of B. L. Deacon and F. A. Perkins, both wholesale jewelers. The tools, left behind by the burglars, and the methods used in opening the safes

NEW AUTO RULE URGED FOR CITY

Vollmer Would Take Control From Police

Declares Traffic Problem is for Trained Experts

Commission Indicates Hearty Approval of View

The Traffic Commission at a luncheon yesterday attended by its members, officials of other civic bodies, city officials and business men heard Chief of Police Vollmer's suggestions for traffic betterment, and the result, some predict, may be formation of a plan to divorce traffic regulation from police control.

"This revolutionary idea first suggested by the new Chief of Police a few days ago is not new to members of the Traffic Commission. After the Chief spoke, Paul G. Hoffman, president of the commission, said the commission members had been discussing it quietly for about a year. Judging by the applause when the Chief made the suggestion it will not lack support. Several hundred men filled the banquet room of the Elite in Flower street.

INNOVATION URGED

Chief Vollmer called on Los Angeles to blaze the way in this innovation, which he thinks after a study of traffic in all important cities of the country is the only course toward a solution of the problem that is puzzling the nation.

Several speakers, including Chief Vollmer, called attention to the seriousness of the situation, not alone in its check on business growth, but in the enormous loss of life resultant from ill-regulated traffic. The Chief said that if as many persons were killed by criminals as were being killed in automobile accidents the public would demand vigilante action.

Chief Vollmer holds that the first thing to be done is to simplify traffic-regulating law. He declared that few of the traffic policemen, let alone automobile drivers, knew the laws, so many and confusing are they. He also recommended more severe penalties for criminally reckless drivers and the cancellation of the licenses obtained by persons temperamentally unfitted to drive.

CHIEF'S OPINION

Of a divorce of traffic regulation from the police function, Chief Vollmer said:

"It has been my conviction that the control of traffic by the policemen is small-town stuff. Originally that was the policeman's job. It wasn't a very difficult one, in the old days when we had mules and slow-moving vehicles. There were not so many vehicles on the streets, and it wasn't such an important job. It was just assigned to the policeman, like the work of the health department used to be. So sanitary ordinances were assigned to the police department for administration.

"Traffic is something vastly different in the last few years. Your streets are inadequate for the number of vehicles. That isn't the policeman's job. It interferes with the policeman's work. Just today I had fifty letters, or approximately that number, on my desk regarding traffic problems in the city. I ought not to be concerned with that at all. My job should be to look after the crooks in this community. Traffic problems should be left to scientifically trained men who have made a study of the subject.

NOT HIS FOLD

"What does the policeman know about street capacities? What does the policeman know about the type of streets that should be constructed? What can a policeman tell you about streets that are out of repair, that need the right type of repairing in order that traffic may be diverted along a different channel? What time has the policeman for that if he is devoting his attention to the things you insist he should devote his attention to?

"Now is the time for Los Angeles to lead the way. Now is the time for Los Angeles to point out to the world that this is a scientific problem that can only be solved by men specially trained in traffic work.

"Let me call your attention to

SLAYING LAID TO JEALOUSY

Waitress Held After Cook Is Found Stabbed to Death; Another Also Arrested

Jealousy, fanned to white heat by bootleg liquor, say the police, late yesterday caused Virginia Lavallie, 28-year-old waitress, to stick a ten-inch butcher knife into the heart of Henry Willard Johnson, 44, a cook, in the latter's apartment at 824 West Eleventh street. Johnson died a few minutes after receiving the fatal wound.

The girl's story that she was attacked by Johnson and was "defending her honor" was discounted by police after a thorough investigation and she was locked up on a charge of suspicion of murder. Her arrest was closely followed by that of O. G. Link, another cook, with whom the police say Miss Lavallie had been living.

Johnson was found dying on the floor of his apartment by Mrs. M. Davis, landlady of the Lansing Apartments, after Miss Lavallie had staggered into the hallway and called to Mrs. Davis that she had "killed him." Mrs. Davis called the police.

Assistant Captain of Detectives Herman Cline hurried to the scene and found Johnson still alive and crawling around the apartment on his hands and knees. The detectives placed him on the bed, where he died a few minutes later, without making any statement.

Miss Lavallie made no attempt to escape. Dazed, apparently by the realization of what she had done, and, according to the police, still under the influence of liquor, she crouched in a corner of the apartment, watched Johnson die with an uncomprehending stare in her eyes, and offered no resistance when she was taken to the police station.

There she made a statement in

AWAIT KING'S ARRIVAL

Coming of The Lord of Glory Expected by Devotees; Eyes of Faith Turned Heavenward

Devotees of all religions have always had, and still have one great dream and hope that is common to them all—and that is the final and full manifestation of that "Light that lighteth every man," the conquest of evil by righteousness and the redemption of the race, or of that portion of humanity which allies itself with the forces of truth.

This dream of the glorious new administration of universal affairs is especially emphasized in the Christian world, and the question of when and how the Son of God shall come again to claim His own for all eternity is one of the most fascinating subjects in Christendom. Interest in this topic increases as the years roll by, and in the maelstrom of tragedies that all but wreck the world the eyes of the faithful turn patiently toward the Master who said, "I will come again and receive you unto Myself."

Discussions and sermons concerning the world's redemption will be heard at many Los Angeles churches tomorrow. Among them will be that at the Coliseum, Exposition Park, at 3 p.m., when Judge J. F. Rutherford, leader of the International Bible Students' Association, will address a mass meeting on the subject, "Armageddon." At the Church of the Open Door Dr. J. Frank Norris will speak tomorrow morning on "The Second Coming of Christ." In the evening Dr. Norris will discuss the question "Where Does the Soul Go After Death," and the sermon will be in the nature of an answer to "Russellism."

"THE GREATEST DANGER"

Dr. J. E. Crowther, author of "The Wayfarer," soon to be produced in Los Angeles, will be the speaker tomorrow morning at the First Methodist Church. In the evening Dr. James A. Walton will discuss "The Greatest Danger to California Youth." At 10:30 a.m. and at 7:00 p.m. Arthur Blakesley will give organ recitals and vocal numbers will be rendered by the large chorus. A feature of the evening program will be the rendition of many of the favorite hymns of the late President Harding, sung by the Angelus Male Quartet.

"THE CRIME COMMISSION"

"The What, Why and Whence of the Crime Commission" will be discussed by Rev. Bob Shuler tomorrow evening at Trinity Auditorium, preceding the sermon on the subject, "Will Organized Labor Commit Suicide?" The morning service will be conducted at the Bible Institute, and Mr. Shuler will preach on the subject, "Is Jesus More Than Savior?" M. M. "More Music" Johnson will conduct the chorus choir in the evening.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mind" is the subject of the lesson-sermon at 11 a.m. tomorrow in each of the fifteen Christian Science churches of Los Angeles. First, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth and Thirteenth churches will repeat this service in the evening at 8 o'clock and the Second Church at 3 p.m. All churches have Wednesday evening meetings, which include testimonies of Christian Science healing.

PICKS UNIQUE SUBJECT

"Geezers, Gushers, Growlers and Geysers; the Mystery; Who Shovels the Coal?" That is the subject to be discussed by Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher in the second sermon on the general topic, "Yellowstone Park," to be preached tomorrow evening at the Temple Baptist Church. A motion picture to illustrate the address will be shown. At the morning hour Dr. Brougher will preach on "The Law of Happiness." Excellent musical programs have been arranged for both services, with David Wright, noted Canadian musician, at the organ.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. J. A. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will preach tomorrow evening on "Christ's Way of Dealing With the Doubter" and, in a prelude to his discourse, will discuss "The Wayfarer." The topic for the morning sermon is "Touching the Hem of a Seamless Robe." In the evening a missionary playlet will be presented by the H.B.B. Bible class and a special missionary program has also been arranged by the young people. Next Wednesday evening the B.Y.P.U. will be in charge of the prayer meeting.

TO TELL OF PALESTINE

A series of addresses on "The Holy Land" will be given in Los Angeles tomorrow and next Tuesday by Rev. G. B. Rohold, principal of the Mount Carmel Bible School of Haifa, Palestine. Tomorrow Mr. Rohold will speak at 11 a.m. at Bethel Temple, 324 Buena Vista street, at 2:30 p.m. at the First United Presbyterian Church and in the evening at Calvary Baptist Church, Second and St. Louis streets. His subject will be "The Jew, the Mosle mand the Arab Christian." Next Tuesday evening Mr. Rohold will speak at the Gospel Tabernacle, Eighteenth and Georgia streets on "Present Conditions in Palestine." The public is invited to all the lectures.

"THE BIG CHURCH"

Rev. M. Howard Fagan, president of the Church Federation of Los Angeles and pastor of the Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church, will leave here next week for Colorado Springs to attend the National Evangelistic Association convention. Tomorrow morning Mr. Fagan will preach on "The Church that is Big Enough for this Hour." In announcing this theme, Mr. Fagan said that never before have the leaders of nations appealed so strongly to the church to make the religion of Jesus Christ a vital element in social life. "Such editorials as appeared in last Sunday's Times should be read and pondered by every right thinking citizen," said Mr. Fagan.

WILSHIRE METHODIST

Rev. L. T. Guild, formerly pastor of the Wilshire Methodist Church will be the preacher at that church tomorrow morning when he will discuss "The Romance of Religion." In the evening Rev. Benjamin Haywood will give the second of a series of travelogue stories and will describe the beauties of Mt. Shasta. The special attraction in the evening will be the presentation of a beautiful memorial gift to the church and an elaborate musical program has been arranged for the occasion.

BROADWAY CHRISTIAN

Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, who will leave Los Angeles soon to attend the Evangelistic convention of the Christian Church, at Colorado Springs, will preach at the Broadway Christian Church tomorrow morning on "The Cost of Discipleship," the preacher for the evening will be Rev. John H. LeGrand, Christian Church evangelist of California. Congregational singing will be directed by Mrs. Alma K. Moss.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

That men and women are thinking more often and more seriously about religion than ever before, is the opinion expressed yesterday by Rev. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, who will preach tomorrow morning on "The Road Away From Unreality." "The widely read article by Philip Gabot on 'The Conversion of a Sinner' is but one of a score of instances that prove my contention," said Dr. Walker. "The religious editorials in The Times and the regularly ordered service of worship and practical sermons over the radio are creating an interest in real religion in a thousand unexpected quarters." Tomorrow evening Dr. Walker will preach on "The Nailing of a Beautiful Lie."

ANGELUS TEMPLE

The Apostle Peter will be on "trial" at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Angelus Temple. A jury composed of men and women from various walks in life will listen to a debate and then give a decision on the question "Should Peter be admitted to membership in the modern church?" Mrs. Aimee McPherson will preach in the morning, afternoon and evening. With the coming of the Angelus Temple broadcasting station, for which the contract has been signed, provision will be made to care for the overflow crowds that attend the temple services.

DR. BRIEGLEB RETURNS

Rev. G. A. Briegleb, who has returned from his vacation, will preach at the Westlake Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening on "Who Rules Los Angeles—the Long Hairs, the Common People or an Invisible Government?" Dr. Briegleb announced that he will tell what a personal investigation, made by him in the northern part of the State, revealed concerning Chief Vollmer. At the morning hour Dr. Briegleb will be assisted at the services by Rev. E. P. Hill,

ALL NATIONS MARCHING TO ARMAGEDDON

but—"millions now living will never die"

In a FREE LECTURE at the Coliseum, Sunday, August 26, Judge Rutherford will prove by prophecy fulfilled and in course of fulfillment that the greatest crisis of the ages is upon the world; that all nations are mustering their forces for the great battle of Armageddon foretold by the prophet of God; that the Lord will cut short the terrible conflict and millions now living will never die. Judge Rutherford says:

"THE WORLD faces a condition never before experienced. Fear has taken hold upon all classes of people because they see in a measure the things coming upon the earth. The nations are in distress and perplexity.

"THE WAR did not make the world safe for democracy. The very foundations of civilization are now shaken by revolution, labor strikes, official lawlessness, profiteers, Bolshevism and anarchy. Both capital and labor are resorting to extreme measures. The common people have lost confidence in their leaders. The clergy have abandoned the Word of God and joined hands with big business and big politicians in an attempt to control the world, and these are opposed by radical forces.

"EUROPE is completely bankrupt, with her restless host of unemployed and discontents hourly increasing. Belligerent organizations are rapidly numbering their men and taking account of their strength. All contending forces are hastening to the great battle of Armageddon. (Revelation 16:16.) The disaster resulting is beyond the description of human words.

"BUT let the people take heart. The Lord will cut short the trouble, bring order out of chaos, establish peace and righteousness; and millions of people now living will become obedient to his order of righteousness and will live on the earth forever in peace and happiness."

FEAR AND PERPLEXITY

We are at the end of the World. Concerning this time Jesus said: "Upon the earth distress of nations with perplexity, men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth." Below are some expressions showing what leading men of the world see rapidly coming; hence their fear, perplexity and distress.

Ramsay MacDonald, Member of Parliament, says: "There is no settlement in Europe. There is no peace in Europe. Governments can do nothing. They are afraid to do anything and they stand by and allow things to go from bad to worse. . . . 1923 is worse than 1914."

Senator Borah: "War is imminent upon the continent of Europe."

Secretary of War Weeks, in The Nation's Business: "The United States is preparing for war that would tax us to the utmost in man-power resources."

Brigadier-General Lassiter: "The units now being definitely established will provide a force of about 3,000,000 men."

Lloyd George: "A new chapter opens in the history of Europe and the world, with a climax of horror such as mankind has never yet witnessed."

Frederick J. Libby: "Airplanes, poison gas and hatred mixed together are spelling the doom of civilization. America is preparing for war on a scale so colossal that it has no parallel in the history of the world. Our civilization will perish unless we strive for international peace."

Dr. Bernard I. Bell: "Before the war people often supposed that ours was a Christian culture. The war has revealed us to ourselves. Civilization is pagan."

H. G. Wells: "We have come to the crossroads and no one knows the way out."

Dr. H. L. Brailsford: "The future is very dark. We have reached the twilight of civilization."

Sir Philip Gibbs: "No man unless he is drunk with optimism can deny that the world is very sick, and it may be a sickness unto death."

Viscount Gray: "I think it is certain that if there be another such war again civilization will never recover from it."

Jesus foretold the gathering of all nations of the world to Armageddon, the great battle of the Lord God. (Revelation 16:13-16.) He furthermore said: "Then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time; no, nor ever shall be; and except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved. But for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened." Millions of people will be brought through the trouble and live. Will you be one of them?

The nations are rapidly hurrying on to this great conflict. International conferences cannot avert it. (Isaiah 8:9-10.) The Lord's remedy is adequate and complete. The Lord is here; the kingdom of heaven is at hand. It is the duty of every honest man to try to aid and comfort his fellow creature in this hour of distress. Let the citizens of the Southwest calmly and quietly assemble to hear the wonderful subject discussed by Judge Rutherford at the Coliseum.

A MESSAGE OF HOPE

During the past few months Judge Rutherford has been heard by great throngs in Europe and America. Royal Albert Hall, the world's greatest assembling place, was packed out, while 15,000 were turned away. On several occasions he has spoken in Los Angeles and at no time have the largest halls been adequate to accommodate the people, and for this reason the local committee has taken the Coliseum with a seating capacity of 75,000. Judge Rutherford will use the new Western Electric speaking device, so that all may distinctly hear.

In this hour of great perplexity and distress of the world we earnestly urge the people of the Southwest to lay aside other matters and come Sunday afternoon to the Coliseum and hear the proof concerning the great battle of Armageddon and what the Lord's remedy is for the blessing of mankind. All peace-loving people owe it to themselves and their children to be informed now upon this great subject.

Multitudes bereaved by the World War and attending sorrows have been comforted by Judge Rutherford's lectures. So great has been the demand for them that they are now furnished in book form with hundreds of Scriptural proof texts. Those unable to hear the lecture may have a copy of "Millions Now Living Will Never Die" or "Can the Living Talk With the Dead?" at 25c. Address I. B. S. A. IN DARKEST LONDON

A scientist counted 340,000 particles of soot in a cubic foot of London air recently. It would seem that if the Londoners could fix up some way to shovel their fog into the furnace it would burn mighty well and keep the town warm.

DOUGH FROM DEAUVILLE

Lucky gamblers broke the bank at Deauville on a recent night and compelled a suspension of play until negotiations were made with some of the local financiers. Taking the dough out of Deauville assumes the hazards of a major surgical operation.

ANTARCTIC WEALTH

To the average individual the Antarctic Ocean is just a frozen waste surrounding the South Pole of no value except to explorers. Yet operations in Antarctic waters this season have yielded $17,000,000 in whale oil. The pole may prove a second Signal Hill, after all. For oil is oil, no matter where it comes from.

THE BIGGEST TANK

At El Segundo the Standard Oil Company is installing a tank that covers twenty acres and will be the greatest single storage reservoir for oil in the world. All by itself it will take care of wells that are flowing 30,000 barrels a day. There are more big tanks in the country now than before prohibition.

RUNNING WILD

It is very evident that jay-walking cannot be quenched by tacking a sign on a post or dropping a picture card. Folks will meander across the highways at their own sweet will unless some brass-buttoned official has authority to warn and check. Even then the officer will not be cheerfully supported.

AT THE GRAVE

Strangest of accidents was that which befell a French woman of charitable fame. She was kneeling beside the grave of her departed daughter when the tombstone toppled over and killed her. There she was found some hours afterward when relatives became alarmed at her absence. Now she is buried beside her child and the monument is being restored to serve a double purpose. One never knows where death stalks.

TEA ON ICE

Americans are having a hard time training their British cousins to drink iced tea, but they are gradually making it. The English are not very strong for iced beverages and the biggest hotel in London has a limited ice supply. During the torrid summer there was not enough to suit the American guests and they made so much fuss about it that the English are now trying to catch up with their refrigeration and are learning to cool their oolong.

A REAL CAVEMAN

One cannot but feel sympathy for the Los Angeles woman who is suing for divorce because her husband, she alleges, disregards knife and fork when eating and conveys food to his mouth by primitive means.

Had he disregarded the fork only, the average reader might have tried to gloss it over, assuming that he is merely an oil millionaire from Oklahoma who had not yet gone through a refinery. It was one of the latter, you may recall, who was credited by a friend with being "The cleanest man I ever saw—he always licks his knife before sticking it into the butter." But when a man persists in attacking his meals with no other weapon than his bare hands it is an indication that his civilization has not even started, much less reached the first fork in the road.

Such a man would be likely, also, to drink his coffee with a roar and partake of soup with such gusto as to drown out conversation.

An amateur sword-swallower or one who partakes of coffee with the muffler cut out may have a heart of gold, but he only goes to prove that there is many a diamond in the rough who ought to be cut, socially.

We, all of us, even the most original and independent, owe a few obligations to society, and anyone who cannot enjoy his meals without sickening others ought to be compelled to eat them in solitary confinement. Whatever his other admitted virtues, he is barred by nature from fitness for life companionship with persons of finer sensibilities, for others have as much right to enjoy their meals as he has. And he deserves no sympathy, for, while no man may be able, by taking thought, to add a cubit to his stature, any man who has any consideration for others can easily compel himself to eat with a semblance of decency. He may never be able to learn which fork to use—lots of us never do that—but so long as he is only asked to use one he can learn to use it unrepulsively.

Even a Carnegie medal on his breast could not and should not make us really love a man who could learn table manners from Hector, the Afredale.

If the facts are as alleged, this particular—or unparticular—husband should be set free to marry some other girl who yearns for a real caveman.

RESIGNATIONS IN ORDER

When, through failure to carry out the popular will or through mistakes or mismanagement, the executives of a government find they have forfeited the people's confidence, they resign—voluntarily or otherwise. When the directors of a great business corporation so mismanage its affairs as to bring it to the verge of bankruptcy and imperil the investments of its stockholders, they also resign—voluntarily or otherwise. When the commissioners who direct the affairs of a great municipal enterprise in which are invested millions of dollars of the people's money and which is both governmental and commercial in its nature find that their policies have sent that enterprise on the rocks, they have a double precedent for promptly offering their resignations.

The candid admission by the Board of Public Service Commissioners that the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light is "broke" and that it must have financial relief from the city treasury in the form of loans and the payment from tax money of the current carrying charges on power bonds, which means increased taxation, is startling proof to the taxpayers of the mismanagement and failure of the hydro-electric power enterprises of the city.

When in 1910 the taxpayers of the city were induced to embark upon the business of generating and distributing hydro-electric power and light as a by-product of the aqueduct, the proponents of the scheme told them that the profits from the business would not alone pay all the carrying and retirement charges on the bonds but would be sufficient to lighten the general tax load.

How have these promises been kept? Taxes instead of being reduced have been directly increased over $6,000,000 to date to carry the power bonds; the city's credit and bonding capacity has been reduced more than $25,000,000 to establish the power plants and distributing lines; the city plants instead of generating power to meet the demands of consumers are shut down entirely at night and running at one-third capacity during the day, and the municipal Bureau of Power and Light is buying two-thirds of the required current from the Southern California Edison Company. The Bureau of Power and Light took over for $12,000,000 the Los Angeles business of the Southern California Edison Company, from which that company had been able to pay taxes, necessary operating expenses and still make money for its stockholders. Under municipal operation this successful business has been turned into a losing venture and it is expected that the taxpayers will be called upon this year to pay $1,000,000 to meet the interest charges on the power bonds with the additional probability that the Bureau of Power and Light will ask the Council for permission to increase the power and light rates 15 per cent, which will mean an additional burden of more than $1,000,000 upon the consumers. The wilful waste of water by the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light last winter is now striking directly at the farmers of the San Fernando Valley, whose irrigation supply has been greatly curtailed. This will be shortly reflected in advances in the price of hay and foodstuffs. Had it not been for the demands of the power plants, the water could have been stored for use in the summer months. As it was, it went directly into the sea.

The proponents of the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light have always declared that this institution was a business enterprise. Very well. Then the board of directors of that institution is the Board of Public Service Commissioners and the taxpayers of Los Angeles are the stockholders who have been and are paying the operating bills directly and by service charges and are now being asked to come across with additional tax money to keep the enterprise going. Thirteen years is certainly a sufficient time for any business institution to find out whether it is heading to success or destruction, and if promised profits have not materialized, due to inefficiency and mismanagement of the board of directors, the stockholders who are always the "goats" in losing business ventures have the right to demand a change of management.

The board of directors of the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light, it is charged and not denied, has robbed the farmers of water, has dissipated its revenues for political propaganda by the ton, for marcel waves for young women propagandists, for gifts and donations to friendly political organizations, for lobbying at Washington and Sacramento, for wasted engineering in Owens River Gorge. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent for "investigations" and on pay rolls loaded down with employees hired on a ratio of two men to do one man's work—for two votes are better than one when it comes to bond issues. Following their own confession of incompetence the board of directors of this bankrupt municipal business should now resign and step down and out before they are fired by the stockholders. Up to this time the Board of Public Service Commissioners has coldly ignored the taxpayers except at election time when a new bond issue was asked for, and then expensive banners are flung to the breezes, "jazz" bands play from city-owned trucks and a perfectly gorgeous publicity campaign is carried on to land more money from the taxpayers for the board to spend. The voters turned down the $35,000,000 power bond issue on June 5, showing that the limit of their patience had been reached. Their next step is apt to be even more pointed unless the Board of Political Propagandists beats them to it by resigning.

A GERMAN MUSSOLINI

Has Germany at last found in Chancellor Stresemann the strong men for whom she has been so long seeking? Or are the glowing accounts of his vigor and ability but the straws clutched by drowning fingers? Will Stresemann turn out to be a Mussolini, possibly a Bismarck? Or will he blow up like the other lesser German leaders since the collapse of the German Empire?

So promising has been the start he has made toward bringing order out of the present German chaos that hopes are running high on this last man on horseback. At present the bets are on his colors. Apparently he knows how to use both the bit and spur. And he has announced with blunt directness that he intends to ride his horse to victory or death.

The new Chancellor may fall down—his sticking power may not be as good as his starting power. But he appears to be the type of man to give the country a run for its money; he also promises to give it money again worth running for; his methods will be Draconic and dictatorial. He is a kill-or-cure surgeon; and Germany has been lingering so long "in extremis" that she can afford to try—perhaps—a dose of his bitter medicine.

That medicine is going to be very bitter to a large number of Teutons. Stresemann, indeed, will have to show himself an extremely strong man to force it down their throats. Once swallowed, however, his pills may purge the financial body and even restore a healthy circulation. And, unless the circulation of its currency is brought back nearer to normal, one of these fine mornings the German heart is going to stop beating altogether.

A leading plank in his financial program will be stern measures against the magnates who have vast sums of German-made money hidden away in foreign holdings. These will have to swear to the exact amount of foreign money they possess. The Chancellor is determined to bring this money back to Germany, even if he has to resort to the last measure of confiscation. This will be applied to all who attempt to swindle the government in giving up foreign currencies or in filing false income returns.

Stresemann frankly announces his intention to assume dictatorial powers and declares that he will thus restore financial and economic order in four weeks. A country in the present condition of Germany can afford to put up with four sharp weeks of dictatorship if it can so swiftly thus remove the lethargy of four years of spiritless drifting.

"This is the last Parliamentary Cabinet in Germany," said Herr Stresemann, "after us there can be only violence." So now the world will watch with interest to see whether the new Chancellor can do for Germany what Mussolini has done for Italy. There seem to be certain countries in Europe that must pass through the doorway of dictatorships before they can enter the banquet room of democracy.

Italy is on the way—and what of Germany?

WAR LOSSES

It has been suggested that it was really Great Britain who gained the most from the war, inasmuch as she extended the boundaries of her far-flung empire. She emerged from the conflict with the German colonies as tangible evidence of her success. Yet a British publicist, casting gloomy and critical eyes over the condition of the empire, asserts that his country really lost the war.

The new colonial possessions make heavy demands on England's flattened purse and require increased colonial armies. Her turbulent subjects in overseas possessions are more restless than hitherto, and the greater number of these people who pay reluctant allegiance to the British crown merely makes the situation more critical. And her dominions, though thoroughly loyal, now make their own treaties and conduct their own affairs with scant attention paid to advice from the mother country.

Before the war practically all of the English people were working; today 1,200,000 men and women are unemployed. Her pre-war debt was $3,500,000,000; it now reaches the terrific total of $40,000,000,000. In 1913 $1,000,000,000 sufficed for all expenses and in 1923 her taxation amounts to $3,500,000,000. All ranks of life are bowed beneath a heavy load of burdensome taxes, from which not even the most optimistic economist sees any relief for years to come.

A rejuvenated Turkey casts threatening shadows over her Near Eastern horizon, and a revival of nationalism among Mohammedans makes her continued tenure of Egypt and India uncertain. Once her prestige was great in China, but now her alliance with Japan is canceled and that country holds the "Flowery Kingdom" under her thumb. Russia and France are not her allies today as they were before the war.

NAKED AND STUPID

There are men who will do anything for money—even to stripping chorus girls to the waist and exposing them to public view at $3 per gaping boob.

But, no matter how many clothes they remove, the managers of the "Artists' and Models' Revue" in New York cannot possibly hope to expose as much of the chorus girls as they have exposed of themselves.

After all, they can only strip the girls down to the bare hide. They have stripped themselves to the soul.

It would be difficult to imagine a more utterly stupid and brainless business move—altogether disregarding the gorilla morals involved.

From such imbecilities arise censorship laws which are designed to protect public morals from debauchment, but which always result in impeding legitimate works of art. The follies of motion-picture censorship which refuse to permit expectant motherhood to be shown on the screen had their inception in similar stupidities on the part of irresponsible elements of the cinema industry.

The "Artists' and Models' Revue" was evolved from a small revue staged by a number of well-known artists, among them being James Montgomery Flagg, Edward Penfield, Claire Briggs, Rube Goldberg, Fontaine Fox, George Merrian and others of equal prominence. It will be interesting to see what action these gentlemen take in the matter.

HOW IT STARTED

BY JEAN NEWTON

A "Fish Story"

The popular use of the term "fish story" to describe a tale that is ridiculous or the truth of which is at least questionable will be accepted as natural enough by all of us who are familiar with the amateur fisherman and his tales of the number of fish he "threw back" or the big ones he almost landed. Even when he has fish to produce he is suspected—"Do you buy them on the corner?"

For the first recorded use of "fish story" in the figurative sense and the beginning of its popularity we have this story which appeared some years ago in the humorous periodical, Puck:

"Have I not told you over and over again that I love you and you only?" he said, "and did I ever tell you an untruth?"

"I would that I could have absolute faith in you," she replied, stifling a sob, "but—but I heard you tell uncle that you once caught a brook trout that weighed three pounds and six ounces."

"Oh, my dear," he replied, "that was only a fish story!"

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE FADS

Oh, where is now the smiling jay who lately raised his cry, "I'm getting better every day, and all my ailments fly?" I saw him in the clanging mart a few short moons ago; his noble ardor broke my heart, it bored and jarred me so. For I could never follow fads, however much I try; for pills
I've always blown my scads and will until
I die. And I feel silly when I say such empty words as these, "I'm getting better every day, I'm shedding all disease." And where are now the faddists brave who thought that slogan high would save them from an early grave? They are not marching by. I do not meet them in the lane or by the Blue Front store; I do not hear that glad refrain around me anymore. I wander through the alleys gray and hear no gent declaim, "I'm getting better every day, the gout has quit my frame." Jim Bungstead threw away the crutch that he had used so long and said, "I do not need it much, I'm getting hale and strong." He threw it from his cottage door and gave a loud "hurroo!" He only nsed that one before and now he's using two. I'm loaded down with fatal ills, but try no healing fads; I stick to Dr. Bunkum's pills and Dingbat's liver pads.

PEN POINTS

It is a long way from the White House looking out.

The Republican Presidential situation is beginning to "jell."

Fashion item—The Coolidge tan has superseded the Harding blue. Oh, gosh!

So far Henry Ford has not broken down and confessed that he is a Democrat.

What a hit President Poincare would make as a collector for an installment house?

It used to be that a patched coat was a sign of poverty. Now it is to ride in the street cars.

The Presidential boom of Oscar Underwood seems to be doing fairly well. Col. Bryan has not yet indorsed it.

Did you know that one man who had served as President died when a member of the Senate? We refer to Andrew Johnson.

A clerk in the Los Angeles postoffice takes all the honors for courtesy. When a patron purchased a postage stamp he smiled and said, "I thank you."

The embattled farmers of the Middle West have let up on their pot-shotting of the politicians. They have discovered that the price of wheat cannot be raised by an act of Congress.

Massachusetts just now is stepping mighty high. She has the President, Secretary of War, majority leader in the Senate and the Speaker of the House. Ohio has been forced into the background to make room for Massachusetts. The old Bay State has come into unexpected power.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion and successor of John Alexander Dowie, says we have no sunset and no sunrise. What we call these things are optical illusions, says Wilbur Glenn, etc. What a happy thing it would be if we could explain the presence of the headmaster of the Illinois Zion by the same line of argument.

There are some unpleasant sides to the gasoline war, for it may send the independent producers into the bankruptcy courts. The big oil producers thrive on ruinous competition. The States of the flivverring West are gayly bludgeoning the "oil trust" into doing the very thing for which they damned it years ago when Judge Landis fined it $29,000,000. With the cheaper production that is possible on the part of the "trust" and a war chest which former profits make almost inexhaustible it can stand the gaff of selling gasoline at a loss long after the Sheriff has pasted sale bills on the tanks of the little fellows.

THIS IS THE DAY

Secretary of War Stanton of President Lincoln's Cabinet ordered the military governor of the coast islands of South Carolina to enlist 5000 volunteers of "African descent" to serve in the Union armies during the Civil War in the year 1862. During the first sixteen months of the Civil War the Union leaders enlisted no negro soldiers.

THE PANTS THAT MOTHER MADE

BY LEE SHIPPEY

We praise her biscuits and her pies,
Her doughnuts and her cake,
But where's the man who sighs for pants
Like mother used to make?

She used to take a pair of pa's,
When they were worn and frayed,
And decorate 'em with a patch
Of some contrasting shade

And cut 'em off about the knees
And take the waist in, too,
And say that they, for every day,
Were just the thing for you.

We dream about her peach preserves,
Her puddings and her steak,
But where's the man who sighs for pants
Like mother used to make?

It was some years ago, before I had children of my own, that I indulged in the foregoing reflections. And when I first wrote them the lines were sincere. But now I know of at least one man who sighs for pants like mother used to make. It is I. But I do not sigh for them for myself. It is for my lusty boys that I yearn for them.

It seems to me, and I believe many another dad will bear me out, that the most convincing arguers for birth control right now are the dealers in children's clothing. You might think they'd be doing their best to encourage infant industry, but it seemeth not so.

In the good old days when families were large it didn't cost much to dress a youngster, especially the younger youngsters. The eldest son and the eldest daughter sometimes knew the thrill of wearing store clothes when they were new, but those at the small end of the line could see their future garments coming a number of months ahead. The way to get a new suit in those days was to grow out of the old one and grow up to the next. It wasn't much fun for the kiddies, but everybody was doing it, so they didn't mind much. And it certainly was a stimulus to growth. I can well remember a period when I put in most of my spare time hanging by my toes, chinning myself and doing similar stunts on our improvised trapeze in an effort to stretch myself out enough to qualify for a suit of my older brother's which I especially fancied before somebody beat me to it.

Nowadays such things are almost unheard of. But do the manufacturers and dealers appreciate the change and encourage it? Not if I can judge by my vacillating checkbook.

To begin with the first layer, I can buy a union suit for myself for half what it costs to get a single undershirt for the baby. This is rather personal stuff, I confess, but it is a subject which hits all of us parents right next to the skin. And then, to begin at the bottom, I have to pay half as much for a tiny pair of shoes for the baby, which he will crawl a hole through in three weeks, as for a pair of number nines for myself, which will last a year. If I'm willing to risk my 3-year-old's life in a cotton bathing suit I can get away cheap, but I've been reading the ads and the cheapest woolen bathing suit for a child I've seen was priced $3.50. I can get solid socks for myself cheaper than I can get equally solid ones for that same 3-year-old. And if you think it's any trick to spend $10 for a boy's knicker suit with about enough cloth in it to make one-third of a man's three-piece suit just go try and become better informed.

What are the manufacturers of children's clothing thinking of? Are they bent on forcing the one-child family on an already overwilling world? There's no particular fit to young children's clothes, they come nearer to running to standard sizes than grown folks do—that is, the mother of every 3-year-old in the country will proudly tell you she has to buy all his clothes four-year size to get them big enough. So the prices of children's clothing, compared to grown folks', quantity and quality of material and workmanship considered, seem out of all proportion.

If we could have bought our tiny lad a woolen bathing suit for $1.50 or $1.75 we would have grabbed it gladly. As it is, the machine in the next room has been whirring for twenty minutes. An old jersey of mine is being made into a diminutive bathing suit. And the dreamy whirr of the machine brings the poetic muse to me once more:

'Tis not her custards nor her jams,
Her tarts or jelly cake
We dads miss most, but those small clothes
That mother used to make.

SILENT CAL AND THE WILD MEN

You may talk of silent Cal,
And of things he doesn't say,
We'll grant that he may listen
While a few wild asses bray;
But when it comes to thinking
And to working things out right,
All our roaring Borah-Johnsons
Soon will recognize their plight.

Yes, he may have silent moments,
But his brain is working clear,
And he'll steer the old ship safely
While these howlers die of fear;
He attended to his business
While he held the job as Vice,
Now he's seated at the rudder
And he'll do it just as nice.

Now ye die-hards, knockers, talkers
Take this tip—and keep your poise,
For you'll surely hear him speaking
When real brains should make a noise.
For with Cal and Hughes and Hoover
At the rudder of the state
There'll be wild-BOAR-ahs and Johnsons
Standing weeping at the gate.

J. C. CRISLER.

It used to be that one of the arguments against the use of cigarettes was that it made the man so effeminate. But, of course, that was a long time ago.

Before you stop to think of it, [illegible] isn't one of us who hasn't [illegible] heard the story about "locking the [illegible] when the horse is taken." Think of doing your washing all yourself and yet never touching it. Sounds like a conundrum, doesn't it? But that is exactly what happens when you have a Laun-dry-ette, because the clothes are washed, blued and dried for the line without your putting a finger on them. Perhaps this sounds almost too good to be true. Well, then, why don't you investigate? Ivan De Jough, 1518 W. Seventh street, is the distributor for this city. He will be glad to demonstrate it to you.

Nobody wants to be bothered with ants the whole time, yet so persistent are they that in California that only a system which is permanent like "Calpro," satisfactory like "Calpro" and economical like "Calpro" can rid you of them. Be decisive. Resolve to investigate the cost of installing this system about the house. One thing is certain; you are certain to be made happy over the results which you are sure to get. Phone Beacon 360 or write the Calpro Co., 1842 W. Washington St.

Don't put it off another day. What? Why, trying a package of "Tater-Flakes," of course! Every day you neglect this you are denying yourself just so much pleasure. Until you've eaten some of these delicious morsels you can't possibly imagine how they'll add to a meal and really solve that eternal question "What kind of potatoes shall we have?" You might stop in at the store where they are made, 811 W. 6th street, and take home a package or two for tonight's dinner.

Nothing ever said in complimentary vein of Honey Bread could be an exaggeration! No praise could be too high, for everything that can be done to make bread excellent has been done. The very best of materials, kneeded in the most careful manner and baked painstakingly, it is truly the "bread that made mother stop baking." Your grocer surely carries it.

Sharp incision with a knife down the length of a cucumber before serving adds to its attractive appearance when sliced and served.

All of us have our "pet" economies, that you must concede. Oftimes they are laughable and very frequently they put us further in the hole than ever. Take, for instance, the family washing, isn't it something to dread and haven't you often had one week's laundry work run into the next? The result too often means overwrought nerves, cross tempers and neglected husband, children and house. Don't do it any longer, for the Crown Laundry can take your bundle of troubles (meaning the soiled clothes) and wash them so beautifully and clean in real, real soft water, pure soap and lots of it, and iron them so carefully and well that when returned you will almost want to hop up and down with glee. Don't forget that bundles sent to the Crown the last of the week are washed at a saving of quite a few pennies.

To cook potatoes, boil twenty-five to forty minutes; turnips, boil from forty to sixty minutes; beets, boil from one to two hours before peeling; parsnips, boil from thirty to fifty minutes; spinach, boil twenty to thirty minutes; onions, boil in two or three waters, forty-five to sixty minutes.

"Penny wise and pound foolish you are, Carissima Mia, if you think that you are dealing fairly with your 'tummie' when you eat at any old place," was the council offered a stranger in the city by a resident of many years. After which she broke forth into the most eloquent praise of Herbert's Ladies' Grill, which really amounted to a eulogy on the superpalatableness of each morsel of food partaken of within their unusually beautiful dining-room. Why, after talking with her each woman present was impatient for the morrow to come so that Herbert's might be put to the test. You, too, will feel that mere words are incapable of doing justice to the good things which may be had in the afternoons, especially. The address, Hill street just below Seventh.

Black tea is best to use for ice tea. It need not be as expensive a brand as that which you use ordinarily.

Recipe for a successful evening: A little music, a little brilliant conversation, and a whole lot of Hughes delicious ice cream. How your guests will exclaim over its goodness. "positively the best I've ever tasted," you'll hear one fastidious person remark, and you'll know that your little entertainment has been a triumph, with no annoying preparations on your part beforehand. Buy Hughes Ice Cream from the dealer with the yellow and white sign, or direct from the company, if you prefer.

Beat the butter to a cream and gradually work in the first measure of sugar (the sugar should be well pressed down in the cup.) Beat the egg yolks; beat in the second measure of sugar, the raisins, and melted chocolate. Sift together the flour, soda and spices and add them to the first mixture alternately with the water and sour milk; lastly, fold in the egg whites, beaten very light. Turn into a tube loaf cake pan. Split the almonds and press one edge of each half nut in the top of the cake; sift the sugar over the almonds and top of the cake. Bake about fifty minutes.

Keep your family in good health and good spirits by serving them the best possible food cooked in your own imitable manner, and remember that for a successful meal there must be the combination of the two, for no matter how carefully food is prepared, if it isn't the best quality to begin with the result is a failure. Yes, there's a moral to this—do your marketing at Young's and you never need worry.

No particular housewife can endure the sight of furniture which bears signs of the carelessness due to the placing of a hot platter on the shining surface or the tell-tale marks which water or a liquid never fails to leave. Let's make these furniture, the floors, and woodwork water-proof and at the same time prevent the repetition of such aforementioned disasters. "Water-Spar" will make your tables and chairs better than new, and is quite the finest thing for every kind of a floor, and what is more, it is made in heaps of new colors as well as the transparent so you can accomplish wonders with a few cans and a brush. What to do? Call up the Patton-Pitcairn Division, 928 S. Main street, and let them advise you where you may buy Water-Spar in your neighborhood, 876967 is the number.

It is hard to tell why Castruccio Brothers' Pure Olive Oil is so vastly superior unless 'tis because it is made in Sunny Italy from olives grown on century-old trees whose fruit has taken on the rare flavor which only old trees can impart. Lets use more of it! Your salads and fish frying really demand the best so why not insist upon your grocer sending a can without further delay.

An absolute necessity for a good night's sleep is a comfortable pillow, not one of those slim kind that look like a map in relief, nor yet the hard variety that make you wish you'd slept on the soft floor, but that nice comfy, happy medium such as you find at Samank Bros., 725-27 W. 9th. Covered with linen and made of the finest feathers are these particular pillows, just built for a refreshing nap.

Pour the fudge you wish to cool quickly into cup cake tins. This has been found most satisfactory.

Interesting to note how many people who have once tasted Clee Koe Coffee never will use anything else. "My day is simply ruined without it," a friend confided, and then went on to tell of its merits. "It's so rich in flavor, yet never leaves you with that unpleasantly heavy feeling, and it is ground just right. No sediment at the bottom of the cup to spoil the last swallow." Perhaps you are dissatisfied with the coffee you're using? Then change to Clee Koe by all means. Phone Vermont 4351.

To keep meal from lumping while making mush, mix with a little cold water. Then you can pour the whole amount in at once.

Play days can't go on forever, can they? Nor can vacations last always, and yet it is just as pleasant to get back into harness again, as it were, and do all the things which you had time to plan while resting near the sea or high amid the mountains. Did you not promise yourself a pleasanter, cleaner kitchen to work in on your return? You know Frederick O'Brien "Wedgewood" brand of White Paint and Enamel is a winner! You simply cannot conceive of the "like china" finish it imparts, nor of the fun it gives to apply, nor of the wearing qualities until you give it a trial. Let me know if your dealer hasn't it.

Make a large pitcher of tea in the morning after breakfast and set in refrigerator. When cool by luncheon time it will be nicely chilled.

Take a piece of paper and write on it a memo, as follows, "I mustn't forget to order from my grocer, several packages of White King Washing Machine Soap in granule form. I've determined to have my dishes, my woodwork and my clothes all spic and span, fairly radiating cleanliness, and I know that White King is the solution."

Then pin this reminder in some conspicuous place and congratulate yourself, for truly, you are a wise woman.

To one cupful of boiled dressing add one tablespoonful each of hard-boiled egg chopped fine, minced onion, green pepper, pimento, paprika and salt to taste. Mighty fine.

Everyone knows that awnings are truly essential to one's comfort during the summer in California and they are equally as desirable from the standpoint of beauty in the winter. BY CHEF A. L. WYMAN, M.C.A.

D. W. H., Santa Ana, says that she has read our recipes for the last three years with much profit and interest, and sends her recipe for sponge cake and asks if she can add cocoa to it, also asks for recipes for a cake made with egg yolks, sugar cookies, a boiled dressing made with egg yolks, pear and ginger preserves, and pear and pineapple preserves.

CHOCOLATE SPONGE CAKE

Beat half a cup of butter to a cream, add the well-beaten yolks of three eggs and four tablespoons of ground chocolate, beat well and add one cup of sugar, one teaspoon of cinnamon, a pinch of mace, and one-quarter of a teaspoon of cloves, beat ten minutes; add half a cup of cold water and beat smooth. Sift one cup of sifted flour with three level teaspoons of baking powder and beat into the mixture with the well-beaten whites of three eggs. Bake in layer tins fifteen minutes in a moderate oven.

GOLD CAKE

Beat to a cream half a cup of butter and beat into it one cup of sifted powdered sugar, add the yolks of six eggs, and beat until light. Sift two cups of sifted flour with three level teaspoons of baking powder and beat into the mixture alternately with two-thirds of a cup of milk and the grated rind and juice of one orange. Bake in layers in a moderate oven.

SUGAR COOKIES

Sift into a bowl two cups of sifted flour, make a well in the center and put in half a cup of butter, three-quarters of a cup of sifted powdered sugar, and two eggs. Kneed all together until a smooth stiff dough is formed. Wrap the dough in a cloth and place in the ice box for two hours. Roll out thin, cut in desired shapes, place on buttered and floured pan, and bake in a moderate oven seven minutes.

BOILED SALAD DRESSING

Place in the top of a double boiler one teaspoon of sugar, half a teaspoon of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoon of mustard, and a few grains of Cayenne pepper; mix well add the slightly beaten yolks of two eggs, four tablespoons of water, and four tablespoons of lemon juice or vinegar. Mix and place over hot water, place on the stove and stir until it thickens. Remove from the fire and beat into it two tablespoons of butter broken in small bits; beat until cold.

PRESERVES

For the pear and ginger preserves make a syrup of four pounds of sugar and four cups of water, add the strained juice of one lemon, boil up and skim. Peel, core and quarter five pounds of pears and lay in the hot syrup with one pound of scraped green ginger. Cook slowly until the pears are tender, about thirty minutes, skim out the fruit, pack in jars, boil up the syrup and pour over the fruit. Seal hot and store in a cool, dark, dry place.

For the pear and pineapple preserves make a syrup as for the pear and ginger preserves, peel core, and quarter five pounds of pears, lay in the hot syrup and cook slowly for twenty minutes, add six slices of canned pineapple cut in quarters and finish cooking. Seal hot and store in a cool, dark, dry place.

SWEET PICKLED GRAPES

M. L. W., Redlands, requests recipes for sweet pickled grapes and chili sauce in pound and quart measurements. She also would like to know how to make a soft, flaky layer cake as served by one of the railroad eating houses.

Remove the stems and weigh firm, ripe grapes. For seven pounds of the stemmed grapes make a syrup with four pounds of sugar, one quart of vinegar, and a spice bag containing half an ounce of stick cinnamon, half an ounce of mace, and half an ounce of whole cloves. Bring to a boil, skim, and boil five minutes; place the grapes in a large bowl and pour over the boiling syrup, drain off the syrup, bring to a boil and pour over the grapes again. Let stand over night, drain off the syrup, bring to a boil, pour over the grapes, let stand over night and repeat the next day. Seal hot.

CHILI SAUCE

To two quarts of peeled and chopped tomatoes add four tablespoons of finely chopped onion, four tablespoons of finely chopped sweet green pepper, four tablespoons of finely chopped sweet red pepper, four tablespoons of brown sugar, one tablespoon of ground ginger, two teaspoons of cinnamon, two teaspoons of mustard, one tablespoon of ground nutmeg, two teaspoons of ground mace, one-quarter of a teaspoon of Cayenne pepper, and two and a half tablespoons of salt. Boil, stirring often, for two hours; add two cups of vinegar and boil very slowly for one hour. Bottle and seal hot.

GUINEA FOWL

J. H. J., Summit, bought a pair of guinea fowl and as they make so much noise she wants to know how to cook them.

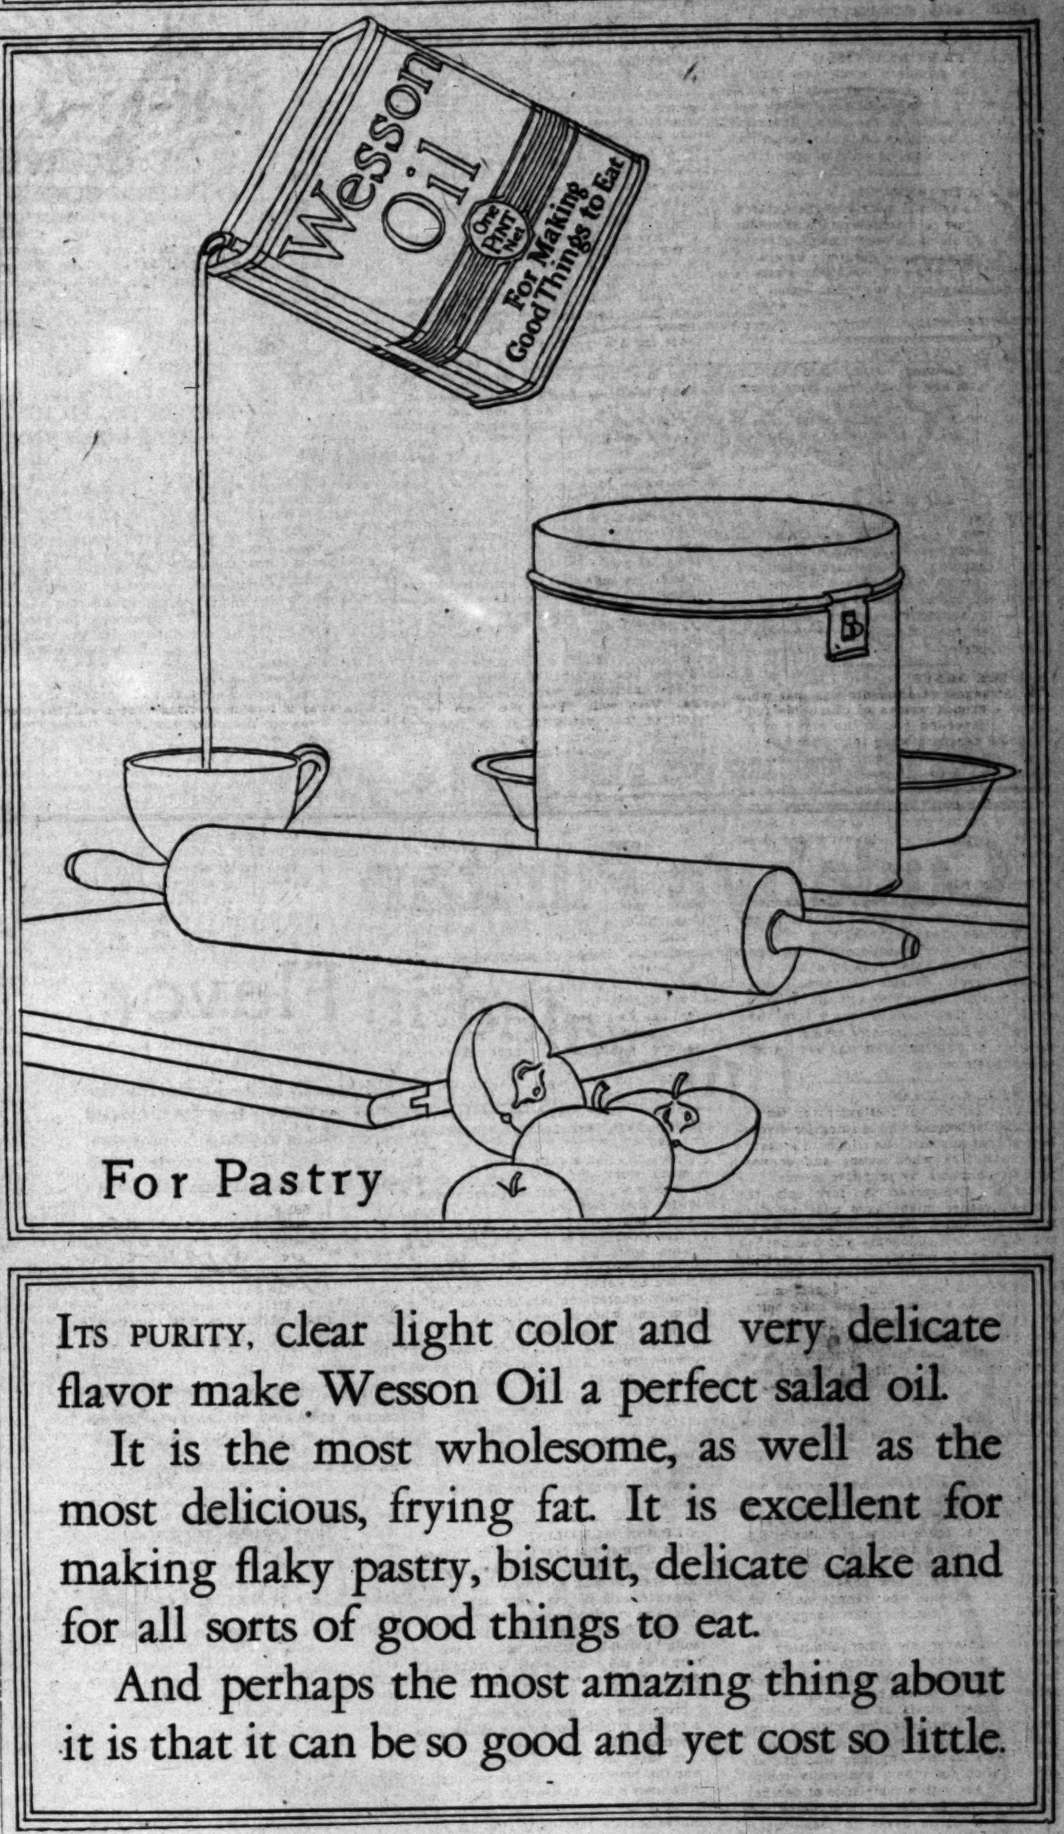
The flesh of the guinea fowl is excellent, being both savory and digestible. The fowl should be killed, cleaned and dressed forty-eight hours before cooking. Stuff with a dressing made of four cups of bread crumbs, two tablespoons of chopped capers, one tablespoon of chopped onion, one tablespoon of chopped parsley, half a cup of melted butter and a seasoning of salt and paprika. Truss, place in a covered baking pan, lay two strips of fat bacon on the breast, place in the pan half a cup of water, one stalk of celery, one sliced carrot, one bay leaf, one small onion stuck with a whole clove, and two branches of parsley. Bake in a moderate oven; if a covered roasting pan is not used the fowl should be basted constantly or the flesh will be dry.

Mrs. Boyd makes the best pies we ever tasted. She sends us this recipe for pie crust, with the comment that she never knew it to fail.

Sift into a mixing bowl one and one-half cups of flour and one-half teaspoon of baking powder (made one-third soda, two-thirds cream of tartar). Make a depression in the centre. Into this pour a generous half cup of Wesson Oil and an exact one-half cup of very cold (or ice) water. Add a pinch of salt. Mix quickly with a fork and divide in two portions. Do not knead, but roll on a well-floured board, spread on pans, fill and bake at once in a quick oven.

The ingredients should be cold, and do not knead or re-roll. The dough must not stand, but the whole process must be completed as rapidly as possible.

Do not pinch or crimp the edge of the pie. To do so makes a hard edge that no one cares to eat. Instead, trim the edges in the usual way, then place the palms of the hands on opposite sides of the pie and raise the dough until the edges stand straight up. This prevents all leaking and the crust is tender to the last morsel.



ITS PURITY, clear light color and very delicate flavor make Wesson Oil a perfect salad oil.

It is the most wholesome, as well as the most delicious, frying fat. It is excellent for making flaky pastry, biscuit, delicate cake and for all sorts of good things to eat.

And perhaps the most amazing thing about it is that it can be so good and yet cost so little.

SCHOOL KEEPS ON RADIO WAVE

Lesson in Correct Speaking Broadcast by KHJ

Nebraska Crickets Answer "Times" Soloist

Pianist-Composers Present Own Selections

BY BEN A. MARKSON

It may be that in the future schools will be conducted by radio. Uncle John has long held the opinion that some day most of instruction will be carried on by teachers who will broadcast lessons to students sitting in their homes. If so, generations to come may trace the first class conducted by radio to KHJ, The Times, with Marshall Stedman, prominent dramatic instructor, as tutor.

Mr. Stedman brought a class of twelve pupils to The Times studio yesterday afternoon and went on the air with a lesson in correct speaking. The importance of enunciation was impressed upon the pupils in the studio and those who were listening in. Those present study with Mr. Stedman at the Egan School of Dramatic Art. Among them were several who have appeared on children's programs at KHJ. A number of Mr. Stedman's inimitable poems for children were recited.

SIXTEEN IN CLASS

The class consisted of Mary Shipp, Frances Jen Ritchie, Emerson Frome Livingston, Virginia Nelson, Gladys Scrivner, Lou Rada Ray, Herman Title, Elizabeth Payne, Helen Payne, Alice Adelle Felix, George Neff, King Evers, George Vieira, Laura Jane, Jeanette Whitler and Orma Davey. They range in age from 7 to 12 years.

A novelty of a different sort—the newest jest in Radioland—was the broadcasting of a solo by a cricket in The Times studio, with piano accompaniment, shortly after midnight. This was the second appearance on the air of Mr. Cricket, but it was the first time that his song was given musical background. Mr. Ormiston announced to listeners-in that the cricket would sing "Chirping For You." The solo lasted five minutes. Letters and telephone calls signified the success of the cricket concert. From Omaha, Neb., came a telegram signed by John Yelser. It read: "Your California cricket started our Nebraska crickets to answering."

Don Milligan, pianist-composer, arranged the night program, presenting fellow composers and soloists. His own offerings included two of his latest successes, "That Wonderful Dream of You," and "Mother Mine, Love Divine." Don Milligan is rapidly gaining recognition through the worth of his compositions.

OWN SELECTIONS PLAYED

Lora McMinn Farris, pianist-composer, favored with a list of her own selections, pleasing in theme and melody. The most captivating of those played was "California Poppy." A sacred intermezzo, a March in D Flat, and a Melody, also in D Flat, comprised the other piano numbers.

The soloists presented were Zola Powelson, mezzo-soprano, Billy Hamer, tenor; Mable Price, vocalist; and Carl S. Kegley, pianist-composer. They favored with excellent selections, drawing the praise of hearers.

A feature of the program was a one-act comedy by Max Maurey, entitled "Rosalie." It was arranged for radio broadcast and presented by the Speech-Arts Guild of Los Angeles.

The cast was composed of Raymond Stafford, Virginia Scott, and Mildred Northmore. The setting was supposed to be the parlor of a residence in Paris. The air audience was quick to sense the humor in the playlet due to the ability and personality of the players.

AT THE NOON HOUR

Inez Florita, a splendid girl baritone, sang during the noon hour. She was given piano accompaniment by Pauline Barnes Tarver, a graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music. Voice and piano carried delightfully the numbers including "Just a Wearying for You," by Carrie Jacobs Bond; "Kashmiri Song," from "Indian Love Lyrics," and "Carolina Mammy."

Piano solos of beauty were given by Alice Lee Wiley, a charming and capable musician. Her interpretation of Chopin's fascinating and tragic "Ballade in A Flat," was exquisite, the melody conveying the moods of this fairly tale in music. "Romance," by Grunfeld, and "Valse Parisienne," by Schutt, were rendered with musical ease.

Jack Wolf, Los Angeles poet, read "The Bridge Builders," one of his best works.

Original poems were read to the children during the evening program by Alice S. Knox, poetess and reader. The program was given over mainly to organ music from the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Arthur Blakeley, organist. The superb recital was broadcast by direct line telephony.

CASE CONTINUED TO HEAR GIRL'S STORY

The preliminary hearing of Fred Rubio and Edward Roy Lewis, charged with holding up and robbing Charles Gobeille on Long Beach Boulevard, was continued yesterday by Justice Forbes until today. The suspects were arraigned yesterday morning and their preliminary hearing was begun in the afternoon, the case being expedited under the new section of the law passed by the last Legislature. The two men are asserted to have held up the victim while he was driving along Long Beach Boulevard with Miss Dorothy Smith. They are asserted to have robbed Gobeille of all his money and then to have taken the machine with the girl in it. Justice Forbes continued the hearing so that the girl's testimony might be obtained.

SOURCE OF JAZZ HOTLY DISPUTED

Mania Due to Drum's Spell, Says One Dance Master

Carrot and Lettuce Diet Did It, Counters Another

Present Styles Found Best Since World War

Is jazzmania due to a diet of carrots and lettuce, or to the syncopation of the saxophone player or rhythm of the drums?

Ernest E. Ryan.

Jazz music is responsible for the jazz craze of today," said O. P. C. Heinemann of Boston, retiring president of the American National Association of Masters of Dancing that closes its fortieth annual convention today at the Ernest E. Ryan School of Dancing in this city.

A diet of spinach is the cause of the drummer giving those many cracks to his cowbells, thus asserting his musical bent, or the violinist squealing out a high E-string, or the graceful girl executing a lot of uncalled-for wriggles and shakes, if the theory of Mrs. Ida B. Allen of New York City, nationally known dietitian and expert is correct.

"The jazz age," Mrs. Allen says, "is due to the improved diet of today. The world now understands the value of vitamines."

DIET REPORTED FACTOR

Craving for snappy music that makes one pounce up and down instead of progressing forward as the dancing masters insist is the proper way to dance, is due to persons being better fed today than they were when our grandmothers danced the lancers, the polka or a stately minuet, according to the national dietitian.

"That is not true," said Mr. Heinemann. "Jazz music, with its unharmonious sounds, its jangling and noise is the cause for dancers doing all the improper steps we see on the dance floors.

"The American National Association is working through supervisors and managers to have the right sort of music played for the public ballroom that we might do away with the objectionable dancing. We find dancing much better this year than for any year since the World War.

Mrs. Ernest E. Ryan.

"The waltz with its refining influence, which is coming more into favor all the time, always gives the right sort of atmosphere to the public dance. We are asking supervisors to have several waltzes played every evening, and to eliminate jazz music."

"Show me," challenges Mrs. Allen of New York, in a recent interview, "the man of sixty who has a proper diet of vitamines who cannot dance until 3 o'clock in the morning and still have pep."

Mrs. Allen recommends mixing food with business. She thinks that big concerns should serve tea to their employees during the afternoon.

WILL BAR JAZZ MUSIC

The dancing masters will not ask dancers to cut out their diet of salads and other green stuff in order to dance properly, but this year will find each member of the American National Association of Masters of Dancing, according to Mr. Heinemann, working along lines to eliminate jazz dancing entirely by having jazz music barred from the public dance.

The last session of the convention will be held today. The installation of officers and cotillion of the association was held Friday night at the Ryan school. The association passed resolutions thanking Mr. and Mrs. Ryan for the use of their beautiful ballroom for the convention, and the Southern California Society Teachers of Dancing for the way in which they have entertained the visiting teachers and made their trip to Los Angeles one to be long remembered.

REALTY BROKER LOSES LICENSE

Dishonest Dealing Charged to E. I. Bryant

First to Fall in Toils Since Act Took Effect

Irregularities in Lease Transaction Noted

E. I. Bryant is the first Los Angeles real-estate broker to suffer loss of license since the new amendment to the real-estate law went into effect the 17th inst. Edwin T. Keiser, State Real Estate Commissioner, yesterday revoked Bryant's license on charges brought against the broker by F. J. Logsdon.

Under the new law Bryant may appeal to the Superior Court, as in the past. However, he will be required to file a bond, this bond to be whatever amount is set by the court. In view of the fact that under the new law a broker must file bond of $3000 to secure a license it is believed that appeal bonds will be set no lower than this figure.

The complaint filed by Mr. Logsdon against E. I. Bryant asserts "conduct constituting dishonest dealing in connection with a real-estate transaction." The specific charge made by Mr. Logsdon was that he had paid E. I. Bryant $100 to apply on the purchase price for a ten-year lease on the Figueroa Hotel.

In the finding of fact Commissioner Keiser asserts that this $100 was paid to Bryant, that it was impossible to secure the lease referred to and that upon being informed of this fact the plaintiff demanded of the defendant the $100 intrusted to him.

The commissioner further asserts that in response to such demand, the defendant, on March 28, last, delivered to the complainant a check drawn on the Hellman Bank, Los Angeles that the said check was signed by the defendant, that the complainant presented the check for payment several times and that each time the bank rejected it on the grounds that the defendant did not have sufficient funds to cover it, and that the defendant had never returned the $100 intrusted to him although he had sufficient funds in other banks to repay the complainant.

In the findings it is also asserted that the defendant "at no time denied his responsibility for the return of the $100 to the complainant, but acknowledged such responsibility by repeated promises to repay said amount."

The Logsdon complaint was one of three against Bryant heard by the Real Estate Commissioner. Both of the others are now under submission. These are the complaints of Mrs. Luella Plummer and Mrs. Cora H. Blackmore.

Hearing on the Blackmore matter lasted more than a week and was closed the 15th inst. In this case Mrs. Blackmore charged that Bryant had induced her to invest $1000 of the money she received in insurance following her husband's death.

She asserted that after this investment and after putting up half of the expenses of the office and working there over a period of nine months, she received $125. She also charged that Bryant finally induced her to sell her one-half interest in the business for $250 and that a few days later he sold a one-third interest for $1500.

Mrs. Luella Plummer asserted in her complaint that there had been irregularities in connection with her purchase of the Figueroa Hotel. Bryant handled this deal as broker.

Wedded Sixteen Years to Insane Wife Is His Plea

John H. Evans was married to an insane woman for sixteen years before he realized she was out of her mind, he states in an annulment petition filed in Superior Court yesterday.

Then, he declares, he had her examined and she was at once committed to an asylum, where she has been ever since. His wife is Mrs. Edith I. Evans, whom he married twenty-four years ago.

Mr. Evans says he was married in August, 1899. His wife was adjudged insane in 1915. The husband states that he then gathered the facts of her past life. At ten years of age she attempted to kill her mother by throwing her down a well, he avers. Two years before her marriage she shot and killed a man and was acquitted of murder, he says. In the same year, he declares, she shot and seriously wounded herself.

The husband says that he was ignorant of these incidents until he began an investigation in 1915. He states that his wife acted peculiarly on many occasions during their married life, but that he did not realize she was insane until he returned to California from a business trip East in 1915.

PROPRIETORSHIP vs "MANAGERSHIP"

Every CERTIFIED GROCER is a citizen of the community in which he is located. This fact bases and suggests many sound, economics, as well as patriotic and finer sentimental reasons for placing your food product patronage with him.

As a citizen of your community, your civic, social, welfare and philanthropic projects and problems are likewise his. As a fellow-citizen he sits with you in community councils and carries on with you in all community affairs.

This adherent relationship between your CERTIFIED GROCER and you is in striking contrast to purely "exploitative absenteeism," to which appeals for support in community affairs fall upon unauthorized, if not uninterested ears. And, anyhow, service for service, it usually costs less at a CERTIFIED GROCERY.

NEW AUTO RULE URGED FOR CITY

Vollmer Would Take Control From Police

Declares Traffic Problem is for Trained Experts

this. The police department actually has records of over 42,000 accidents occuring in the city of Los Angeles, saying nothing about the great number that actually occurred. We actually have the records of nearly 17,000 people seriously injured, many so badly injured that they will never recover. We have the record of nearly 400 people kiled in Los Angeles.

"If we had that number of people killed by hold-up men and bandits, every man, and woman in this town would be aroused to action and insist upon a vigilance committee taking immediate action and hanging somebody. No attention is given to this serious condition that is going on in this town and growing every year in proportion to the population."

EXPLAINS POSITION

Chief Vollmer explained after the meeting that he had meant that the directing as well as the enforcing body should be separate from police administration, just as the State Motor Vehicle Department and the forest service have nothing to do with other policing systems.

Chief Vollmer, of traffic remedies generally, had this to say:

"The traffic problem is the biggest problem that you have in the city today, and I venture to say that those of you who have made any study of traffic will agree that Los Angeles is without question the most difficult city in the world to protect and regulate as to traffic.

"We made an intimate study of three different cities to discover all the facts that were involved in traffic accidents, and this is briefly what we learned:

"That in 90 per cent of the cases the accidents occur in the best streets in town, on perfectly clear days. Not on a rainy day or a foggy day, but on a perfectly clear day, on a good street. Thirdly, we discovered that about 75 per cent of these accidents occurred through persons driving touring cars, and that the driver of the car was the owner of the car.

EDUCATION NEEDED

"That suggests, of course, some means of education of the motoring public. When the owner of a car in perfectly good repair (I forgot to mention that fact) on a good street and on a perfectly clear day collided with another car, obviously something was wrong. It was due to the carelessness of the individual in many cases; it was due to absolute ignorance in many cases; it was due to criminal tendencies in some. It was due to lack of regard for the other fellow's rights in still others, and in many of them it was due to the absolute inability of the man to control and drive a car in safety on any street whatever.

"I think that every person who has ever had anything to do with the matter will agree with me that the regulations, whatever they may be, should be very simple. I doubt very much whether the traffic officers in this city, who are charged with the enforcement of the traffic regulations, know all of the traffic regulations. In some places you can stop forty minutes, in others twenty minutes, and in others no parking whatever is allowed. At some corners left-hand turns are permitted and at others left-hand turns are prohibited. And so on through all the various regulations.

SPECIALISTS NEEDED

"Now it seems to me that the one most important thing before your commission is the modifying of these traffic regulations. I believe that the most important thing you have before you is the appointment of a group of men who are specialists in that field, and I mean not only specialists in record keeping, but traffic engineers, and men who have interests of all types. All should be interested generally in the business of the community. These men should get together to work out a very simple law. Until people are familiar with the regulations, until they are able to understand what you want them to do, we are going to be continually arresting the best people in the community.

"I have been told that in Los Angeles 65,000 people were arrested last year for violation of traffic regulations—65,000 people. Perhaps 90 per cent of them represented the best people in the community. Those people, I feel confident that 90 per cent of them want to comply with the law. They don't know what the law is, and we don't signifyt o them by the right sort of signs, what the law is, so that they can comply with it. We should have signals drives may read, so that the man who really wants to comply with the law may be notified what the law is.

"Again, it strikes me that we have a very important duty to perform, in that there are too many men driving cars who are utterly incapable of ever learning how to drive a car and who under no circumstances should be permitted to drive a car.

"I suppose that you know that the insane patients now confined in hospitals for the insane, may make application for an operator's license, and get it, and any feebleminded child, or any feebleminded man, regardless of his age, if he has the ability to fill out that application for an operator's license, will be granted a license. The blind, the deaf, the armless, the footless, all are permitted to get an operator's license. Any man, woman or child who can sign his name, or can get someone else to sign it for him, can get an operator's license. What an impossible situation!

"Some people are temperamentally unfitted to drive a car. Those people should be deprived of the privilege of operating a car. In that connection it seems to me that this fact should be taken into consideration. I believe that when a man is reckless, that one of three things should happen. The car should be taken away from him, his license to operate a car should be taken away from him, or his liberty should be taken away from him.

SHOULD LOSE LICENSE

"In extreme cases, where we know the man is reckless and an old offender, he should be put in jail and he should have his license taken away. I don't mean on a single offense, but I mean when that man has demonstrated to the satisfaction of an intelligent commission that he is not capable of operating a car in safety, that man should be deprived of operating a car.

"Now then, I also believe that it is the duty of every single man who drives a motor vehicle, who has respect for law and who has some regard for his own safety and that of his friends, to report to the traffic officers, whoever they may be, the reckless offenders that he sees on the streets. It isn't just the policeman's job."

Miller McClintock of the Bureau for municipal research of Harvard University, who is a local man, also argued for more expert direction of traffic. He has made a country-wide study of the subject, and declared that conditions in Los Angeles are no worse than in some eastern cities, and that the outlook is better here because there is an eagerness to correct them that is lacking in the East. He said he asked an official in New York to account for the apathy toward traffic problems, and he was told that it was not apathy but hopelessness.

"Hopelessness and Los Angeles," he said, "are paradoxical."

CRUISE TRIALS ARE DIFFICULT

laboring "like hell," the Frontiers? man tied up at dock with barely half a ton of coal in her bunkers.

Members of the ship's company are all men of good type, out for the fun of the thing. They belong to the Legion of Frontiersmen, an organization started by Capt. Roger Pocock, who heads this expedition. Capt. Spaulding, who is in charge of the vessel, conveyed American troops during the World War. Commander Downs, chief officer, was in five naval engagements with the Germans, including Jutland. His assistant, Wells, was a British officer operating in East Africa. Fireman O'Dell was a member of the Irish Constabulary and has many a broken head to his credit.

FLYERS CRASH IN BAY

The company is made up of former naval and military officers, who have dropped their ordinary paths of endeavor to work as deck hands, stokers, oilers and cooks.

The crew contributed £3000 to the venture, the remainder being made up by popular subscription in England. It is not known how long a stay shall be made in Los Angeles, but the intention of the party is to lay dumps along the route of the flight and to patrol the Bering Sea when McMillan and Mallins fly across the strait.

The first venture of the 'round-the-world flyers was ended by a crash in the Bay of Bengal, but motion pictures of the progress of the enterprise were taken at the time and will be given a showing in Los Angeles.

The arrival of the party is of additional interest locally in view of the recent announcement that the airplanes with which the United States Army Air Service hopes to also make a 'round-the-world flight next year are now under construction at the plant of the Douglas Company at Santa Monica.

The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce will entertain members of the crew one night while the Frontiersman is in Los Angeles. They will be taken to hear either a concert in the Hollywood Bowl or to the Pilgrimage Play.

to the good of the community, it is hard to compel the people to co-operate with the movement to curtail production.

"The average man humanly feels that he cannot afford to co-operate if he saves his own bacon. For my part, much as I desire to see the industry preserved on a sound, balanced basis, I do not hesitate to say that I object to too much government in business. Government supervision is commendable, but the injection of politics into industry and business is a dangerous proceeding. However, I believe that the State should refuse to issue a permit to drill so long as consumption is far below production."

APPETITE DIVORCE PLEA

Too ravenous an appetite on the part of her husband blasted her happiness, Mrs. Marie M. O'Shea testified yesterday in Judge Wood's division of the Superior Court, where she was granted a divorce. He was always kicking because the meals she served him were too frugal, she declared, and this made her so unhappy that she was forced to leave him. He was also extremely jealous, she stated, and accused her of affairs with other men. When she remonstrated against this he struck her, she said. Similar testimony was given by the wife's mother.

CLEWS FOUND IN SAFE ROBBERIES

marked the three cracksmen as members of the "new school" of safe burglary which frowns on the use of nitro-glycerin, detectives stated. The man sought is known to be a member of the new school of cracksmen.

THREE OFFICES ROBBED

From James Thomas, night watchman in the building, Officers Culp and Nickens of the Flying Squadron first heard an account of the robbery about 6 o'clock yesterday morning. A hurried investigation showed that three offices of the building had been entered and in two the safes had been opened. In the third, occupied by T. Besbeck, also a jeweler, their efforts had failed and only jewelry from show cases fell into their hands.

Later in the day an estimate of the losses as given to Assistant Captain of Detectives O'Brien and Detective Lieutenants Cato and Cahill showed that E. L. Deacon had lost about $7000 in cash and jewels; F. A. Perkins between $15,000 and $16,000, and T. Besbeck approximately $2000. All losses were said to have been covered by burglary insurance.

ATTACKED ON ROUNDS

The night watchman, according to his story told to officers, was making his rounds about midnight when three men attacked him on the third floor near the elevator shaft. He was knocked to the floor and his hands and feet tied with wire. His gun was taken from his pocket and the trio then made him accompany them to the sixth floor, where they tried to open the door of room 622, the office of T. Besbeck, with keys taken from the watchman's pockets.

Impatient with the delay in finding the proper key, they "jimmied" the door and entered the room. Thomas, the watchman, stated that it was shortly after midnight when they finally got into this office and immediately thereafter two of the men started to work on the safe with an electric drill and a huge jointed crowbar. The third member of the trio kept the watchman covered with his revolver and cautioned him from time to make no outcry.

FACES OF TWO SEEN

In attempting to open the safe in this office, one of the bandits, called "Mike" by the others, fell and cut a gash in his head, according to Thomas. He raised his mask to wipe the blood from his face and the watchma nwas able to give police a good description of the man. A second member of the party, referred to by his companions as "Pat," also became careless and let his mask slip from his face, Thomas stated.

After two hours of vain effort to open the safe in room 622 the bandits proceeded to the office of E. L. Deacon on the same floor, and after two hour's effort succeeded in opening it. Contents of the safe were hurriedly sorted, the leader of the gang directing that all small jewels be thrown aside and just the larger and more valuable ones be retained. Two hours were consumed in this office after which the bandits and their prisoner-watchman proceeded to the fifth floor of the building where they opened the safe in the office of F. A. Perkins, and re-enacted the scene on the floor above. Chip diamonds were thrown on the floor and other small jewels handled in a like manner.

WATCHMAN GAGGED

Thomas told police he asked the leader of the gang to allow him to assume an upright position after reaching the third office, but he was ordered to "shut up." The watchman was insistent and his second request caused the men to gag him with a towel.

After completing their job in the office on the fifth floor, the three men took the watchman to the elevator and descended to the first floor. There, according to his story to police, Thomas was struck over the head by one of the men and knocked to the floor. Two of the bandits left the building, leaving the one called "Mike" to guard the watchman. The latter remained about a half-hour and threatened the watchman with death if he made outcry.

After the last of the trio had left, the watchman succeeded in getting the gag from his mouth, and, wriggling his way to the front door of the building, succeeded in attracting the attention of two men across the street. Police were called and upon their arrival the wires that bound Thomas were loosened and he took the officers to the different offices visited by the burglars during the night. In all of them small jewels of many varieties and sizes were found strewn on the floor.

The tools of the cracksmen were found in the office of F. A. Perkins on the fifth floor and consisted of numerous drills of various sizes, several crowbars specially made for safe jobs, according to Captain of Detectives Home, several feet of insulated wire, a brace and two pinch bars. Capt. Home yesterday stated that any blacksmith or ironworker who had made a special set of crowbars recently should immediately communicate with him.

After a survey of the looted offices by the detectives, H. Glen Piester, finger-print expert at Central Police Station, was sent to the scene and there carefully went over all the safes tampered with and made several photographs of fingerprints left on the tools and doorknobs.

ALL THREE YOUNG

Police believe that the men crawled to the top of the Bumiller Building from an adjoining structure, climbed down the fire escape to the fourth floor and jimmied open a window to gain entrance. It is believed that they waited for several hours on the roof of the building awaiting a favorable time to enter the building and surprise the watchman.

Steel bits were used to bore into the doors of the safes, and afterward the cracksmen used crowbars and pinch bars to pry off the heavy steel doors.

All the men were described as being between 22 and 25 years of age. The leader was described as a Mexican, weighing about 130 pounds and wearing a dark suit and a straw hat. The other two were said to be about the same size.

HELD ON WET CHARGE

Prohibition enforcement agents yesterday took into custody Joe Lafurenza, who is charged with violation of the liquor laws. A fifty-gallon still, fifty gallons of mash and a quantity of brandy were found on his ranch in the vicinity of Lankershim. Lafurenza is now on the inside of the County Jail looking out.

which she declared that Johnson had attempted to attack her and that she used the knife in self-dense. However, she was unable to give a good reason why she went to the apartment, why she accepted the liquor or the events that led up to the quarrel.

It was learned by Detectives Cline and Jarvis from Mrs. Davis, the landlady, that Miss Lavallie and Link, posing as man and wife, had, a few months ago, occupied an apartment adjoining that of Johnson, and that the three had become friendly. Link and the girl were asked to move several weeks ago, according to the landlady, after a series of noisy parties in their apartment. The Lavallie girl, however, was known to have visited Johnson in his apartment on different occasions.

HAD OTHER VISITORS

Today when she arrived, according to the police, she found Johnson in company with two Spanish girls, a Mrs. Anderson and her sister, Miss Apalatea, whose address was given by the police as the Georgia Apartments, not far from the Lansing Apartments. The Spanish girls were located last night by Cline and Jarvis and declared that they knew nothing of the killing. They said that the four of them had dined in Johnson's apartment and that they had left after refusing liquor that Johnson offered them.

That the Lavallie woman had grown intensely jealous on finding the Spanish women in Johnson's apartment, is the theory of the police. It was shortly after they left that the stabbing took place, according to officers.

Link, when arrested, readily admitted that he had been living with the Lavallie girl for several months and that they recently had been occupying an apartment on South Grand avenue.

Detective Lieutenants Cline and Jarvis, considering the theory that Link might himself have slain Johnson on finding the latter was in company with Miss Lavallie, checked back on Link's moves yesterday. Link is employed as a cook in the Lily White Cafe at Eighteenth and Main streets.

The officers declared that they could account for his every action to within a few minutes before the commission of the crime and were inclined to the theory that he was innocent. However, until they are absolutely satisfied as to this, Link will be held in jail.

The dead man had recently been employed in a restaurant at Ninth and Figueroa streets, where he had made the acquaintance of the Spanish girls, according to statements of the latter. Little could be learned of his past or relatives, but it is believed that he has a brother named George Johnson working for the Southern Pacific at Stockton.

He had been living at the Lansing Apartments for almost a year, as far as could be learned. His body was taken to the mortuary of J. H. Riedeman.

FORGER SERIOUSLY ILL

United States District Judge James yesterday made an order transferring William I. Stephens from the County Jail to the tubercular ward of the General Hospital. It is said that he is suffering from consumption. Stephens pleaded guilty in Judge James's court some time ago, to forging a signature to a war risk insurance policy and was sentenced to two years in the Federal penitentiary on McNeil's Island. An effort is being made to have Stephens pardoned by President Coolidge on account of the precarious condition of his health.
